George Hovewood, who was injured by more explosive that mysterionally found ins way into a store, upon which he was putting coal last Friday outht, presents a serry apportance to day. His face is cet in several claces, where struck oy bits of cast and dying iron, and his eyes were much swellen. While the attending physician has strong hopes that his sight may be saved, there is yet much doubt that it will be so. The two below m the cessing are large enough to redmit a man's head and one burst through the wall would setmit an ordinary street body. The big cose more was damaged beyond repair.

Pugiliam has become infectious in Girard ville. The excitement over the Rindan Cleary mill had hardly subsided before a half dozen other sparrers signed articles of agreement, most of the battles to come off in this place during the conting week. Among the reported festimes in a hattle for $500 between "Sam" Bevin, of town, and Thomas Quinlan, light weight champion of Mahanoy City, date not yet set. Another is between McCarthy, of Shunokins, and a colored gentleman from Bessling, who bears the lefty little of the "Black Prince." They say, bee, that he can keep a pair of black arms moving pretty Rively, and if the Shanokins McCarthy on the one who exhibited his shillties here there weeks asing, the apport, who go to Pugilism has become lef-etious in Girard on the one who exhibited his minima here three weeks aime, the sports, who go to O'Keill's hall on Tresslay evening, may see the worth of their money. The heat pair apon the program is John Carey, of Mr. Carmel, and John Horn, of Girardville, who will attempt to win a hindred dollars on a stay and place not yet made public.

The window of Adam Egolf's jewelry store, sat 29 North Main street, was broken into at an early hour yesterday morning and jewelry stolen to the value of $10. The plunder was principally rings, chains, ear drops and bracelets, some of which are solid gold. No arrests have as yet been made, nor have the police discovered a clin to the perpetrator. The robbery was a particularly hold one, occurring on one of the streets frequestly patrolled by the police and right under the glare of an electric light. An aisrm was sounded by Mrs. Weevit, who lives next door to the Egolfa. "I was awakened at 1:20 by the jingling of glass, and that lady, "and an instant later heard the foo steps of some one running toward Centre street, but when we reached the window the third was out of sight." The robber is made partientarly distinctable by selecting a house for his crime where death has already caused worry enough. Mr. Egolf offers a reward for the apprehension of the thief, in another solumn.

The remains of the late Michael Coakley were conveyed from his home at Colorado by carriage to St. Mary Magolalene's church at this place, where high mass of requien was celebrated by Rev. P. F. Dagget, and then proceeded to Girardville, where the body was consigned to his last resting place. Although the weather was rough the funeral was one of the largest we have ever witnessed. Mr. Coakley was a kind and loving man. He left to mourn him a wife and six married and two single daughters, Mrs. Mary A Ryan, Mrs. Nellie O'Gara, Mrs. Harry Brown and Miss Kate Coakley, all of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Sablua Cauley and Miss Sarah, of Lost Creek.
