THE PENNSY'S REPORT.

The annual report of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company evidences the sagacious and judicious management that characterizes this organization.

The three grand divisions east of Pittsburgh and Erie were managed with such economy that, notwithstanding the expenditure of more than $2,000,000 for extraordinary renewals, and a quarter of a million dollars advanced to the Allegheny Valley Railway, a cash dividend of five per cent. was paid to stockholders.

On the lines of Pittsburgh operated by the Pennsylvania Company, the net profit of the year exceeded a million dollars, the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway Company earned a net profit of $674,845.05, and other lines west of Pittsburgh, in which the Pennsylvania is interested, were operated at a net loss of $69,962.57.

To realize the watchfulness and care required to manage such a business so as to insure the regular payment of dividends, one must compare the magnitude of the capital employed and the business done with the smallness of the margin of profit.

WON'T GO SOUTH.

The Houston (Tex.) Post, the Savannah News and other Southern papers are felicitating themselves over a report that Northern cotton and other manufacturers are thinking of seeking locations in their section.

There is no reason why Texas should not secure a goodly share of this Northern money getting ready to come South and especially no reason why Houston with its unsurpassed advantages should not reap some of the passing benefits.

LEAD IS TO GO on the free list. Is this a concession to the shot gun policy following the repeal of the election law?

HONORING MR. CHILDS.

New York Printers' Tribute to the Great Editor's Memory.

CONGRESSMAN CUMMINGS' SPEECH.

The Well Known Printer-Statesman Talks Eloquently of the Beautiful Traits of Character in the Life of the Printers' Patron Saint.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Memorial services in honor of the memory of George W. Childs, late proprietor of The Public Ledger in Philadelphia, were held in Fifth Avenue theater yesterday afternoon.

Speech-making was plentiful. The addresses which abounded with eulogies of the late philanthropist were delivered by Chairman John R. O'Donnell, of the memorial committee, President John J. Murphy, of Typographical Union No. 6, Rev. Henry Coleman Potter, bishop of New York, John W. Keller, president of the New York Press club, Rev. Dr. Joseph N. Hunseler, pastor of St. James Protestant Episcopal church, of Philadelphia, of which Mr. Childs was a member.

Mr. Cummings first referred feelingly to his first meeting with Mr. Childs, on a train between Philadelphia and Marietta. He continued in part as follows: "Although changing in appearance and manner I found Mr. Childs far more charming in conversation. He was neither demonstrative nor voluble. His words were well chosen, and his ideas as pure as water bubbling from a mountain spring.

"But Mr. Childs," I responded, "I may be imposed upon. If I give aid to a man who proves unworthy it is my loss. I take the chances on a man after hearing his story. I would not feel at liberty to take such chances in advising you to help those whom I believe to be in need."

"He smiled and laid his hand upon my arm. 'Do the same by me as you would do for yourself,' he replied, 'and I assure you that I shall be extremely grateful.'

"No one can tell how many and far reaching were the generosities of this lovable man. Radiating from the City of Brotherly Love, it threaded the land in every direction, penetrating every state and territory. His business faculties were trained not only in the art of acquiring wealth, but also in the art of properly distributing it.

"His aspirations never led him beyond the welfare of his fellow men. His life and welfare were devoted to their interests. His only ambition was to ally suffering and elevate mankind. He was the embodiment of pure brotherly love and kindness. His life was a sustained stream of eloquent humanity. His is a solitary but a golden figure in what is called a sordid age.

"Fellow craftsmen, such a life cannot be adorned with words. The details of his kindness alone would equal in bulk the official record of the rebellion. Beginning at the foundation over sixty years ago he has reared a monument which arrests us afar. It impresses us with awe and admiration as we approach it. At first the odds appeared to be fatally against him, but

LOWELL, Mass., March 12.—The spinners and weavers in the Merrimack Woolen mills went on strike this morning for the aid rate of wages.

THE WEEK IN CONGRESS.

Friends of the Seigniorage Bill Content of Its Passage.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—In accordance with the agreement entered into on Friday the senate will devote the major portion of this week to the consideration of the Bland seigniorage bill, which is to be finally disposed of by a vote at 2 o'clock on Thursday.

Appropriation bills continue to have the right of way in the house this week. The sundry civil bill, which was unfinished business when the house met this morning, carries $32,300,000—$2,400,000 less than that of last year. It will probably require four days to dispose of this bill.

Wanted to Lynch a "Scab." ZANESVILLE, O., March 12.—Since the Hooking valley miners agreed to accept fifty cents for mining 150 miners at Canfieldville struck against a reduction of 5 per cent. Two men, Price and Conway, gave in and went to work. The strikers held a meeting and started on a hunt for five deserters. Conway was the only one who could be found, and the strikers were so wrought up that a rope was produced and there were threats of stringing him up.

Gaylord Miss Victims Not Yet Found. WILKESBARE, Pa., March 12.—No trace of the thirteen men who are embroiled in the Gaylord mine at Plymouth has been discovered, although the work has gone on steadily ever since the accident. The suspense of the wives and relatives of the unfortunates is hourly growing more terrible, not because they have any hope of ever again seeing the faces of those who were so dear to them in life, but because they fear that their only consolation—that poor one of giving their dead a decent burial—may be postponed so much longer that it may at last become an impossibility.

Churchman Charged with Fraud. READING, Pa., March 12.—John F. Mower, of Philadelphia, filed a bill in equity here against the Rev. H. V. Mohr, who was president of the Reverting Fund Assurance association. Mr. Mower, who was an officer of the concern, alleges that the Rev. Mr. Mohr sold the charter of the society to Clarence P. King, of Philadelphia, for $14,000, and that after paying $9,000 into the ordinary fund Mohr retained the rest and handed the officers $1,250 each. Mr. Mower brings suit to recover his proportionate share of the $5,000.

National Republican League Convention. CHICAGO, March 12.—The official call for the annual convention of the National Republican league was issued from the national headquarters in this city today. The convention will be held at Denver, June 29, and will continue for several days. The ratio of representation will be six delegates at large from each state and territory, four from each congressional district, and one from each Republican club in the United States.

Speedy Justice at Pittsburg. PITTSBURGH, March 12.—The rapidity with which John Myers, alias Frank Evans, was railroaded to the Western Penitentiary has beaten all records. After terrorizing a large section of the county for over a month he was finally captured on Thursday night. He landed in jail Friday morning, a true bill was found by the grand jury in the afternoon, and on Saturday he was sent to the penitentiary for twenty-two years.

Says Curtis Did Not Confess. SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—Attorney H. J. Kowalski denies that he ever told the police that M. B. Curtis had confessed to him that he had murdered Policeman Grant. Chief Cowley and Detective Lees assert that Kowalski did tell them of Curtis' confession, and the question now is one of veracity among the three men. As Curtis has been acquitted of the crime, nothing further can be done to him, even if the story is true.

Snatched from the Jaws of Death. LOUISVILLE, March 12.—Captain Devan's life saving crew rescued three medical students from death yesterday afternoon just as their boat was about to go over the falls. They lost all control of the boat when it reached midstream, and the swift current carried it rapidly toward the Indiana chute. Their perilous position was discovered just in time.

Gave Their Lives for Others. KINGSTON, N. Y., March 12.—While working to save two fellow workmen at work in the Lawrence Cement company's kiln at Hickory Bush, who were overcome by coal gas, Edgar Vangosbosk, aged 23, and Thomas Dunleavy lost their lives. The others were finally rescued by their companions, who were too late to reach the two heroes.

BROKEN DOWN —by disease is the natural result if you allow your liver to become inactive, your blood impure, and your system run down. The germs of Consumption, Grip, or Malaria, wait for this time of weakness—this is their opportunity. If you refuse the liver to activity, so it will throw off these germs, purify the blood so there will be no weak spots; build up healthy weight where there is a falling off; you will rest secure from disease, for you'll be prevented.

5,000 Pounds of Powder Exploded.

DEL NORTE, Colo., March 12.—Five thousand pounds of giant powder belonging to the Valour Powder company, of San Francisco, which had been stored in this town, and which the authorities ordered removed, was carried into the mountains Saturday and exploded. The shock was severely felt here, and a number of buildings were considerably damaged twenty miles distant.

Heavy Sand Storm in Kansas. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 12.—The worst sand storm in years raged in this city from 9 a. m. till 5 p. m., the velocity of the wind being nearly seventy miles an hour. Farmers report wheat in plowed ground blown out, and in stubble ground the sand lodged, forming miniature mountains. Many fields are said to be ruined in places where the soil was light.

Alabama's Chief Justice Dead. MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 12.—Judge George W. Stone, chief justice of the state supreme court, died of disease incident to old age. He will be buried here tomorrow. Judge Stone was a native of Virginia and 82 years old.

NUGGETS OF NEWS.

The Prince of Wales' yacht Britannia won the prize of the Yacht Club of France. The British forces in Gambia have captured Genjir, one of Chief Fodi Sillah's strongholds.

Poles of Nanticoke, Pa., believe that a young country woman is a witch and accuse her of exerting an evil influence upon them. John C. Houk, congressman from the Second Tennessee district, failed to secure a re-election by the Republicans. Henry R. Gibson was chosen.

The British steamer Briscon, from Hamburg for New York, was towed into St. John's N. F., in a disabled condition. The seventy sailors on board were nearly famished, provisions having given out.

A Weak Digestion strange as it may seem, is caused from a lack of that which is never exactly digested—fat. The greatest fact in connection with Scott's Emulsion appears at this point—it is partly digested fat—and the most weakened digestion is quickly strengthened by it.
