Successful Test of Tailor Dowe's Great Invention.

WITHSTOOD A STORM OF BULLETS.

The Inventor, Clad in His Mysterious Carment, Resisted Bullets, Fired by the New German Army Ride, That Had Pierced a Block of Solid Oak.

BERLIN, April 11.-Experts in military Berlin, April 11.—Experts in military affairs, not only in this city, but throughout Europe, are discussing the recent experiments made with the builds proof coat Invented by Herr Dowe, the Marheim tailor. There seems to be no longer any doubt that Dowe's invention is a most valuable one. The Russian ambassador fired two shots at the tailor while he was encased in his bullet proof coat, and Dowe supstained absolutely no inner. sustained absolutely no injury.

The experiments before Count Von

Schouvoloff were not confined to simply firing two shots at Dowe. They began with a thorough test of the new rifle in use in the German army. From a box of cartridges one was selected at random, the rifle was loaded and was then fired at by the small, steel like bullet. This showed that the rifle and cartridges were of the regulation pattern and well calculated to test the value of the most efficiency. ent steel cuirasses ever manufactured, much less a "bullet proof" coat. In fact it was stated before the experiments com-menced that no armor was ever manufac-tured which could withstand a shot from the rifle now in use in the army of Ger-

After the shot at the block of oak Dowe dressed himself in his bullet proof coat and offered himself as a target. While the and offered himself as a target. While the rifle was being aimed at the tailor the spectators were strung to an extreme state of nervousness, and instinctively closed their eyes in anticipation of seeing Dowe killed on the spot. But after the report of the rifle rang out and the tailor was seen standing, apparently undurt, there was a feeing of immense relief among every one present. Dowe immediately no-ticed the state of excitement produced by the experiment, for he smiled, much to the experiment, for he smiled, much to the relief of the onlookers, and said: " feel nothing." A second shot was then fired directly at the tailor's heart, but it had the same effect as the first. The tailor was absolutely unburt, and both bullets were found imbedded in the bullet proof coat which covered his breast and body.

The military officers who were present expressed themselves as thoroughly convinced of the effectiveness of the bullet proof cost, which seems likely to make an entirely new departure in the history of modern warfare.

Then commenced a second series of ex-Then commenced a second series of ex-periments which were even more interest-ing than the first. A horse was covered with a bullet proof cost, for it is proposed that the cavalry of the future is to be pro-tected by this wonderful material. In this case a number of shots were fired in quick succession at the animal, while it was succession at the animal, while it was quietly eating outs from a manger. The horse, a well trained cavalry mount, started slightly at the first shot, apparently, however, only disturbed by the unexpected report of the rifle. Then other shots were fired as quickly as possible, some of them striking almost in the same place as previous bullets, but the horse continued eating as if nothing extraordinary was happening. nary was happening.

As in the case of the bullet proof coat worn by Herr Dowe himself all the bul-lets fired at the coat covering the horse were found to be imbedded in the material, but the animal itself was unhurt.

but the animal itself was unhurt.

A naval officer who was present at the experiments asked Herr Dowe if his builet proof armor could be applied to war ships, and he was assured by the inventor that a ship protected by his builet proof material could stand a pounding from all the war ships in the world without sustaining any considerable damage. Of course this is only Herr Dowe's theory, but as he assent only Herr Dowe's theory, but as he seems to have carried out his theory in regard to the bullet proof coat for soldiers it does not seem unlikely that he may be able to carry out his theory in regard to protecting war ships.

Dowe has been at work on his new in vention for a long time past. The first ex-periments of any importance took place near Manheim shortly before Christmas. The targets were covered with the new material, and at a range of about 110 yards bullets from the new army rifle went through the targets and fell flat-tened to the ground just behind them.

The new garment is described as looking like ordinary army dothing material, the resisting secret substance being placed be-neath the outside cloth. The garment is in the nature of a breast plate, and is fas-tened to the side buttons of the soldiers' uniform. It is only to be used in actual warfare, and weighs about six pounds. Previous to the experiments of Sunday last Dowa's bullet proof cost had been ex-perimented on before a military commis-sion, all styles of rifles used in the German army within the last fifteen years being tested against it with the most satis actory results.

A large firm of army contractors offered Dowe an enormous sum for his invention, but the tailor refused. Representatives of several foreign governments have been making strong efforts to obtain Herr Dowe's secret, but it is said that all these efforts have failed, and patriotic Germans express the desire that the German gov-ernment should secure Herr Dowe's secret, that the bullet proof coats may be used by the German army alone. It is said that 8,000,000 marks have been offered to Herr Dowe by the German government for his

How Hill's Speech Is Received.

Washington, April 11.—The Associated Press bulletin, giving the result of the vote in the New York legislature thank-Press bulletin, giving the result of the vote in the New York legislature thanking Senator Hill for his opposition to the Wilson bill, created a genuine sensation on the floor of the senate. Senator Hill seemed much gratified at the receipt of the news, and his colleague, Senator Murphy, was apparently equally pleased. The friends of the bill did not receive it favorably, but they declined to comment upon it. The Republicans were clated. One senator declared that the action meant the defeat of the bill.

Deserting Coxey's Army.

Usion town, Pa., April 11.—The army of peace, marching overland in the interests of Coxey's road bills, left this city on the mountain trip at moon today, at least 200 strong. There have been many desertions in the past two days, and a number of discharges. General Coxey believes the crucial test has arrived, and he does not care to make the perileus trip to Cumberland with men who may endeavor to stir up discord.

SHORT JACKETS SHOWN NOW.

Fickle Eastion Has Changed From One Extreme to the Other.

Fashion has entirely changed her mind on the subject of outside coats since last winter. Then the full skirt of the garment hung nearly to the knees, but now short jackets are shown, flaring indeed, but without a great deal of material in them. They out a great deal of material in them. They are close fitting in the back, but may be either light or loose in front, airliough they are usually double breasted, and large revers are the aim at invariable rule. Big carved buttons of colored pearl are used upon them, and bouldant sleeves give the fashlemable breasts of shoulder. This covert cluth is the favorite material and is never than the colored as with silk, but as that renders them too heavy and burdensome for general use the majority are unlined except in front. No trimming is used beyond the large buttons down the front, already mentioned, the large revers and the plain stitching employed as a finish giving the jacket a sufficiently jaunty effect. No full length coars and no wing sleaved garments have been and no wing sleeved garments have been displayed among the new importations. For street costumes the round budles still prevails. Sometimes there is a narrow ripple basque below the waist, but the plain belted corsage is the rule. Plain skirts are also the rule and so far greatly outnumber the double or draped ones, al though fashion prophets declare that the latter are sure to conquer before long. The average skirt is more than four yard around the bottom at present, and contains therefore, enough goods to give it an appreci able weight. If an ample second skirt be added to it, it will be no light burden to carry. The horizontal bands of triuming so much used last season are giving place so much used had scand are giving place to flounces, braid and other decoration ar-ranged about the foot of the skirt, and many French models show the skirt left entirely plain.

A gown of biscuit sibeline has a flaring skirt devoid of any trimming and a full round bodice gathered in under a belt of white satin ribbon. Over this is worn an Eton jacket of velvet of the same color, with narrow revers and gigot sleeves. It is embroidered all over with fine jet beads and catochons, and the lower part of the sleeves is decorated with immense jet buttens. JUDIC CHOLLET.

POND CHEEK, O. T., April 11.-As a train on the Rock Island road was approach-ing Arkansas river, four miles below here, a masked robber boarded the engine, and, levelling two revolvers at the engineer's head, he ordered him to stop the train. As soon as the train stopped several other masked robbers, the actual number of whom is not known, made for the express car.

Jack Harmon, the Wells Fargo express messenger, held up his revolver and stood at the car door, ready to meet the ou-slaught of the bandits. He positively de-clined to open up. The robbers then placed a stick of dynamits under the oar, and an explesion followed which tore open the whole side of the car.

After the explosion one of the robbers approached the car, and as soon as he was seen by Messenger Harmon the latter oppened fire and killed the robber intantly. As soon as the other bandits saw the game was up they attempted to re-treat Harmon followed them, keeping up a continuous fusillade, and succeeded in wounding another of the gaug.
