He is Subsequently Captured in Canada and Consents to Return Without Extradition Papers-The Alleged Postoffice Thiel's Story of His Escape.

BUTFALO, Felt. 19.—Leroy Harris, allas William H. Clark, accused of postoffice robbery, performed the remarkable feat of holding up a whole court room and making his escape. He is supposed to have been implicated in several postoffice rob-beries that have taken place in New York. and Connecticut of late. For a long time the inspectors have been on his track, and on Saturday Inspector Leatherman nubbed his man just as he was estiling for mail at the general deliv-ery window. He was at once taken before Commissioner Fairchild. The commissloper soffice is in the government build-ing and adjoins the federal court room. Harris asked permission to go to the lavatory, and on returning electrified the com-missioner and all in the room by loveling a revolver and crying, "Hands up," Every body pats up his hands, including the commissioner, United States District At-torney Mackey, Deputy Marshal Watts, Deputy Marshal Colt and Inspector Leatherman. Harris walked to the door, opened B, still keeping his gan pointed toward the astenished group, and passed out, locking the door from the outside and taking the term of the state of the state. key. Marshal Watts jumped to the win-dow and fired three shots to attract atton-tion, the others yelling lustily. Finally a janitor was aroused, who opened the door and released the captives, but Harris had made good his flight. Harris was subsequently captured at Clifton, Outario. The telegraph operator Christian Oncarao. The Belegraph operation in the station there saw a mon resembling Harris' description come into the station and sit down. He sent a mossage to As-sistant Chef of Police Griffiths, who came down on a run and collared Harris. Harris tried to pull his revolver, but Griffiths was too quick for him and got his revolver out first. Harris was taken to the lockup and the Buffalo officials notified. They wont down to Clifton and got their man. He consents to come back without extradi-tion. He is now in the Eric county juit When searched but $12.05 in money and the revolver was found on him.
