Entron Henaun: The American paper few weeks ago reiterated with most circum stantial detail the story of the horrible massa ere of Lithuanian Catholics at Krossle Russia, but their detailed description of the Russian government's an Cossacks' findish cruelty towards Lithuanisms (not Foirs, as erroneously stated by the New York Hernic's do not mention many things, which although they may seem incredible to a person not ac qualited with the Cossacks and Russian officials, are equally true and attested by eye witnesses. For instance, it is difficult for an American to credit that Cossacks could bury in cess pools not only the killed but the wounded alive, some of them calling for a priest. But this is a fact. A Lithuanian paper in Prinsia called the Aprenty, prints a detailed correspondence from Krosche by an eye-witness, in which he monitions what appears to some of the Ensian policemen confirm his statements. At present it is impossible to state the authentic number of killed and wounded men buried alive, or publish their names because Governor Kilogsberg, under the heaviest penalty, has prohibited the people even to speak of Krosche and a reward of 25 roubles (about $20) is offered to those wine will report say comments in that direction.
