No fire was permitted in the big tent, but there was a heap of blaxing logs outside. Every few minutes the flaps of the tent were parted by a solider of the Common-weal, who visited the fire to drive away the chills. The "Industrials" Sidetracked.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 20. – The Southern Pacific officials here received word today that the United States Indus-trial army of several hundred men were put off the trains at a siding near Fieley station, on the El Paso division, and that trains were run through without stop-ping. The so called army broke the lock on the switch and threw it open, causing the next cash broad train to take the sid-ing. The new olimbed upon the cars and Conductor Martin pulled them to Finley, where he tied up the train pending the ar-rival of orders. The order came for him to keep the train tied up, as the company had decided not to carry the men. Several other trains have arrived at Finley since, and all are tied up, as the army shows no disposition to let any of the trains depart without them. them march in files of two, and a more surprising innovation is the adoption of military salutes. A man who shouted "Here Brownet" at the California reformer was given a raking over by Smith. He said that the proper caper was to ask for Chief Marshal Carl Browne and salute when his attention is accured. Thus the despised military system is being intraduced, even though companies are called communes and regiments communities.

The start from Massillon resembled the moving of an old time country circus, more than anything else. There was no goddess of peace in the procession, as Coxey had designed, his divorced wife refueing to permit her daughter to go with the army in that capacity. Corry's son Jesse, a boy of 16, was mounted on a blooded stallion from the stock farm, and wors a military uniform. Browne and the other officers were similarly mounted, while the "general" rode in a phaeton bo-hind one of his favorite horses. Mrs. Coxey, her 3-year-old son and the house-keeper for the Coxeys role in a buggy. The rank and file of the army brought up the rear on foot. The hand wagon, which very much rearmhles a gynay's traveling conveyance, followed. The musicians did their best to enliven the soldiers, and the many gay banners added fautastic elements to the pageant. Before the start the noonday particus [were dispensed. They consisted of a can of salmon and a loaf of bread for each group of five, and a small slice of ham for each man. This seemed to sat-isfy the men, and they marched away with light heart and bouyant step. A special from Salem, O., says that an officer who is covering the Ohio route for the Pennsylvania authorities claims that if Coxey can keep going, and hold the men who are waiting to join him, he will cross the Pennsylvania line with about 3,500 by DAVID FAUST.
