GOVERNOR WAITE WINS.

His Appointees Demand Their Offices, but Their Predecessors Refuse to Vacate.

DENVER, March 27.—Judge Glynn in the district circuit court dismissed the contempt charges, and quashed the injunction against Mayor Van Horn and Fire and Police Commissioners Barnes and Mullin, and empowered the latter to assume as duties of the offices to which they had been appointed by Governor Waite.

Immediately after the decision had been given Barnes and Mullin, with A. J. Rogers, made a demand upon Messrs Orr and Martin to surrender the office. This was refused, and the new board went into the mayor's office, where they organized and appointed J. A. Farley chief of police.

Unless the old board surrenders there is a possibility of the city enjoying the novelty of two fire and police departments.

Last evening counsel for Orr and Martin took an appeal from the decision of Judge Glynn to the supreme court, on the ground of error in serving the injunction of Judge Graham. Upon the promise of Attorney Ward, for Barnes and Mullin, that no attempt would be made by the new board to proceed to business or make appointments, the court refrained from issuing a writ against the new board, and merely granted a stay until to-morrow, when a decision will probably be given.

A Witness Arrested for Perjury. CAMDEN, N. J., March 27.—The investigation of the contested election case of Lippincott against Thompson was continued before the assembly committee on elections at the Camden court house.

The most sensational testimony was the evidence of James C. Smith, who said he had voted under the name of Smith, and passed among some as George Lester. He testified that he had been induced to manufacture evidence at the instigation of officers of the other side, who had paid him for it.

The testimony reflected on Sergeant-at-Arms Graham, and Smith was arrested on a charge of perjury preferred by Graham.

Laidlaw After Sage Again. NEW YORK, March 27.—The work of getting a jury in the second trial of the suit of William H. Laidlaw to recover $100,000 from Russell Sage was begun yesterday in the supreme court.

The plaintiff claims that Sage made a shield of him when Nurezza threw down the bomb in Sage's office. As the first trial the court ordered a verdict for the defendant on the ground that it was incumbent upon Laidlaw to show that Sage was removed from a place of safety by Sage. The general term decided against Sage, and ordered a retrial.

VERDICT ENDORSED.

What Some Newspapers Say of the "Herold's" Recent Victory.

The EVENING HERALD sued the borough of Shenandoah on a bill for advertising a special borough election, held in June, 1892. A jury in Pottsville, yesterday, gave a verdict in favor of the newspaper for the full amount with interest. This suits up $478.35. The rates charged by the HERALD were reasonable—ten cents a line for the first insertion, and five cents a line for each subsequent insertion. No one but a corporation, municipal or otherwise, would find fault with such a bill—Mauch Chunk Times.

Under a caption of "A Plucky Fight" the Schenckville Haven Call says: "Editor H. C. Boyer, of the EVENING HERALD, has won his suit against the borough of Shenandoah. Mr. Boyer did considerable advertising for the special election held in the borough in 1892 and charged $478.30 for it. This the Borough Council considered an exorbitant price and offered first $300 in settlement and later an offer of $400. A jury at Pottsville, on Thursday, gave Mr. Boyer judgment for $478.35, being the amount claimed, with interest. Mr. Boyer has our congratulations, for he made a plucky fight for principle and we regret that some of the newspaper men in the county refused to stand by him in it, on account of some personal feeling. By the trial and determination of the suit Mr. Boyer has secured from a jury the declaration that the printer as well as the laborer is worthy of his hire and that in the absence of a contract the regular rates of the newspaper furnishing advertisements must prevail. Twelve disinterested and impartial citizens have vindicated Mr. Boyer after he had been abused for many days about this claim and we again say that we congratulate him, and think every other newspaper in the region should do so."
