Miss De Merritt, the Byangelist, Made Her Farewell Last Evening, But Was Subsequently Induced to Prolong Her Stay- A Chass Confirmed by Rev. Gruhler.

Holy week commenced very auspilously in many of the churches of town resterday, especially in the English Bap tist church, on South Jardin street, where eight baptisms were made, and in the Primitive Methodist church, where the ardent and very successful evangelist, Miss De Merritt, took her farewell after a eason of revival work highly satisfactory to both herself and the congregation of the church. But after the service Miss De Merritt acceded to urgent requests and will remain here for three nights more. On Wednesday evening, next, she will positively retire. During her stay Miss De Merritt has made about twenty-sish removable.

Good Freight Service.

Good Freight Service.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has increased its freight and passenger business very much recently and there is less complaining than ever before by our business people, who find that by this company's improved methods all goods shipped are arriving very promptly. The accommodations given at the Pennsylvania freight station bave also won the admiration of our business people, and Mr. Martin, the agent has made many friends by his untiring efforts to meet all the requirements of the patrons promptly. At Wm. Penn the Supply Company is having a siding put in by the "Pennsy" so that the large amount of freight sont to the store may be more conveniently and rapidly handled.

United Presbyterians and others who contemplate attending the meeting of the United Presbyterian General Assembly, which meets in Albany, Oregon, next May, should take advantage of the offer made by the Chicago, Milwankee & St. Paul R. R. to delegates and their friends who think of making this delightful trip. We would suggest that all such address John R. Pott, District Passenger Agent, Williamsport, Pa., who will be pleased to answer all questions and give you the necessary information concerning the accommodations furnished by the company he represents. This meeting promises to be one of unusual interest. Many persons who are not delegates or United Presbyterians think of joining the party.

FOR BETTER LIGHT.

Watchman Tells us of the Night and Gives Other Hints,

EDITOR EVENING HERALD:-It is only upon the principal streets of a town like Shenandoah that the watchman (now modernized by the appellation of police-man can tell anything of the night, be-cause it is mainly upon those thorough-fares that the most light is shed, while the side streets are left in comparative the side streets are left in comparative darkpess.

There are many citizens who believe and claim that our borough is well enough lighted, but they are mostly those who live on or frequent one of the main throughfares and are never called upon to traverse the side streets and afleys; they are among those who, in fact, have no fear of burglars or midnight maranders, because they cither have nothing to enrich the busy night operator, or they live in security in places lighted like the noon day sun.

The question of more light for our borough will very soon become one of greatest importance to our citizens. That we have not enough street elsettic lumps is apparent to the veriest dummy on borough stairs. Looking west, from Main street along West Centre street, there is no light between Main and West streets. The business men along that thoroughfare are entitled by every qualification of citizenship to as much light as their fellow citizens on Main street.

Looking south from West Centre street, on South Jardin, we notice but few lights compared with the requirements of the locality.

Other localities in town are as badly in ocality.

Other localities in town are as badly in compared with the requirements of the locality.

Other localities in town are as badly in need of more light as those mentioned, but a couple of illustrations such as are herein mentioned will suffice for the sake of argument.

Perhaps the greatest argument in favor of greater lighting facilities is the fact that a well-lighted town is the greatest auxiliary to the police in preventing crime than anything a borough or city can pay for. It does not require a detailed demonstration to prove this. The proposition is its own advocate. It is an axiom. It goes without saying that our night conservators of the peace would receive incalculable aid were the side streets and alleys lighted as they should. The busy burglar seeks dark places to ply his vicious vocation. He hates the light like he fears the stern hand of the law.

Money expended in making a well-lighted city, town or hamlet is seed sown in fortile places. Its crop will be advancement and progress—an attractive place to live in and one to which every citizen can point with pride. When questions of this kind come before our borough fathers it is to be hoped that no foolish notions of false economy will deter them from voting on the progressive side. Let them remember that the people are the sovereigns and it is to legislate for them that men are sent to Council.

When it comes to progress in municipalities I am of those who believe that a public delt is a public blessing. We have but a short time to live and we will be a long time dead. For the sake of all in this life that there is to be gotten of it, let us not be compelled to grope through the world in darkness daring the few short years that have been allotted to us.

The Hidgway Refrigerator Company is a firm with a national reputation. It has built refrigerators in every city of any size in the Atlantic, Southern, Middle and Northern states and is controlled by practical men, who employ only the most competent workmen, as their work here testilies. The building constructed for the Lauer Company was under the especial foremanship of Mr. E. B. Atkins, a pleasant gentleman and an export in his especial line of business. The company has already built a refrigerator in Mt. Carmel and is negotiating for the construction of other refrigerators at Shamekin, Ashland and Tamaqua. The Ridgway Refrigerator Company can always point to the Lauer refrigerator as a reference for splendid workmanship and honorable dealing, although they always guarantee all their work. The offices of the Hidgway Refrigerator Company are at 140535-57 Marshall street, and the factory at 1432-34-36 North Sixth street, Philadelphia.

Seeking to Collect an Old Judgment.

Borough Treasurer Bradigan Ordered to Show Cause Why He Shall Not Pay a Jadgmont Recovered in a Suit For Damages Several Years Ago.

An unexpected demand has been made pon Borough Treasurer Bradigan, of henandoah, for payment of a judgment secured against the borough several years ago for damages.

secured against the borough several years ago for damages.

As the borough has been producing a number of statements of late to show its financial responsibility. Mr. Guldner concluded that it would be a good time to collect a judgment of $1,500 and to-day a rule was issued by the Pottaville court for Mr. Bradigan to show cause why the judgment should not be paid.

One of the statements that seemed to make the most impression upon Mr. Guldner was that made by Treasurer Bradigan when he said sixty thousand dollars worth of the water bonds had been sold and the cash had been received. In response to Mr. Guldner's application to the rule the treasurer says he has no money in his hands with which to pay the judgment. So far as the money received from the sale of water londs is concerned, no part of it can be applied to the payment of the judgment or for any other purpose other than the construction of the public water works.

The judgment referred to was secured in an action for damages sustained by Mr. Guldner one night several years are when on his way out of town to return to his home in Pottsville. The edge of the road at the south end of Main street had no fonce at that time and Mr. Guldner drove over the steep embankment. He was seriously injured and his horse was killed.

Mrs. Morlarty had been an invalid for some months and two weeks ago came to St. Nicholas, hoping to improve her condition by a change of atmosphery.

A stranger gave an exhibition of strength on Main street Saturday night by lifting heavy dumb bells and twirling them with apparent case. Later in the night he entangled his sociability with that of three or four men who had succeeded in getting on the outside of a quantity of intoxicants and a dispute arcse about feats of strength. The result was a fight in which the strong man was bully used. He contented himself with leaving the town and took the late car for Girardville.
