

THE REPUBLICANS WIN.

The Supreme Court's Decision in Jersey's Senatorial Snarl.

THE DEMOCRATIC SENATE OUSTED.

By a Nearly Unanimous Decision Mr. Rogers is Declared the Legal President of the Senate—Justice Abbott Will Present a Dissenting Opinion.

TRENTON, March 22.—The supreme court chamber was thronged yesterday to hear the court's decision in the senatorial case. Many members of the legislature and a big array of the leading politicians of both parties were present.

The court then treated the legal aspects of the case, and coming to a consideration of the question whether the senate is a continuous body, held that there was nothing in the constitution of New Jersey to define the life of the state senate.

By the decision the Republican senate becomes the legal legislative body. The chief justice held further that the contention that the minority could rule in a legislative body was antagonistic to the language and spirit of the constitution.

The chief justice next brushed aside the contention that the hold over senators held the exclusive and absolute power to pass upon the credentials of the newly elected senators.

The court in conclusion held that the title of Robert Adams, president of the Democratic senate, was invalid, and that the title of Maurice A. Rogers, president of the Republican senate, was upheld.

All of the justices of the court except Justice Abbott concurred in the opinion of the chief justice. The latter announced that Justice Abbott held views of his own regarding the case, and would formulate and file them later.

The decision is a complete Republican victory, the court siding with the counsel of that party on every point in the case except on the matter of jurisdiction.

Governor Werts gave State Comptroller-elect Hancock and State Treasurer-elect Swain their commissions as soon as the decision of the supreme court was rendered, and they are already in possession of their offices.

The Republican senate expected to hold a session last night, but failed to have a quorum, and adjourned until this morning, when the Democratic senators were here and joined with them.

PRENDERGAST MUST DIE

The Remarkable Attitude of Higgins, Who Will be Hanged by Him. OTTAWA, Ill., March 22.—In the case of the application of Prendergast, the assassin, for a supersedeas, the writ was denied by the supreme court.

CHICAGO, March 22.—With the receipts of the news from the supreme court there was a rush of reporters to the jail. One at a time they were allowed to see the assassin.

They'll crack my neck all right Friday," he said. "Prendergast will get a stay, he murdered a great man. I killed a man of low degree, so I'll get my neck injured. The jail people lined up for a razor in my cell today.

The condemned man calmly lit another cigarette and prepared to receive a priest, as he said, "To square himself with the next world."

That Shea Held for Murder. Troy, N. Y., March 22.—The jury in the election murder rendered the following verdict: "That Robert Shea came to his death on the sixth day of March, in the Third district of the Thirteenth ward, from a gunshot wound caused by a revolver in the hands of Bartholomew Shea."

FLASHING METAL IN FAVOR.

The Girl of the Period May Soon Be Partly Armor Clad. With the great variety of soft silks, crepes and nets now in the market, there is no lack of material for the construction of dainty vests, yokes, plaisters, collars, caps and similar devices for the brightening up of street toilets to suit evening occasions where full dress is not necessary.

BRONZE FAUCONNET. Hant accessories appear to best advantage when they are seen over a dark gown, and if a small hat or bonnet to match is worn the effect is doubly satisfactory.

A pretty and very simple plastron arrangement is made with the metal mesh menterie pieces that come in pairs shaped like a corset and fitted to the front of the figure.

All colors are used for these accessories, black and gold being particularly effective. A graceful garment is made by arranging the embroidered material in the form of a yoke and bordering it all around with a flounce of spangled guipure.

A SCHOOL FIRE PANIC.

Chicago Children Jumped to Escape Death by Flames.

FOUR PERHAPS FATALLY INJURED.

Of the Injured Three Jumped from the Third Story to the Ground—Several Others Taken from Window Ledges by Firemen.

CHICAGO, March 22.—Fire in the South Evanston Public school caused a panic among the pupils. Three children jumped forty feet from the third floor and were perhaps fatally injured.

During the fire the burning building was surrounded by a crowd of men and women whose children were in danger and who added to the intense excitement by striving to break through the police lines and rescue the imprisoned little ones.

Miss Foster, a teacher in a lower grade, discovered the fire just as the children were preparing to go out for recess. She had gone to a closet for her hat, and had no sooner opened the door than flames burst into the room with a roar.

There were 500 pupils on the first floor, most of whom ran out to the yard. Some of the last to reach the door became terrorized at the sight of the flames raging at their backs, and rushed upstairs. Those on the second and third floors were coming down in charge of the teachers, who tried to preserve order.

After the building was thought to be deserted a fireman found 10-year-old Lucy Hostile, unconscious, on the third floor. She was badly burned, and her recovery is doubtful.

There's nothing so GOOD as Ottolene

The new vegetable shortening. Wherever introduced, it drives lard from the kitchen, and indigestion from the household. It has been tried by every test, and has met every requirement. It is much superior to lard as the electric light is to the tallow-dip. The only question now is, will you give your family the benefits which its use bestows?

There's nothing Like Ottolene. In compaction, in healthfulness, in flavor, or in economy. Its success has called out a lot of imitations, all of which are made for the sole purpose of selling in the place and on the merits of Ottolene.

A NARROW ESCAPE!

How it Happened. The following remarkable event in a lady's life will interest the reader. For a long time she had a terrible pain in her heart, which fluttered almost incessantly. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I would be compelled to sit up in bed and belch gas from my stomach until I thought every minute would be my last. There was a feeling of oppression about my heart, and I was unable to draw a full breath. I couldn't sweep a room without sitting down and resting, but, thank God, by the help of New Heart Cure I am well again and I feel like another woman.
