Mr. O'Neill cannot remember swallowing the lizards, but can recall taking a drink in the woods on dark night about three months ago while returning from McCarnel, and believes he can recall experiencing a tickling sensation in his throat at the time.

When baby was sick, we gave our Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Big Railroad Deal. CINCINNATI, March 29.—Trustworthy news has been received from New York of one of the most gigantic deals in the history of American railroad-building. It is nothing less than that the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railway company has bought out the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific Railway company. This, the greatest north and south combination ever made in the United States, links the Mississippi river, Lake Michigan, Lake Huron, Lake Erie and the Kanawha region of West Virginia on the north with Meridian, Shreveport, New Orleans, Jacksonville, Atlanta, Birmingham, Knoxville and Chattanooga on the south.

Postmaster-elect Thomas O'Connor will step into official shoes on April 1, and the office will be removed to the new location on Centre street, west of Main, at about the same time.

Dr. George Etheroff, a graduate of the Toronto Veterinary College, recently removed to town and intends opening an office in H. B. Stein's drug store. The doctor owns a grey hound that attracts much attention. The dog, though but eight months old, stands nearly as high as a table and could easily give points to some of the Malzeville corks.

The marriage of Stephen Wayne and Mrs. Robert Orr took place last evening. Mr. Wayne is a well-known traveling salesman and Mrs. Orr has charge of a department in the Mansion House. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Zimmerman, of the German Lutheran church. The bridesmaid was Miss Lou Burt. Only a few intimate friends were present.

Peter Salusky stood up before the bar of Justice O'Brien's court yesterday and waived a hearing on the charge of beating Peter Prenowski. Salusky was placed under $100 bail to keep the peace, and $200 more to appear at court. He, in company with the plaintiff and witnesses, then left the office and a few moments later the noise of a lively scuffle floated into the Justice's office. Salusky had walked along with his late opponents and at a favorable opportunity drew a long, slender, iron pipe and began to belabor Peter on the forehead. Prenowski about the head, inflicting several scalp wounds. He was placed under an additional $800 bail for his appearance at the county court.

John Bush, of Stillman's patch, appeared at Justice O'Brien's office at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, to swear out a warrant for Jacob Ushank for assault and battery. Bush wore only pants and overcoat, Ushank having robbed him of everything else in their conflict. Bush swore that Ushank appeared at a long, narrow, boarding house that morning and began to arouse the sleepers by songs and breakdowns, in their various bedrooms, which Bush resented by attempting to eject the untimely Ushank. The latter seemed to be as full of fight as fun and ready. In the struggle that ensued he tore everything from Bush's body, except the covering nature had given him. Ushank paid the costs and went his way apparently satisfied at taking the worth of his money.

Twenty-five well-known insurance agents were banqueted at Kelly's West Centre street restaurant last evening by D. J. Kelly, a special agent, who is about to remove to Shamokin. A program of music, dancing, speech-making and singing enlivened the occasion. W. W. Lewis and J. J. Kelly favored the audience with a lecture on the subject of "The Billiard Cue that Cost $150." Other vocalists who raised their sweet voices were Martin Maguire, an "Ole to D. J. Kelly," John Mouldy, "My Brand New Chisel on Board," J. W. Reese, "Killarney," and J. J. Hughes, of Tamawana, in several recitations. Others present and who took part were: George T. Llewellyn, T. J. English, Dr. J. R. Bisset, John Foley, Michael Monaghan, Thomas J. Broderick, James Miller, Egan Griffiths and Thomas Joyce, of Mahanoy City; Jacob Albert, of Lebanon; Charles Dolan, of Tamawana; Thomas J. Evans, of Gilberton, and Robert D. Griffiths, of Ashland, and J. S. Sanford, a New York comedian, who entertained the company for an hour with epigrams and epigrams. The bill of fare included chicken and turkey, cranberry sauce, tomatoes, a tomato, terrapin, tropical fruits, tea, coffee, champagne and wine, which all present thoroughly enjoyed. Many toasts were extended to the departing Mr. Kelly.

Burchill's Cafe. When seeking a neat and well conducted cafe go to Burchill's, corner Main and Centre streets. Polite and prompt attention.

The Foreigners Don't Hood. At Mr. Carmel the Board of Health have been bringing to time a number of violators of the rules and regulations, which require that burial permits and death certificates must in all cases be procured. Among the foreign element the undertakers are often not consulted and in some it is made by individuals unauthorized. In fact, many do not have a physician at times, especially in the case of invalid infants, and the board proposes using stringent means to bring about an observance of the law.

BACK TO HIS NATIVE LAND.

Louis Kosuth's Body Leaves Turin for Buda Pesth. TURIN, March 29.—Shortly before 9 o'clock last night a special train to convey the remains of Kosuth to Buda Pesth came into the station, and the coffin containing the body was removed from the mortuary pavilion and placed upon the train. There was a great crowd about the station before and during the transfer, and all the men reverently removed their hats as the coffin was being placed in the railway carriage.

The guard of honor, composed of Hungarian students, then took their places in the carriages, together with the members of Kosuth's family and the representatives of the municipality of Buda Pesth. A detachment of military was present, and as the train started on its journey to the Hungarian capital three volleys were fired by them. The crowd quickly dispersed after the train left. There are so many Hungarians yet remaining in the city that it may be necessary to run special trains in order to convey them to Buda Pesth, where all wish to be in order to attend the funeral services there.

The municipal authorities of Turin have decided as a mark of respect to the memory of the Hungarian to have a tablet bearing a suitable inscription set in the front wall of the house in which Kosuth died. Herr Maurice Jokal, the well known Hungarian novelist and writer, has consented to deliver the oration at Kosuth's grave. Herr Jokal took part in the revolution of 1848, and is therefore well qualified to speak on the subject of Kosuth's life.

WEDDED AND MURDERED. A Married Couple Who Lived But Three Hours Together. PENSACOLA, Fla., March 29.—A terrible tragedy was enacted in this city Tuesday night, in which C. S. Huff and bride, who had been married but three hours previous, lost their lives. Mrs. Huff was formerly the wife of Thomas Trainor, a steamboat captain. Last fall she obtained a divorce from Trainor, and on Tuesday she married Huff. After the divorce Trainor continued to visit the home of his former wife, and kept his clothes there. It is not known whether marriage relations were resumed, but it is thought they were. Trainor claims that he went to Huff's house to obtain his clothes and was offered by Huff, who refused to let him have them. He refused to go without the clothes. Huff advanced toward him with a knife in his hand, when Trainor drew his pistol and shot him dead. He also claims that Mrs. Huff was shot accidentally by going between him and Huff. Both died instantly. Trainor is in jail.

A Korean Conspirator Murdered. SINGAPORE, March 29.—Kinokkium, the leader of the Korean conspiracy of 1884, who was subsequently imprisoned in Japan for the part he took in that affair, was released recently and arrived here on Tuesday. He was accompanied by a companion, who murdered him yesterday. It is supposed that the murderer was acting under orders of the Korean government. The conspiracy in which Kinokkium took such a prominent part resulted in the massacre of the Korean ministers. The king was attacked in his palace, but the Japanese government intervened and brought about peace.

Governor Hoag Indignant. AUSTIN, Tex., March 29.—Governor Hoag authorized the following: "You can truthfully say that neither the coronator nor the examinee can disgrace Texas while I am governor. When a railroad company hurls traps or unexploded, pointless men into this state it cannot dump them in a barren desert and murder them by torture and starvation without atoning for it if there is any virtue in justice. Nor will I permit them to be shot down on Texas soil by any armed force whatever, no matter how much the Southern Pacific and other enemies of the state may howl about the commotion."

Russell Sage's Death. NEW YORK, March 29.—The second day of the second trial of the case of William R. Laddlaw, Jr., against Russell Sage to determine whether any portion of $50,000, because of injuries received at the time Norcross exploded his bomb, is to be paid over by the financiers, was largely taken up with testimony of little moment. Sage testified that Laddlaw was at the other end of his desk at the time the explosion took place. He was positive that he did not take hold of Laddlaw's hand, and was equally emphatic in the assertion that he did not use Laddlaw as a shield.

Two Thousand Chicago Strikers. CHICAGO, March 29.—According to notice the strike at the Crane factories began yesterday, and the 2,000 men who did not return to work are no longer in the employ of the company. It is said that gas fitters, plumbers and steam fitters will refuse to handle any piping turned out by the Crane company while its employees are on strike.

Firemen Seriously Injured. CHICAGO, March 29.—Four firemen were seriously injured at a fire in Walker Bros. mauling machinery establishment. The men were all upon a ladder, which broke, letting them fall thirty feet. All of them will recover.

Paterson Strikers Yield. PATERSON, N. J., March 29.—The strikers in this city held a meeting for the purpose of discussing the schedule submitted by the silk manufacturers. After quite a discussion the strikers adopted the new terms.

NUGGETS OF NEWS. The town of Sunderland, Neb., was totally destroyed by fire. Emperor Francis Joseph started last night for Ansbach, where he will meet Germany's ambassador. Secretary Gresham left Washington yesterday for New York. The object of his visit is not known. Major Nevins, one of the best known leaders of band music in this country, died in Chicago, aged 61. The geological department of Harvard university will send an expedition next week to Gray Head, Marcellus Vineyard, to investigate the strata formation and fossils of that locality. The Populist state convention at Kansas City, Mo., nominated the following ticket for justice of the supreme court, O. D. Jones, chief justice of public instruction, G. H. Burt, railroad commissioner, Thomas J. Hendrickson. Attorney General Olney has rendered an opinion to the effect that the international copyright act of March 3, 1891, does not prohibit the importation of uncopyrighted lithographs, although these lithographs may be copies of copyrighted paintings.

IN SENATE AND HOUSE.

The House Bill Deadlocked Over the Contested Election Cases. WASHINGTON, March 29.—Yesterday for the first time since last Thursday the senate held a session for the transaction of business, and a number of resolutions were passed, among them one authorizing the secretary of the treasury to receive on deposit the money derived from the sale of the Cherokee bonds. Several important bills and resolutions were introduced, among them a joint resolution by Senator Dolph authorizing the Clayton-Bulwer treaty and one by Senator Peffer repealing all laws granting the secretary of the treasury authority to issue bonds and other interest bearing obligations without specific authority from congress. All these went over without action. From 1:30 until 2:30 the senate was in executive session, and when the doors were reopened the McGarrahan bill was laid before the senate, and Senator Morrill spoke in opposition to the measure. He was followed by Senator Hunter, of Virginia, who advocated its passage.

As a preliminary to the sessions of the house yesterday the committee on rules met and prepared a rule for the consideration of the Joy-O'Neill and the Hilborn-English contested election cases. The rule provided for two hours' consideration to each case. It was not brought in immediately upon the assembling of the house, but was held while some minor business was transacted to afford time for the full attendance of the day to develop. When it was introduced the Democrats mustered a bare majority to enforce the demand for the previous question and again to adopt the committee's rule, but melted away again after the discussion of the Joy-O'Neill case had been concluded before the majority report of the elections committee declaring the contestant O'Neill entitled to a seat could be adopted. The day's discussion was without special interest.

SECURITY AT HOMESTEAD. The Armor Plate Frauds Result in Extreme Precautions. HOMESTEAD, Pa., March 29.—It is understood that the men who informed against the Carnegie-Phelps Steel company, which resulted in the firm being fined $140,489 for defective armor plate furnished to the government, are dissatisfied at Secretary Herbert's report on the armor plate frauds, and may urge a congressional inquiry. James H. Smith, Esq., who conducted the case for the men, when seen concerning the latest report said that Mr. Herbert's report omitted many important details. He said when he took hold of the case he expected there would be a judicial inquiry, but the decision of President Cleveland prevented it. Mr. Smith thinks such an investigation may yet be held, provided the congressional resolution calling for it will be passed.

A system of sentries has been established at the Carnegie company's Homestead mill since the scandal. A guard is placed at every entrance and another patrols the space between each entrance, and no person is allowed to enter or leave the premises except the workmen employed there. The system goes further in its workings. The men employed in one department are not allowed to enter any other department, or to know anything about the work going on there.

A Chicago Mob Threatened Lynching. CHICAGO, March 29.—Guy T. Olmstead shot and killed Letter Carrier Clifford at Madison and Clark streets yesterday afternoon. Hundreds of people who were passing witnessed the shooting and threatened Olmstead with lynching. It was with difficulty that the police succeeded in rescuing the murderer from the angry mob. Olmstead is an ex-letter carrier. At the police station Olmstead made an incoherent statement to the effect that he had written a letter showing the connection between the tragedy and the celebrated Freda Ward-Alice Mitchell murder in Memphis, and adding that Clifford had said that he could have nothing more to do with him (Olmstead), although previously they had been warm friends.

Prize Fight in a Police Station. PITTSBURG, March 29.—The Post publishes a story in which it is claimed that a genuine prize fight took place in Central police station in this city, refereed by Inspector McKelvey and witnessed by Roger O'Mara, superintendent of police, and a mixed crowd of policemen and sports, numbering about 40. The mill is said to have taken place in the gymnasium behind bolted doors, between Pat Farrell, the crack pugilist of the police force, and Timothy Scanlan, a resident of Lawrenceville. The fight was to a finish, with Scanlan gloves being used. Scanlan knocked Farrell out completely in the fourth round.

The Seventh Gaylord Miss Victim. WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 29.—The body of the seventh victim in the Gaylord mine was taken out shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It proved to be that of Thomas Leysian, who was the only single man of the ill-fated thirteen. His mother, who is a resident of Canton, O., came here immediately after the accident and viewed the shaft daily in the hope that the next victim found would be her son. She was not at the shaft when the body of her son was brought up, but received the remains at the undertaker's establishment.

No Hope for the Fagoh Crop. LAUREL, Del., March 29.—Little hope remains now, even among the most sanguine, that any considerable portion of the peach buds have survived the trying ordeal of the past three nights. Strawberries are not hurt. Apples, pears, cherries and plums are utterly ruined, and raspberries and blackberries are badly injured. Early gardens are destroyed, and the work done in them during the past few weeks of fine weather will have to be done over.

Howard Gould's Engagement Confirmed. NEW YORK, March 29.—Despite many published denials Mr. Howard Gould yesterday confirmed the report of his engagement to Miss Odette Tyler, the actress. Mr. Gould said: "At first we decided to deny the story, which, however, was true, to avoid so much newspaper talk. We have no definite plans. The wedding may not be for a few months, and it may be sooner." Miss Tyler is a native of Georgia. Her father was General W. W. Kirkland, and her grandfather General Haslee, the author of "Harder's Military Tactics," both of whom served in the Confederate army.
