HEADQUARTERS
REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE,
Philadelphia, Feb. 24, '94.

To the Republican Electors of Pennsylvania:
I am directed by the Republican State Committee to announce that the Republican electors, who will meet in State convention at Harrisburg, Pa., on Wednesday, May 23, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the following purpose, to wit:

For the nomination of candidates respectively for Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, two members of Congress from the state at large, Auditor General, Secretary of Internal Affairs, and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

Attention is called to the rule adopted at the State Convention of 1893 providing for the basis of representation as follows:

Representations in future state conventions shall be based upon the vote cast at the Presidential or gubernatorial election immediately preceding, one delegate being allotted to each legislative district for over 2,000 Republican votes and an additional delegate for a fraction exceeding 1,000 votes, each district to have at least one delegate.

By order of the Republican State Com. H. F. GILKESON, Chairman.

Attest: JOHN B. RAY, Secretary.

A. D. FLETCHER, Secretary.

The representatives to which each district of the county is entitled to is as follows:

First district, 1; Second district, 1; Third district, 1; Fourth district, 3.

INDIANS VS. BEER.

The Indians can now have their beer. The Supreme Court has decided that lager is not a spirituous liquor and that it may be sold to the reservation Indians without violating any law. Young Man With-the-Ever-Dry-Aesopogus may now possess his foaming can in sweet content, and popposes can "chase the duck" to and out of the corner cafe without fear of being picked up by a vigilant policeman doing violence to the excise regulations.

The annual green-corn dance of the Territory Indians having fallen into disuse, the reformed red man might now select Bock Beer Day for his yearly fete champagne. Bock is a few degrees Fahrenheit less hair-curling than fire-water, and while a skintful of whiskey would make an ordinary Indian want to chop off his grandmother's ears and fricassee them, a dozen or more schooners of the billy-god brew would only incite him to scalp a few pale faces and frighten peaceful citizens with his wild whoopee and war dance.

Beer is such a mild beverage that it is really a pity to see the majestic son of the forest reduced to the necessity of slaking his thirst with it. But if he can succeed in cutting down the superstructure of foam which the expert barkeeper raises on a slight foundation of lager he will not have to wear out so many pairs of moccasins journeying to and from the malskellar in which he is looking for his jag.

The American workmen at Chester appear to have made up their minds that as long as all native-born men are not supplied with employment no foreigners shall be permitted to work in that vicinity. A number of Italians employed by the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad were driven off on Monday, a number of them having been injured by stones thrown by the mob. It has become very apparent that the feeling against foreigners of the working classes is becoming more and more intense. What will be the ending of it can only be conjectured, but unless something occurs to allay this growing feeling of hostility toward Italians and Hungarians there will be outbreaks of a more serious character than any of recent occurrence.

Archbishop Ireland, of Minnesota, delivered an address at the rooms of the United Service Club, in New York, on Saturday night which was as a bugle blast from the very altar of liberty. It is a pity that it was not fully reported, for every school boy and girl, and indeed, every citizen of the United States, would be benefited by having read it. It was free from all suggestion of politics or religion, but was a simple, forceful and impassioned plea for an awakening of the spirit of true patriotism. The Archbishop, who was a chaplain in a Minnesota regiment, and has always been a warm friend of the army and navy, paid a glowing tribute to the memory of those who sacrificed their lives on the field of battle. He declared himself an American from the crowns of his head to the soles of his feet, and said that to be a citizen of the United States was the proudest distinction that could fall to the lot of man. He spoke touchingly of the Stars and Stripes as the emblem of American unity, strength and loyalty, and brought a brilliant peroration to a close with

"My country, 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing."

The address was wholly impromptu and was a gem of patriotic sentiment and felicitous expression. A room full of old soldiers that were grouped about him wished that both the Church and State were represented in high places by such men as Archbishop Ireland.

These are hard times for train robbers, as well as for men who want to earn an honest living. Three of them were hanged the other day in Arkansas, and on Monday a plucky express messenger in Oklahoma killed one and wounded another. It is several months since a train robber has made a haul large enough to give him a decent standing in his profession.

MR. HOLMAN is afraid that if Congress does not adjourn July 1 the Democrats will not have time enough to square themselves with the people. Whether Congress adjourns before or after July 1 the people will square accounts with the party responsible for their present plight.

THEATRICAL managers in Russia are required by law to deposit with the government sufficient money to pay the railway fares of the company back home when the troupe is on the road. Consequently there is but little "tie counting" there.

BRADING IS IN AGAIN.

A Pretty Nihilist Venetian Cloth Coat Bodice With Hussar Hraid Trimming.

Brading has decidedly "come in" again this season. Both the wide and narrow varieties of braid are used, the former in plain or wavy bands, the latter in close and complicated patterns. It is a particularly suitable decoration for close fitting street gowns of lightweight wool, and to women who like the tight, tailor made styles and yet consider the usual rows of ornamental stitching too plain and commonplace the braiding commands itself as an ideal trimming, since it does not at all interfere with the close, severe lines of such costumes and yet gives an effect of richness and elaboration. Braid also stands dampness and hard usage patiently, and is therefore a most appropriate decoration for seaside and mountain gowns in tweeds and other fine qualities of mixed goods that, although expensive as to first cost, repay the outlay by wearing forever, comparatively speaking.

America may fairly pride herself on her cotton fabrics, and her silks are by some judges considered almost equal to French goods, but she does not yet turn out such firm, close woven, thoroughgoing tweeds and chevots as Great Britain. To do her justice, there is far less demand for them here than there, as this climate is so much clearer and drier. She produces what the general public demands. There is, however, a certain satisfaction in the possession of a good English serge or Scotch tweed gown that no other costume can impart. It looks equally well in fair weather and foul. It is unaffected by rain, dust or mud. It washes like colico and wears like iron and will last unto the third and fourth generation. It is always to be depended upon, makes an ideal traveling gown and has its own particular place in every well dressed woman's wardrobe.

As an example of severe braiding, a sketch is given of the coat bodice of the traveling costume of a recent English bride. The material is nihilist venetian cloth, and the hussar braiding is in black. Close braiding designs are seen on silk goods traced in silk cord. The cord is sometimes in varying shades and is enriched with beads or spangles, giving an extremely elaborate effect particularly suitable for wraps intended for ceremonious occasions. Silk corded patterns are also used as a garniture on fine wool costumes.

ALL WISE HEADS

agree that the use of a liver pill after dinner, or to sooth the stomach, is an important step in civilization. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pills are better than other liver pills in almost every respect. They're the smallest, easiest to take, most natural in the way they act, cheapest, because guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money returned. We all have weak spots. Generally it's the liver. An active liver prevents impurities and poisons from entering the blood. "Pleasant Pills" have a tonic effect upon the liver and the general system. They cure indigestion, dyspepsia, Biliary Spasms, Sick or Bilious Headaches, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.

A NATIONAL STRIKE.

The United Mine Workers Will Quit Work April 21.

THE OLD OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

John McBride, F. H. Penna and Patrick McBride Remain at the Head of the Powerful Organization—One New Member of the Executive Board.

COLUMBIA, O., April 12.—The United Mine Workers of America will declare a general strike on April 21. This was decided at the national convention of the organization yesterday.

J. A. Crawford, of Illinois, member of the executive board, presented the resolution to strike. He said from twelve to fourteen resolutions had been referred to the committee, but they had decided to substitute two, one of which was to strike April 21. This precipitated prolonged applause and animated discussion. W. D. Van Horn, of Indiana, opposed the date, asserting that the Indiana miners had a contract with the operators to work until May 1. He was in favor of suspending work May 1.

Joseph Dankley, state president of Indiana, was bitterly opposed to the date. The date was changed to the 21st, on account of the 22d being Sunday, and carried. The second resolution referred to above provides that in case the first general suspension of mining fails to bring the desired results the executive board is authorized to order another suspension during the year any time that may be deemed advisable.

It is understood that the Indiana miners in joining the movement in the face of their contract to mine until May 1 did so upon the ground that they were compelled, under the circumstances, to enter upon the suspension, claiming that the operators in one district had first violated the agreement and placed colored men in their places, which made it optional with the miners to say whether the contract should be continued.

Another important work will be the arrangement of a scale for the various states. This has been placed in the hands of the following committee: W. B. Wilson, Pennsylvania; M. Mahy, Indianapolis; John Nugent, Ohio; Thomas Ferry, West Virginia; W. C. Webb, Kentucky; and Thomas McGregor, Missouri.

John McBride was re-elected president. F. H. Penna, vice president, and Patrick McBride, secretary-treasurer. W. B. Wilson of Pennsylvania, W. C. Webb of Kentucky, Cameron Miller of Ohio and J. A. Woodford of Illinois, were elected members of the executive board. Wilson is the only new man chosen.

IN SENATE AND HOUSE.

House Republicans Refuse to Vote and Force an Adjournment.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Mr. Reed held the house at bay for an hour and a half yesterday on a motion to discharge the warrant issued to the sergeant-at-arms during the fight over the contested election cases to arrest absentees. The Republicans, under his leadership, refused to vote, and the Democrats, being unable to muster a quorum, yielded to an adjournment. The Democrats fear that this move on the part of Mr. Reed is in pursuance of a carefully formulated plan to force the constant attendance of a Democratic quorum hereafter. The Republicans deny that any such plan has been agreed upon. If such a scheme were carried into effect the Democrats say they will have ample time to transact their routine business before the senate disposes of the tariff bill.

The agreement made on Tuesday went into effect yesterday, and from 1 o'clock until 5 the tariff bill was under discussion, and Senators Hale of Maine and Peffer of Kansas spoke against it. The time of the senate from 12 to 1 and from 5 to 6 (when it went into executive session) was taken up in a consideration of the urgent deficiency bill, but without reaching any conclusion in regard to it.

A Faith Curist's Will Broken.

PITTSBURG, April 12.—By the verdict of a jury in common pleas by the will of the late John T. Rich has been broken. The verdict was in favor of the children of the deceased, who contested the will, and the trial showed many peculiarities of the deceased. He had written several tracts and books on faith cure and was a firm believer in it. The case was vigorously fought and will at once be taken to the supreme court. The deceased left an estate valued at from $50,000 to $60,000. He was one of the most peculiar characters in this county.

To Appeal from Judge Jenkins' Decision.

MILWAUKEE, April 12.—The members of the Jenkins' investigation committee left the city yesterday. From the expressions of the members of the committee it is not believed that there will be two reports. Attorney Harper, representing the labor chiefs, is making arrangements for an appeal from Judge Jenkins' decision to the circuit court of appeals, and from there it is believed that it will be carried to the United States supreme court.

Many Farms in the Sheriff's Hands.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., April 12.—The financial depression among the Chester county farmers was never worse than it is just at present. Sheriff Ingram has announced his quarterly sale, and he has a score of properties, nearly all of which are farms, on his list. Since announcing the list he has seized a half dozen more properties, all farms.

Cremated with Her Babe.

FARGO, N. D., April 12.—Mrs. Lewis Larson and her 1-year-old baby, at Wild Rice, twelve miles south, were burned to death yesterday. The indications are that the baby's dress caught fire from the stove and the mother was enveloped by the flames in endeavoring to extinguish them.

A Deserted Woman's Suicide.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 12.—Sarah Carter, a buxom young country woman, threw herself in front of a Central railroad passenger train at McPherson barracks and was killed. Her lover, Louis Norwood, a private soldier, had deserted her and gone to Baltimore.

Deserted by a Horse.

CHICAGO, April 12.—A sand train on the Northern Pacific was thrown from the track by running over a horse, William Andrews and James Donohue, brakemen, were instantly killed.

The Weather.

Clearing; cold north winds, but a slight rise in temperature.

The Gaylord Mine Disaster Inquest.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 12.—The coroner's inquest over the victims of the Gaylord mine disaster was begun at Plymouth yesterday. About a dozen witnesses were examined, most of whom were company officials. They all testified that in their opinion the mine was not a dangerous one, and that the company never authorized their employees to rob the pillars. Deputy Coroner Perkins is presiding at the inquest, and the jury is composed of old and experienced miners.

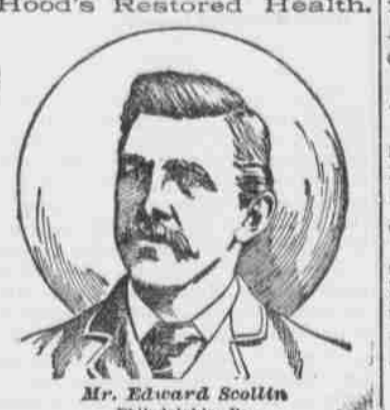

An Engineer's Fatal Mistake.

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., April 12.—In a freight train wreck A. Bentlin, brakeman, was instantly killed, the fireman, J. W. Tucker, had both legs broken, Al Phillips, brakeman, was injured so that he died soon after, and two tramps were seriously injured. The engineer thought he was on the main track when he was on a switch and ran the train off the end of the switch down an embankment.

Head and Arms Seemed on Fire

A Sunstroke Followed by Nervous Prostration

Hood's Restored Health.

Mr. Edward Scollin Philadelphia, Pa.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'Gentlemen—On August 10, I was taken to St. Joseph's hospital unconscious from the heat; my temperature was 106°. I remained in the hospital two weeks; I was unable to work for four weeks after that, but then felt compelled to turn in, as I have a wife and five children. I soon began to feel as though undergoing continuous shocks from an electric battery.

Every Nerve and Fibre of my body seemed in a constant state of quivering agitation and tremulousness. Heat flashed from the calves of my legs up through my thighs and body; my left arm and hand felt as though on fire, and my head ached as if it would split when I stooped down. I had great pains in my back around the base of the spine. I continued to stick to my work, feeling that if I must again go down I would do so struggling for my family.

I have always been athletic, but I had lost all appetite, and my strength failed me; I was on the point of giving up. I had read much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, and concluded to give it a trial. Before I had taken half a bottle my appetite became so voracious that I would be compelled to eat between meals.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Sarsaparilla has now fully restored my strength and general health. That terrible nervousness is entirely gone. I feel as hearty and vigorous as ever. The pains in my back have greatly decreased." EDWARD SCOLLIN, 1522 Ogden Street, Philadelphia.
