BREAKER BURNED

Fire at Park No. 2 Colliery This Morning.

Lentz, Lilly & Co. Lose From $150,000 t $200,000 and Eight Hundred Man and Boys Ars Deprived of Employment for Several Months.

pecial to EVENING BEBALD.

PARS PLACE, March 30.-Fire started in the breaker of Park colliery No. 2, op erated by Lentz, Lilly & Co., at 1:30 o'clock this morning and destroyed the tructure, leaving only a small part of a plane standing. The boller house, which was separated from the breaker, was aved. The fire also consumed one hun dred car loads of coal in the chutes and five shantles located about two hundred yards from the breaker and occupied by Polish and Hungarian families. All the ccupants escaped and saved their house hold goods and personal effects.

The origin of the fire is not known. The flames started on the cast side of the breaker and about forty feet from the ground. No fire is used in that part of breaker and about forty feet from the ground. No fire is used in that part of the breaker. Watchman Glover made the discovery and gave the alarm. The company's fire brigade responded promptly and put four treams in use, but their efforts were fruit-less, except to protect the engine house against the fire. The fames, fanned by a heavy west wind, leaped in all directions. Finally the cast side of the attrouture fell and the fames spread throughout the breaker, leaving the fire brigade powerless to stary their progress. This was at 2.30 of lock. The fames then begut to roll up towards the heavens in great clouds and showered upon the roofs of the shantles, which soon took fire and were specifily destroyed. The families expected this and showered upon the roofs of the shantles before the crisis arrived.

crisis arrived. By the destruction of the breaker the company loses from $15,000 to $200,000 and eight hundred men and boys are thrown out of employment. The breaker was built about pine years ago and was one of the largest and best in the region. It received coal from two big slopes. The breaker will be rebuilt, but this work cannot be accomplished under six months time.

torious Becky Bolis. If the charges against the prisoner are true he has a long sojourn in prison star-ing him in the face, as there are four burg-laries of one night in St. Clair placed at his door. The amount of cash said to have been lost by these torits Star. Moniff was found in a snamokin saloon dessed in a new suit of clothes and dis-playing considerable cash. The prisoner was locked upon as being riterly workhloss and without friends. To day, however, some Shenandoah people have expoused his cause and em-ployed M. M. Burke, Eq., to defend him. Mr. Burke was seen at the court house this morning and admitted that he had been employed in the case by Shenandoah prieris of the prisoner, but declined to say who they were Mr. Burke also declined to speak of the case further than that the newspaper reports were very much exaggerated. northwest corner of Main and Oak streets. The Sheriff's right to sell the property is contested by Mrs. Margaret Green, Coslett's sister in-law, who claims that she leased the ground from Father Bren-nan, of Hocksherville, and purchased the hulldings on it from Matrin Deliney for $3,600. Mrs. Green says she is the sole owner of the leasehold and buildings and receives all the rents, out it is understood Wright disputes this and will ask the court to pass upon the title if his claim is not satisfied.

The agitation over the vaccination regulations has dwindled as did the excitations has dwindled as did the twine the fire text book haw was passed. When the law was signed almost every bookseller went in mourning and pre-dicted that there would not be one-third the people in the business within a year atter the law went into operation, but many months have passed since then, the law has been carried out and, so far as Shemandoah is concerned, not one book-seller and stationer has put up his shutters. Time wears the rough edges off all things, and while the vaccination regulation may cause considerable tem-porary inconvenience, the people will gradually come to think better of it.
