KEARSARGE MEN HOME

Landed in New York in a Destitute Condition.

NO HOPE FOR THE OLD WARSHIP.

Lieutenant Brainard Expresses the Opinion That What Could be Saved of the Vessel Would Not Pay for the Coal Consumed in the Effort.

New York, Feb. 22.—The City of Paris arrived from Colon, bringing the officers and crew of the United States steamer Kearsarge, which on Feb. 2 was wrecked on Roncador reef in the Caribbean sea.

All were glad to return home from the arduous duty. They are all in a sorry condition, so far as personal efforts are concerned.

"We all stayed on board, however, during the night, preparing rats, cutting away masts and sail, and making other preparations for departure."

"The day we landed at the 'Kay' the sailing launch of the steamer was fitted out to go to Old Providence to give news of our plight."

Lieutenant Brainard said the wind and the current were responsible in the main for the loss of the ship.

"We slid up on the reef and were held there so fast that not even all the engines on the steamship New York could have got us off."

None of the officers would say who was in command of the ship at the time she went ashore and who was first officer of the deck.

It is understood that the officers of the lost steamer will be given a leave of absence, and that the steamer will be quarantined on the Vermont.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Acting Secretary McAdoo has appointed a court of inquiry to examine into and report upon the facts connected with the wreck of the Kearsarge.

SENATORS LOSE THEIR DIGNITY

And Accuse Each Other of Unworthy Acts in Public Life.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The tariff question came up in quite an unexpected way in the senate yesterday, and for two hours it held the floor to the exclusion of all other business.

After this denial by Senator Voorhees, Senator Chandler, of New Hampshire, precipitated the discussion of the day by an inquiry as to the part that Senator Mills was performing in the consideration of the bill in committee.

This provoked an era of acrimony, and for the next hour senatorial courtesy had no place in this dignified body.

Mr. Bland again failed to secure a quorum in the house on his motion, and after four hours of fruitless roll calls the house adjourned.

MINISTER SMYTHE SUSTAINED

He Made No Attempt to Interfere with President Hypollite's Government.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The mail which has just arrived at the state department from Hayti brings a still more positive refutation of the report published a few weeks ago that Minister Smythe had addressed a letter of advice to President Hypollite concerning the management of public affairs in the Haytian republic.

The papers of Jan. 29 printed a very circumstantial statement purporting to have been made to an interviewer by a Mr. Edmond Fortune, of Trinidad, who had arrived at New York on the preceding day by the steamer Prinz Wilhelm.

Other foreign representatives at Port-au-Prince offered to make similar statements, but Mr. Smythe regards Dr. Goering's original refutation of the story, and his own statement that he had written no such letter, as an ample contradiction of the unjust reports.

Wallace Jumps from His Cage in a Chicago Museum.

THE AUDIENCE TERROR STRICKEN.

Lodgerous Rushes for Safety on the Part of Spectators—The Brute Finally Driven to His Cage by His Keeper Without Causing Any Damage.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Wallace, the 500 pound lion which is on exhibition at a dime museum, where he is advertised as the "terrible untamed wonder of the world," escaped from his keeper last evening and bounded among a crowded audience in the heart of the museum.

The brute gave vent to his feelings as soon as he struck the floor by sending up a mighty roar, and as he went trotting to the aisle, whipping his tail from side to side and snapping and roaring.
