Evening Herald.

FRIDAY, MARCH 23, 1894.

HEADQUARTERS
REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE, Philadelphia, Feb. 24, '94.

To the Republican Electors of Pennsylvania:

I am directed by the Republican State Committee to announce that the Republicans of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in State convention at Harrisburg, Pa., on Wednesday, May 23, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the following purpose, to wit:

For the nomination of candidates respectively for Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, two members of Congress from the state at large, Auditor General, Secretary of Internal Affairs, and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

Attention is called to the rule adopted at the State Convention of 1893 providing for the basis of representation as follows: Representations in future state conventions shall be based upon the vote cast at the Presidential or gubernatorial election immediately preceding, one delegate being allotted to each legislative district for over 3,000 Republican votes and an additional delegate for a fraction exceeding 1,000 votes, each district to have at least one delegate.

By order of the Republican State Com.
B. F. GREGGSON, Chairman.

Attest: J. H. HERSH,
A. D. FILLMORE, Secretary.

The representatives to which each district of the county is entitled to is as follows:

First district, 1; Second district, 1; Third district, 1; Fourth district, 3.

"Nothing. I was tempted and I fell!
Nobody is to blame but myself." That was the answer of the latest convicted bank clerk in New York when asked by the judge, who was about to pass sentence on him, what he had to say for himself, and the judge gave him four years instead of ten for his frankness.

The apprehensions entertained in regard to the coming fruit crops, because of the abundance of the spring and the consequent premature swelling of the fruit buds, have not yet been relieved. If, as is probable, we shall have freezing weather before the spring opens fully, there is every reason to fear bad results for the fruit buds. However, it will be well enough to wait and see.

HON. JOHN J. COYLE, of Mahanoy City, is a candidate for election to the State Senate from the 26th district. He is making an active and earnest canvass and meeting encouragement in all quarters.
Mr. Coyle would make a strong candidate on the Republican ticket and he has excellent reasons for believing that he can carry the district. His career in the last Legislature added to the laurels which he had won at home. He attended to his duties industriously and honorably, always keeping the interests of his constituents in view.

The West Chester Local News gives the whole thing away in the following:
"The latest invention is a corset of uncommon interest. It is called 'The Highly Moral Corset.' When a lady wearing one of these corsets is squeezed and by the encircling arm during a dance, or at any other time, the corset emits a screech like a steam whistle. So that parents and guardians need no longer worry about their pretty charges so long as the girls are within a mile or two of the house and wearing one of these tell-tale corsets.

If President Hippolyte of Hayti happens to be matrimonially disengaged at present we should like to impress him with the beauties and virtues, conjugal and native, of the Widow Domains of Hawaii. A gentleman who fills the intervals between meals by massacring all his enemies would be an excellent part for the lady who would do the same thing if she could. In point of complexion, moral and physical, they would be perfect mates.
Mr. Cleveland might compensate the lady for the loss of her crown and his isolated promise by sending Mr. Blount in Hayti with presents, poupcarlers and a professor. Mr. Dole would gladly provide the dot.

The recent lynching of the negro murderer at Stroudsburg has awakened an intense feeling of indignation. No one pretends to dispute the fact that the murderer deserved the fate that overtook him but the protests are against the methods of dealing with the criminal, and it is evident that such manifestations of disapproval should be made. Pennsylvanians, as a general thing, are law-abiding people.

They know that the state laws, properly administered, are adequate to the free and fair administration of justice, and that therefore they should be respected. We are pleased to note these commendable manifestations of public spirit, and cannot but hope that the steps being taken for the arrest and punishment of the offenders will result in success, and that the courts will deal with them as the nature of their offense may demand.

ET TU, ZERBY!

Editor Zerby was another member of the newspaper fraternity of Schuylkill county who tried to defeat the HERALD in the recovery of its just claim in the Pottsville court last Wednesday. The HERALD's exposure of the attempt by Zerby and others to make an $8,000 grab on the county treasury for work which was subsequently done for a little over $1,000 had made Zerby vindictive and he thought the witness stand was an excellent place to vent his spleen, but he, like Doyle, failed miserably. Brother Zerby may fry this little piece of Bacon at his leisure. "Vindictive persons live the lives of wretches, who as they are mischievous, so end they unfortunately."

BOOMERANG DOYLE.

The HERALD crawled into its hole in a manner quite unexpected by the slime slingers of the Sunday News. One of the editors of the latter paper, Mickey Doyle, did his utmost to prevent a just verdict on the claim the HERALD made against the borough and he volunteered his service as a star witness for the defense, but what did he and his efforts amount to?
Simply a boomerang. Instead of proving a star witness for the defense he was moulded into a first-class witness for the HERALD. It is another exemplification of the old saying that when you see it in the News don't believe it. Mickey volunteered his advice and services in behalf of his borough to beat the HERALD in the case. Several months ago he volunteered his services to the taxpayers of the borough of Shenandoah as one of the chief spokesmen for public water works and secretary of the joint committee. The project was intended to save the taxpayers expense, but now Mr. Doyle has claimed $800 for his volunteered services. Verily, the News and the Doyles are queer creatures.

IN SENATE AND HOUSE.

The House Deadlocked Over a Contested Election Case.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The house spent the entire day in filibustering over the O'Neill-Joy contested election case from the St. Louis district. The report of the committee on elections is in favor of un-seating Mr. Joy (Rep.), and the Republicans are determined that this shall not be accomplished unless the Democrats produce their own quorum. For five hours they filibustered, and kept the house deadlocked. The highest number of Democratic votes cast during the day was 196, thirteen short of a quorum. An unsuccessful attempt was made to adjourn over Good Friday, and the struggle was renewed today.

The bill for the purchase of a site for a new government printing office consumed nearly the whole morning hour in the Senate, and much to the surprise of nearly everybody, an amendment providing for the purchase of what is known as the "Mahoney site" was passed. Notice for a motion to reconsider was given. The McGarrhan bill went over until Monday.
After a brief executive session the Senate adjourned until Monday.

On Trial for His Life.

HARRISBURG, March 23.—James Bell, a mulatto, was placed on trial here charged with murdering Ellen Miller, his white mistress, at Steelton a year ago. Counsel on both sides were started by the statement of Louis Jones, a witness for the prosecution, who testified that Bell, who was his chum, had confessed to him the morning after the crime had been committed that he had gotten into a taxi with "his woman the night before and was afraid he had killed her." He disappeared soon after and was captured in Baltimore last November.

An Accused Banker Acquitted.

WILMINGTON, N. C., March 23.—The case of the state vs. Isaac Dates, late president of the Bank of New Hanover, on the indictment charging him with making false returns, under oath of the state treasurer, came up in the criminal court yesterday. After the jury was empaneled and after a long argument the objection was sustained and the court ordered that a verdict of not guilty be entered.

TO BEAUTIFY THE COMPLEXION.

Do not take the cosmetics paints and powders which injure the skin, but take the easiest way to gain a beautiful complexion and a wholesome skin. Health is the greatest beauty. This means to beauty, comfort, and health for women is Dr.
Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
Dull eyes, sallow or wrinkled face, and those feelings of weakness, or have their rise in the dis-arrangements peculiar to women.

"Favorite Prescription" will build up strength, and invigorate the system, every "run-down" or delicate woman by regulating and assisting all the natural functions. It also lessens pain.
At some period in her life, a woman requires a general tonic and nerve, as well as a remedy adapted to her special needs.
You can find no other remedy that's guaranteed. If the "Prescription" ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

When you've Catarrh, use Dr. Sage's Remedy.

The Weather.

Fair tomorrow and probably Sunday; slightly cooler; variable winds, becoming west.

A DAY OF DEPOSITIONS.

Evidence for Breckinridge in the Breach of Promise Case.

THE TESTIMONY OF AN EDUCATOR.

College President Brown Declares That the Congressman Visited Miss Pollard but Once at Wesleyan Seminary—The Defendant Will be the Last Witness.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Counsel for Colonel Breckinridge have decided to follow the example of their opponents by reserving their client's testimony for the closing card in their case. Accordingly the silver haired congressman disappeared many people by failing to go upon the witness stand, and one of the disappointed ones was Madeline Pollard herself, who felt as sore as she learned of the program for the day. The entire day was dragged out by the reading of depositions, all aimed at two points, viz.: To prove that Miss Pollard did not give birth to a child at the Norwood convent in 1885, and that she is older than she represents herself to be.

The first deposition read was that of Sister Augustine, of the Norwood Convent asylum, where Miss Pollard was at first confined. This sister had been for years at the convent, did not recognize Miss Pollard as one who had been at the institution, and said there had never been but one Louise Wilson there, and she gave birth to a child there last fall.

The second deposition read was that of Sister Augustine, of the Norwood Con-
years at the convent, did not recognize
but one Louise Wilson there, and she
gave birth to a child there last fall.

The entries on the convent books under the name of Mrs. Burgoyne (Miss Pollard's alleged assumed name) corresponded with the dates which Miss Pollard and Dr.
Street had given of her admittance to the asylum, the birth of her child and her departure. The name of the child on the record was M. Gertrude Burgoyne. According to the recollection of the sister, Mrs. Burgoyne had visited the convent twice after the child was born. The child died in July, 1885. When Miss Pollard was told of this, the sister deposed, she had thrown up her hands and ran from the room, but when she returned there were no evidences of grief in her face.
Sister Augustine, according to the statement of St. Joseph in the convent had perfect eyes.
Miss Pollard had recollect that one eye of the statue was out of line.

The second deposition read by Attorney Stoll was by Lena Schmidt, who had been employed for eighteen years in the Norwood convent, who had no recollection of a woman in the convent in 1885 under the name of Louise Wilson, and had never seen Madeline Pollard until last December. She had then been present at the interview between Sister Agnes and the plaintiff. According to her recollection, Miss Pollard had said of her motives for the suit: "I did it for justice and to disgrace Mr. Breckinridge."

The deposition of Orrin G. Brown, president of Quinn Valley college, in Ohio, and son of the president of Wesleyan seminary, which Miss Pollard had attended, was read. He was a young man in those years of Miss Pollard's schooling, and from the records of the school testified that her bills had been paid by James C.
Rhodes, who was, however, backward in his payments.

Miss Pollard had been in the habit of claiming relationship or friendship with most of the prominent people of Kentucky, among them Mr. Breckinridge and Senator Blackburn. This boasted acquaintance of hers had grown into a joke at the school.

By the scholars Miss Pollard had been jokingly called "Madeline-Vivian-Bell-Breckinridge-Joe-Blackburn-Pollard."

Witness testified that according to his recollection, based on his diary, Colonel Breckinridge had not visited Miss Pollard Aug. 2, and had never visited her but once.

In the cross-examination it developed that Miss Pollard had been considered at school "a very nice girl" and "a bright girl."

In re-direct examination Mr. Brown declared that Miss Pollard was old enough, when in school, and had sufficient general knowledge to resist improper advances from a man. It was a part of the curriculum to teach girls what sort of treatment they should expect from gentlemen. When this matter was gone into at further length Miss Pollard's attorneys objected, and Judge Bradley excluded it, re-marking: "That's expert testimony," thereby stirring a laugh.

The deposition of Dr. U. B. Williams, who had lived in Bridgeport, Ky., in 1865, was objected to but admitted with the exception of one question and answer. In that year he had attended Mrs. Pollard when she gave birth to a child. There were then three other children, one of them a little tot called "Mattie" or "Madie" and the child born then also was called "Madie." The doctor on cross-examination, it appeared, is a member of the board of pension examiners.

Dr. J. Owen Robinson, of Lexington, whose deposition was read, knew Miss Pollard, considered her not a beautiful girl, but one attractive because of her intellectual brilliancy. He first met Madeline at the house of her aunt in Bridgeport, in 1868, and she impressed him as being between 16 and 17 years old. More of what Judge Bradley considered expert testimony was excluded.

Another deposition by F. M. Schofield, of Frankfort, Ky., formerly of Bridgeport, a blacksmith, met objection from the plaintiff's attorneys. The blacksmith had known Miss Pollard's father in 1863, and testified that he had three children then, the youngest of them, Madeline, who looked like a child of 3 years.

There will be nothing more for the jury until Monday, as the court is observing Good Friday, and the session tomorrow will be devoted to arguments over the admissibility of depositions to show that Miss Pollard had been intimate with other men than the defendant, to which the plaintiff has given notice of objection.

Santander's Latest Dynamite Victims.

SANTANDER, March 23.—Five men were killed outright and seven terribly injured by the exploding dynamite from the sunk steamer Cabo Machibaco Wednesday night. The victims were terribly mangled. There was some shouting at their funerals yesterday, which was suppressed by troops. As a result the authorities have decided that no further work shall be made to save the steamer or cargo. She will be destroyed by petards.

Through an Open Switch.

NEWPORT, Pa., March 23.—An open switch at Sylvan Station, on the Newport and Sherman's Valley railroad, caused a passenger train to leave the track. Fortunately, the engine became uncoupled from the train before it plunged over an embankment and upset. The engineer escaped, but the fireman, James Stair, received injuries from which he died shortly after.

Twenty Per Cent. Reduction Demanded.

CUMBERLAND, Md., March 23.—At the meeting between mine operators and employees yesterday the operators presented an ultimatum providing for a reduction from fifty to forty cents a ton. The men promised an answer by Sunday, after they had reported to their associates.

Fatal Fire in Jersey City.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The barn of William L. King was totally destroyed by fire early in the morning, and Michael Farrell, aged 28 years, Mr. King's coachman, and three horses valued at $1,000 perished in the flames.

Big Children Claim Rejected.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The Children claims commission rejected one of the largest claims put forward by the American side. It sustained a motion to dismiss the Grace cases, amounting to $2-250,000.

After Typhoid
and Malaria

Hood's Sarsaparilla Purified and Built Up the System.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass."
"Gentlemen—Two years ago I was taken with a very severe illness, beginning with erysipelas, and then had typhoid and malaria fever.
After I got up and out of bed I thought I was cured, but was mistaken. In a short time a humor broke out on my face, at first causing the skin to be rough and itchy and gradually developing into sores, which spread until

My Head was Covered with them. No one can imagine how I suffered with the great itching and burning. Prescriptions had no effect. A friend advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I concluded to try a bottle, and I soon found a great change in my condition. The sores began to disappear and I was soon entirely cured. My general health has improved and I feel like a new man altogether. I speak well of it and have the feeling that it has been a blessing and a relief. JAMES J. WELSH,
