

NUNS AS SCHOOL TEACHERS To be Refused Pay if They Persist in Wearing Their Religious Garb. PITTSBURGH, March 14.—State's Councilor W. T. Kerr, of the Junior Order United American Mechanics, through his attorney, applied for an injunction in the Riverside school case, before Judge McClung, in common pleas court No. 2, Saturday, March 14, was set for a hearing. The bill prays for an injunction to prevent the sisters from teaching on non-sectarian grounds. Joseph F. Nimick, a member of the Riverside school board, says the sisters will fight the matter to the bitter end. In the meantime the sisters will be retained until the matter is settled. To father complicated matters the central board of education, at last night's meeting, voted to refuse to pay any teacher appearing in the garb of any religious order.

Paterson Strikers Threaten Dynamite. PATTERSON, N. J., March 14.—Over 2,000 striking ribbon weavers and silk finishers climbed the hill to the Valley of the apples and drove out the dyers in Charles Zimmerman's works, using the heavy dye sticks on the heads of the workmen. The procession then went to the Bee & Sheehan dyeing shops, on Paterson street, and forced the men from the mills. The strikers next visited the mill of Dexter Lambert & Co., and acted in a similar manner. One of the strikers told Mayor Braun that if the employers did not come to terms in a few days they would introduce dynamite into the struggle.

A Fascinating Fair. One of the latest fads in the collection of portraits of noted people and a very fascinating feature is, also, a profitable one, providing, of course, it does not cost too much. A new feature in Demorest's Family Magazine, commenced in the April number, is especially timely, and offers an excellent opportunity for earning a superb collection at a minimum expense. Two pages are devoted to exquisite half-tone portraits of celebrities, quite equal in effort to fine photos, and which may be removed without marring the magazine and arranged in an album especially designed for the purpose.

Joshua Clark, aged about 21 years, was brought before Justice May last evening, charged by his young wife with non-support. Justice May placed him under $200 bail. P. J. Gavin, of Girardville, was in town yesterday. John I. Matthias visited Pottsville yesterday.

The "Dazzler," with all its splendor of last season and much added for this, will appear at Kaiser's opera house to-morrow evening. F. E. Bauscher, traveling passenger agent of the P. & H. railroad, with headquarters at Williamsport, visited local officials of the Reading road yesterday. J. C. Wolensmith, formerly agent for the Reading railroad at Newberry Junction, but now traveling passenger agent for the C. R. H. of N. J., with an office at Reading, looked after his company's interests here yesterday.

Anthony Tomashunas, whose American name is Brennan, and who was recently placed under $500 bail to keep the peace and $500 more to answer at Pottsville court on the charge of beating his wife, was again arraigned before Justice O'Brien last evening on similar charges. Mrs. Brennan testified that Anthony had become intoxicated again and grabbing her by the throat, flourished a knife threateningly over her head. Mrs. Brennan, who is a remarkable young woman, threw her spouse into a corner and ran from the house. Anthony was committed to Pottsville jail.

Justice O'Brien, of the First ward, placed a large handsome sign over his new quarters at A and Water streets on Monday morning. The sign, which is a masterpiece of the painter's brush work, Mahanay creek was dragged for the night without success, nor was Councilman Burke's hat brought up in the net. The 'squire was in an unimpaired frame of mind last evening and said, should the culprit be caught he would certainly be assigned to a single room in Pottsville jail, without the annoyance of hunting him.

The proprietors of Pan-Tina have spent thousands of dollars to make it known that it is a reliable and safe remedy for the cure of all ailments of the human system. Electric Car Entries. Don't edge up front merely to ask the motorist idiotic questions. Never pull the fare register rope to stop the car. That isn't considered good form. Don't try to pass plugged nickels on the conductor. He has trouble enough without them.

Don't try to palm off a 5-year-old as a baby in arms. There is a special punishment prescribed in Holy Writ for liars. Don't fall into the error of supposing that it is a good idea to jolly the conductor about opportunities for "knocking down" just you get knocked down yourself. Don't "sass" the conductor for the shortcomings of the road. Few conductors, even with all their supposed opportunities, are directors of the line they run on.

Don't extend your feet to the middle of the car. While you may have the highest respect for your own corns, nobody else has. Don't imagine that it is your duty to run the car. The conductor receives a large, but not unwieldy, salary for attending to that.

Among the men of international reputation in America no one deserves better of his country than Hon. John M. Francis, ex-minister to Austria.

The highest political honors have come to him unsought. President Grant appointed him minister to Greece. President Garfield had chosen him for the mission to Belgium. President Arthur appointed him minister to Portugal, and in 1884 he was promoted to be envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Austria-Hungary, with a residence at Vienna.

At the last New York state election Mr. Francis was chosen one of the 15 delegates-at-large to the constitutional convention, which is to sit in Albany next summer, and his majority was the largest on the state ticket.

Mr. Francis is conspicuous among the really great editors of to-day as the founder, editor and proprietor of the Troy Times, which he has made a live, enterprising, clean and popular paper, and one of the ablest and most influential exponents of Republicanism in the country.

The life and labors of Mr. Francis present one of the most attractive and instructive objects which one can contemplate. Industry, conscientiousness, absolute fidelity to duty, and preference for a high plane of moral conduct have been conspicuous traits of his character. They were the adequate guarantee of the eminent success that has crowned his efforts, and of the tribute of esteem that is paid to him. Mr. Francis, though he has reached the palmist's allotted three score and ten, is in excellent health, and mentally vigorous and alert. The first of this year he went to California with his daughter to spend a few months. Before going he requested Mr. William B. Wilson, who, under Mr. Francis and his son, Hon. C. S. Francis, is the wide-awake head of the business department of the Times, to say for him to the proprietors of Paine's celery compound: "I have used the medicine moderately and with favorable results."

This expression is characteristic of the dignified and conservative gentleman who, as last fall's vote shows, is in the right sense the most popular citizen of the empire state.

Mr. Wilson himself, writing an unsolicited letter to Wells & Richardson company, says of this wonderful remedy that makes people well: "For some time past I have been using Paine's celery compound as a nerve and tonic, and have found its effects very beneficial. I have heard and known of its good work among my friends, several saying that they could not keep house without it, and never allow their supply to become exhausted. I shall always stand ready to say a good word for Paine's celery compound, for I honestly believe that it will do all that is claimed for it."

Among the thousands of testimonials that come to the proprietors of Paine's celery compound every year, are letters from grateful men and women in every station in life. Little did Dartmouth's great professor realize the greatness of his benefit to mankind when he first prescribed this remedy that makes people well, and in the spring months—March, April, May—is as much superior to all ordinary tonics, nervines, and capillaries as the diamond is more brilliant than a piece of glass. It is the best spring medicine in the world. It makes people well.

It is the true specific for diseases arising from a debilitated nervous system and impure blood. It is a positive cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, all nervous diseases and kidney troubles. For the latter Paine's celery compound has succeeded again and again where everything else has failed.

The medical journals of this country and Europe have given more space to the many remarkable cases where the use of Paine's celery compound has made people well than to any one subject.
