EARLY MORNING TRIP

Strange Stories Told by Two Young Men.

WAS IT ONLY A FROLIC?

They Broke Into the Bradigan Brothers' Stable and Galloped Off on Two Horses, but Subsequently Returned the Animals and Told Conflicting Stories.

At about two o'clock yesterday morning Chief of Police O'Hara and Lieutenant Dougherty heard some shouting and the hoof falls of fast galloping horses in the lower part of the town and near the slaughter houses. They walked down Main street to ascertain the cause of the disturbance, but before going far discerned the forms of two horses, with the form of a man on the back of each, galloping towards the stable of the Bradigan Bros., at the south end of Market alley. Although the police got to the stable immediately after the horses entered it they could only find the horses, which were sweating and breathing heavily. The men who had been upon the backs of the animals had mysteriously disappeared. An examination of the premises convinced the police that something was wrong. It was evident that the stable door had been forced open, and the lock missing.

Chief O'Hara struck a match and entered the stable. He found a young man, who proved to be Joe Krapowicz, aged 19 years, crouching beneath the neck of one of the horses in a stall. Officer Dougherty pulled Thomas Gaynor, aged 30 years, out of a manger of the adjoining stall.

Neither man offered resistance. Krapowicz accompanied his captor sulkily and gave no explanation. Gaynor pretended to be half asleep and not fully conscious of what was going on. Both were taken before Justice Williams.

Gaynor gave his residence as St. Clair. He said he formerly resided in this town and came here on Saturday to have a good time with some of his old time friends. Having no place in which to sleep he sought the Bradigan stable at about 1 o'clock Saturday evening and made a berth in the manger. There he slept until he was arrested, he said, and knew nothing about horses, Krapowicz, or anything else. Krapowicz, he also said, was a perfect stranger to him.

Krapowicz was not smart enough to follow Gaynor's story. He said he and Gaynor parted on one of the town streets at 9 o'clock Saturday night. He went to a wedding in the First ward and there at about 2 o'clock yesterday morning a strange man gave him two horses, asking that they be put in the Bradigan stable. He just got the horses in when the police arrived.

Krapowicz was searched and in one of his pockets was found the missing lock of the stable door. He didn't know how it got there unless the wind blew it in.

The stories told by Gaynor and Krapowicz were so conflicting and evidently so false, Justice Williams asked them to furnish $500 bail, each. Being unable to do this, they were committed on a charge of breaking into the stable.

The case has caused many conjectures. By some of the authorities it is supposed that the young men weakened when making away with the horses and decided to return them to the stable. Others think the pair were out on a frolic and took the horses for a lively spin and after satisfying their whim and finding they were discovered, resorted to lying to get themselves out of the scrape they got into by breaking into the stable.

Prices New to Shenandoah.

As advertised we are selling to-day 500 pairs of new, fine, all new goods fresh from the Custom House, the prices will be 30c, 50c, 55c, 60c and 85c per pair; each curtain is 3 yards long—6 yards to each pair and the patterns are the latest design. We will offer another lot of men's white shirts at 35c, all sizes, just received. These shirts are equal in quality and finish to any 75c goods.

Brush Fires.

Brush on the mountain a few hundred yards from the Knickerbocker colliery caught fire in some unknown manner yesterday and burned furiously. Several residents of Valleyville went out on the mountain and battled with the flames for several hours, but with little success. The fire could be plainly seen from town last night.

The Miners' Wages.

The committee of the Schuylkill Coal Exchange appointed to draw collieries to determine the rate of wages for miners and laborers for the last half of March and first half of April made its report on Saturday. The rate is fixed at one per cent. below the $2.50 basis, or two per cent. better than the rate for the last month.

Now on Tap.

Rettig & Sons' celebrated bock beer is now ready and on tap at all the leading hotels and restaurants in Shenandoah and vicinity. This is no counterfeited, but the genuine bock beer, and is acknowledged to be the finest brew now on the market. All orders left at 120 South Main street will receive prompt attention.

SOLOMON HAAR, Agt.

In Case Again.

Lehigh Valley Engine No. 100, which was badly wrecked in a collision at Penn Haven Junction about a month ago, was put on the road again last Saturday after undergoing extensive repairs at the Delano shops. The engine now looks as good as it did when first built.

Bind Your Portfolios.

We have samples at this office of beautiful cloth and morocco leather covers for binding portfolios of the Magic City or any other art work given by the various newspapers. They are 90c and $1.00, and should be purchased by all who are collecting portfolios.

Buy Keystone flour. Be sure that the name LESSON & BAER, Ashland, Pa., is printed on every sack. 3-3-94

AT THE CHURCHES.

Large Attendance at the Welsh Baptist Church Last Evening.

Every seat in the in the Welsh Baptist church, corner of Oak and West streets, was occupied last evening long before the hour fixed for the services to begin. The attendance was unusually large and it was necessary to place seats in the aisles for the accommodation of the late arrivals. Many strangers were attracted to the services by reason of an announcement that there would be a new introduction in connection with the baptismal service. This innovation was a large plate glass and oak framed mirror arranged in the niche behind the pulpit so that people in all parts of the church could witness the ceremony in the well without leaving their seats, or otherwise obstructing the view of those seated behind them, and yet without reflecting the seated congregation. The innovation was pronounced a success and the trustees and pastor, Rev. D. I. Evans, were congratulated by the congregation at the close of the service. The reflector is a permanent fixture, but will have a neat covering when not required in connection with the service. It was put in place last Thursday. Six young people were baptised last night. Rev. Evans preached a very interesting sermon justifying the baptismal service as one of the most important of the divine mandates.

PENCIL POINTS.

The only busy men in town at present are the carpenters, painters and paper hangers.

The annual congregational meeting of the Presbyterian church of town will be held this evening.

The young folks connected with the Presbyterian church will give a social and literary entertainment in the chapel on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. No charge for admission.

Billy Campbell, manager of the "Shut Up" comedy company, has returned from Shenandoah where he made arrangements for the presentation of a light comedy farce comedy when the T. A. H. State convention will be held at that place in the near future. So says the Shamokin Herald.

The SHENANDOAH HERALD has won its suit against that borough for a bill claimed by the Council to be excessive. The newspaper asked the same price for its work as was and is being paid the state over, and the verdict in favor of the plaintiff for principal and interest to date, was a just one.—Mr. Carmel item.

A Pathetic Case.

Constable Thomas Boland met with a case of distress on Saturday that worked upon his sympathies to such an extent as to cause him to resolve not attempt to serve any more notices of eviction until the times get a little better and the people working in the mines can earn more than enough to keep body and soul together. Boland was sent to evict a Polish family. The husband and father can speak English fluently, and know the Constable. "What do you want, Tom?" he asked. Boland said he had a warrant for eviction. "Well, I'll be honest with you, Tom," said the tenant, "there I have a wife and four children and we have almost nothing in the house to eat, but I suppose we have to pay the rent, or sleep outside, so here is my check, all I have for two week's work, and that won't near pay the rent."

Boland took the check and found the amount due on it was five dollars. "Well, be gob," ejaculated the good-natured Constable, "you don't need to get out on my account, because I'll be d—d if I'll serve the warrant," and he turned and left the home leaving up the warrant and throwing the pieces away as he left. When the Constable reported the circumstances to Justice Bailey, the latter said, "you did right, Tom, and I won't issue any more of such warrants while the condition of the people remains as it is."

"Jack Won't Forget You,"

a delightful ballad, by McElhenney's phonograph.

Passengers Shaken Up.

There was some excitement at the Lehigh Valley depot this morning, which was occasioned by the rear end of one train backing up at the end of another. The train due here at 8:52 from Mahanoy City was at the depot taking on passengers for Ashland, when the train scheduled to leave for Pottsville backed up on the same track and its rear car crashed into the hind car of the Ashland train. Passengers on both trains were pretty badly shaken and T. R. Beddall, Esq., was thrown over a seat, but nobody complained of injury. Conductor Sigfried, of the Pottsville train, said he signalled his engineer to stop and the engineer said the brakes wouldn't work. The damage was limited to the breaking of a drawhead of the front car of the Ashland train. This car was side-tracked and another substituted. There was but slight delay to traffic.

"Little Johnny Dugan," prince of Irish ballads, by phonograph at McElhenney's.

Patience Played Out.

Andrew and Martin Kellois have been put under bail by Justice Toomey for trial on a charge of assault and battery preferred by Andrew Stremick. It appears that the defendants are boarders at the latter's house. Stremick returned to his home drunk, and the Kellois tried to persuade him to go to bed, but he would not do so. The Kellois persisted and finally their patience gave way to exasperation and they beat the boarding boss, the suit resulting.

Special Coat Sales.

There will be special sales of ladies' coats (black only) at 20 cents, and privately on Wednesday and Friday evenings, and at private sales every day during the week. These goods are all new and of this year's style. The sales will afford a rare opportunity to ladies who are in search of bargains in coats. Remé's Auction and Commission House, West Centre street. 4-2-94

They Return Thanks.

The success of the spring assembly given by the "Social Seven," on the 28th ult., was in a great measure due to the excellent music furnished by the Schoppes orchestra, and the former take this means of returning their thanks to this famous musical organization.

At the Old Stand.

On and after April 3rd, 1894, I will conduct my regular auction business at the old stand, in the Dougherty building, on West Centre street. Auctions every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings, and every Monday and Wednesday afternoons for ladies only. 4-2-94

THE COUNTY COURT!

Cases That Were Disposed of This Morning.

NEW WARDEN OF THE JAIL.

The Court Has Confirmed the Appointment of William Dunkelberger, of Tamaqua—Decisions Rendered in Several Cases—Owen Conroy Sentenced.

Special to Evening Herald.

POTTSVILLE, April 2.—The appointment of William Dunkelberger, of Tamaqua, as Warden of the county jail, was confirmed by the Court this morning and Mr. Dunkelberger was sworn in at once. The Republican office is in mourning. Among the many Republicans and Democrats of Tamaqua who signed a strong petition asking for the confirmation were Harry Weldy, H. K. Auzard, Capt. William B. Allabach, Hon. Wallace Guss, E. J. Fry, and Daniel Shepp, one of the best known and wealthiest Democrats in the county. The petition was an excellent recommendation of Mr. Dunkelberger from his own home.

Owen Conroy, the Butler township politician who was convicted of assault and battery at the last term of criminal court, was today sentenced to serve six months imprisonment and pay $25 fine and costs.

The report of J. R. Coyle, Esq., an auditor of the John H. Evans estate, was presented to court to-day by F. G. M. Hopper, Esq., and confirmed.

The report of J. R. Coyle, Esq., as auditor of the estate of Mary Joyce, was presented to court this morning by Mr. M. Burke, Esq., and ordered filed.

M. M. Burke, Esq., came down from Shenandoah to-day with bail in the sum of $500 for John Koneff, the man who was arrested at Shamokin last week for robberies committed at St. Clair. The bail was entered before Justice Williams, at Shenandoah. Mr. Burke declined to give the name of the bondsmen. The lawyer and the prisoner's mother went over to the jail and secured Koneff's release until his trial comes up at the May term of court.

In the case of Sunday against Dietrich the court to-day handed down a decision granting a new trial.

A rule for a felony issue was granted to-day in the case of Wright against Coletti. This issue is asked for to determine the title to the leased property at the northwest corner of Main and Oak streets, Shenandoah. Wright wants to apply it to the payment of a claim he has against Coletti, but the latter's sister-in-law, Mrs. Margaret Green, claims the property.

In the case of the Lauer Brewing Company against William Shugars, of Shenandoah, an affidavit was presented to the court to-day, asking for a rule to open the judgment.

A deed from Thomas C. Waters to Louis Goldin, for a property on East Lloyd street, Shenandoah, was filed in the Recorder's office to-day.

"When There is Love at Home," beautifully rendered by McElhenney's phonograph.

STABBING AFFRAY.

A Saturday Night Brawl Almost Had a Fatal Result.

On Saturday night Sylvester Belink met Adam Matulitis, Alexander Bulwicz and Joe Bernat on the Lehigh Valley railroad, at the corner of Bowers and Lloyd streets. Without any apparent provocation Belink was attacked. He was first struck with a stone and, as he turned around, was stabbed in the back of the neck. The attack was a murderous one, as the wound narrowly escaped a fatal point and had a very bad appearance. It was inflicted with some weapon which has not been found.

Belink made his escape, but Matulitis and Bulwicz were arrested and taken before Justice Toomey. The former was charged with the stabbing and the latter with the stone throwing. Matulitis furnished $500 bail for trial at court and Bulwicz was committed in default of bail to the same amount.

Dr. Matter dressed Belink's wound and said that it came near being a very dangerous one.

A Runaway.

A. J. Kabold, a West Coal street butcher, and a companion, were thrown from a wagon and slightly injured this afternoon. They were driving rapidly down coal street, near Kohner colliery, when the animal suddenly turned, hitting one side of the vehicle into the air and throwing the occupants to the ground. The horse continued on its way and Kabold, holding on to the reins, was dragged several yards over the rocky road before the animal could be stopped.

Neither of the men suffered much injury, but their clothing was torn and the wagon wheels and shafts were damaged beyond repair.

Bargains.

I now offer to selling at 4 cents per yard, elegant corsets at 20 cents, nice black muslin at 5 cents, good gingham at 2 cents, new dress gingham at 6 cents and standard dark prints at 5 cents per yard. 26 South Main street, Shenandoah. 3-26-94 P. J. MOSAGHAN.

April Fool.

"Major J. Anderson Wilkins" failed to materialize at the corner of Main and Centre streets last night and consequently no recruits were organized to join Coxey's army. Very few people responded to the call, and they would not have been recruits. The call was evidently a first of April hoax.

Fall From a Swing.

An Italian boy named Antonio Francesco and residing at the flats, West Coal street, fell from a pole-swing at Glover's hill, yesterday, and sustained severe injuries about the head.

"That is a remarkably quiet child of yours." "Yes, indeed," said the fond mother, "the dear little angel's cough is much better. We used Dr. Coxey's Wild Cherry and Seneka."

It is rumored that Edward Linton, a rising young resident of Lantana, may soon lead one of that town's fair ladies to hymen's altar in May.

George Tierney, of Lantana, spent Sunday with his mother in Pottsville.

Mr. Tierney is a tunnel contractor and is now successfully conducting the work that was formerly handled by the late Joseph Dolan, of Pottsville.

J. H. Kohler, who resigned from the local letter carrier force on Saturday, to-day left with his family for their new home in Allentown. Mr. Kohler was an exceptionally able and a social and pleasing neighbor and his departure is very much regretted.

Thomas Waters, Jr., and wife will leave town to-morrow for Bucks county, where they will locate with Mr. Waters' parents. Mr. Waters has a host of friends here and they will regret his departure.

The musical ability and fund of natural humor which he contributed at the many benefit entertainments in town made him very popular and any time he may pay a visit to his old home he will be cordially welcomed.

Owen C. Thomas, of North Jardin street, to-day donned the uniform as regular letter carrier of the third district to succeed J. H. Kohler who resigned on account of changing his residence to Allentown. Mr. Thomas has served for over four years as substitute on the force and has given excellent satisfaction at all times. His many friends will join the Herald in congratulating him upon securing a permanent assignment.

Foetus Fought.

Dan Bradley came over from Ringtown to-day to tell his friends of a fight two years had on Friday night last. They were Nicholas Bradley and Mint Shoppe, the former being seconded by Dan Bradley. Stoolball was knocked out in the beginning of the third round.

He Drew a Koff.

August Vintal was before Justice Toomey Saturday night, charged with attempting to stab Anthony Jerga, one of his boarders. Vintal was discharged yesterday after spending the night in the lock-up and paying the costs in the case.
