The publication of the county state mentas well as the Sheriff's election proviamation in three of the author-ized papers is flegal and we await with some anxiety to see whether these publications will be paid for it. If they are somebody will get them selves into trouble — Pottsville Rep.

THE taxpayers may as well know now that the Pottsville printing syndicate is bursting blood vessels to try and get Controller Severn and the County Commissioners out of office, so that pluade men may be put in their places. These gougers yelled "stop thief" for years and blindly dropped into the eight thousand-dolhar scandal. They should take warning, and before yeiling "prison doors" look around to see that there are none in their humediate vicioity.

If we want to buy a patented article, or an article upon which there is little competition in its production, we do not stop to haggle on the price. We not stop to haggle on the price. We want it, lay down the amount, get the goods, clear out and have no more to say about it. On the same principle, if a man is going to bid for contract work, and knows there are few com-petitors able to perform it, he will n d urally make a bid that will enable aim to make a bind some profit. To our mind there is little doubt that a monive sim lar to this actuated the P otherille daily publishers to form a Potsville daily publishers to form a syndicate to bid on the contrast for the printing of the ballots for the elect tion heid this week.—Potlsville Heradd

He Denounces Them as Anarchists and Revolutionists, and is Called to Order. Tariff Bill to be Reported to the Full Senate Committee on Monday.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.-The members of the house under arrest were finally dis-charged from custody yesterday by discharged from custody yesterday by dis-pensing with further proceedings under the call. It required four hours to accom-plish this, and although the scenes of dis-orderly turbule is which characterized Thursday's proceedings, were not re-peated yesterized the proceedings were fully as interesting. The Democrats were evidently very anxions when the house-met to extricate themselves from the com-plications arising from the wholesale ar-rest of members, but by flank movements the Republicans succeeded in proventing this until in whole situation had been this until in whole situation had been thoroughly intilated.

Representative Bland created a mild up roar in the house in the afternoon. He took the floor upon the motion to discharge Bepresentative Adams, who was under arrest, and upon this motion launched off arrest, and upon this motion launched off into a bitter speech, in which he denounced both Democratic and Republican mem-bers. He said the example set by some of them in defying the orders of the house was anarchy, and that they were in every sense of the word revolutionists. He was called to order several times. Later Coombs (N. Y.) and other Democrats com-pelled him to take his seat because of in-temperate language, and because he was not talking to the question under discunot talking to the question under discus-

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the day, barring Mr. Bland's bitter phil-lipic against the fillbustering hemoerats was the verbal duel between Mr. Reed and Mr. Turner over the question of counting Mr. Turner over the question of counting a quorum, a question just now of pre-em-inent importance in house circles on ac-count of the proposed Democratic caucus to consider the advisability of adopting this expedient. After the arrested mem-bers had been discharged Mr. Bland re-turned to the silver bill, but his motion failed again for lack of a quorum. He only lacked two votes, however, and this is his high water mark. Although Mr. Bland still insists on

Although Mr. Bland still insiste on going ahead with the seigniorage bill many of the Democrats believe it should now be abandoned, and unless a quorum is pro-cured today it would seem that it would have to be, that is if a Democratic caucus does not decide to adopt some method of forcing members to vote or to count them If they do an

It Will be Reported to the Full Senate Committee on Monday.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 .-- Senator Voorhees decided suddenly late yesterday after-noon to call a meeting of the senate finance committee for next Monday at 19 o'clock. The decision was the result of a conference with the sub-committee which is shaping the tariff bill, by which he was notified that the members had agreed upon all the features of the bill as it is to be presented, and nothing remained to be done except to put the bill in shape.

The character of the changes made in the bill by the sub-committee can only be surmised. It is known that there are many of them and that every schedule has received more or less attention. The com-mittee has from the beginning been very raticent concerning the proposed changes, and has grown more so every day that hey have had the bill under consideration. Senator Jones, chairman of the sub-com-mittee, said today when asked to indicate some of the modifications:

"I can't do that. It would not be safe, for the reason that we are liable to make changes up to Monday morning, and if we make one we may have to make others. The whole thing is in the nature of an
