SIFTING A REPORT!

Both Sides of an Almshouse Altercation.

SOURCE OF THE TROUBLE.

Mr. Fogel Says a Name of an Undertaker Made the Official in Charge of the Almshouse Very Angry and Abusive. Countercharge of Abuse.

There was considerable talk in town after the funeral of John Fogel yesterday over a report of an altercation which a relative of the deceased was said to have had with Dr. O'Hara, the physician at the almshouse. Like all other reports, this one went the rounds with lightning rapidity and by the time it acquired a pretty general circulation it was badly twisted from its original shape and some people got the notion that something very rotten was going on at the almshouse.

The shape in which the report was first received by the public was that the publishers to detail a reporter to look into the matter and the facts given below were gleaned from the representatives of both sides.

The Fogel side of the story is that the deceased had not lived with his family for several years and when taken ill about a week ago he sought admission to the almshouse at Schuylkill Haven. He died there on Monday morning. The body was claimed by the family and given a burial here yesterday. While arrangements were being made for the funeral an insurance agent called upon the widow and told her that to make collection of the insurance due upon the death of the husband a certificate of death from the physician last in attendance would be required. Mrs. Fogel's son went to Schuylkill Haven and requested a certificate from Dr. O'Hara. The son says the doctor asked what undertaker had charge of the body and when told he became very much angered, saying in the words of Fogel, Jr., "O'Hara should have had that funeral. You people come to us and ask favors, but never make any return. Give me two dollars and you can have the certificate."

Fogel says he was so much disconcerted by the doctor's demeanor that he left the place, taking with him the certificate without the signature required.

This was the story as it left its original source, but by the time it secured general circulation it was embellished with the statement that Dr. O'Hara had refused to give the certificate because his brother in Shenandoah was not given charge of the funeral. This embellishment Mr. Fogel himself repudiates. The certificate was withheld because the fee was not paid, but the abuse he received was on account of the selection of the undertaker.

Dr. O'Hara being absent from town could not be seen, but a letter written by him to Poor Director Derr answered the purpose. In this letter Dr. O'Hara says that Mr. Fogel, Jr., "was very contemptible. He wanted the certificate made out for nothing and would not even promise to give anything for it. Everybody pays $2 and anybody able to insure is able to pay for the doctor's certificate."

When told of the doctor's statement young Fogel said he asked for the certificate like a man and had no occasion to give abuse, and did not give any, except that he lost patience after the doctor became so exasperated when told the name of the undertaker.

As far as the insurance is concerned, Fogel said "the family will not bother about it. The amount due is only fourteen dollars and it would hardly be worth while to add the two dollars fee to the expenses already incurred."

Poor Director Derr stated to-day that he had no official information on the matter in addition to Dr. O'Hara's letter, but that so far as the demand for the fee was concerned it was perfectly proper. The sum is always charged and does not go to the doctor, but to the county.

A Quir Wedding.

Tom Hall and Miss Louisa Taylor were married on Saturday evening, last, by Rev. J. Proude of the Primitive Methodist church. Daniel Minnick was the groomsmen and Miss Jane Hall the bridesmaid. The ceremony took place at the bride's home and the announcement was withheld on account of her serious illness. Mr. and Mrs. Hall will take possession of a comfortably furnished home to-morrow.

To Bar Out Scalpers.

It is said that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will discard the old method of stamping tickets, and will punch the year and day clear through the tickets by means of powerful stencils. This is done to keep scalpers and others from altering the date and thus extending the limit of mileage books and excursions tickets. A peculiar feature is that the month will not appear. Every thing is to be reckoned in days of the year, 1st, 5th, or 9th, as the case may be. Following the day stamp is the final figure of the year, '4,' which will remain until next January.

POLITICAL PARAGRAPHS.

Brief References to Movements by the Schuylkill Politicians.

Hon. Patrick Conry is said to be seeking the Democratic nomination for the Legislature in this district. Mr. Conry would no doubt make a very strong candidate. He served two terms in the Legislature several years ago and has been a member of the local School Board for many years.

M. E. Doyle, of the News, is getting himself in shape to make a fight for either the upper or lower branch of the Legislature. It is feared he has selected the wrong year to make a fight against a Republican. This is a Republican year, M. E.

It is now almost certain that Hon. J. J. Coyle, of Mahanoy City, will receive the unanimous nomination for Senator in this district from the Republicans, leaving the legislative field in the First district free for Major J. E. Finney.

It has been suggested that the fat and good natured lumber dealer, Charles E. Titman, would fill the bill to a T as Sheriff of this county. We do not doubt it, but Mr. Titman's business interests are so large that we hardly think he could give any time to a political position. He is made of the stuff that makes good Sheriffs.

"Billy" McCarthy's boom for Sheriff has not been heard of lately. Perhaps he is waiting until the snow disappears and he can see how the land lies.

In the Second district no one is more frequently mentioned for the Legislature among Republicans than Hon. D. D. Phillips, of Gordon.

Some ardent friends of Col. M. P. Fowler would like to see him State Senator. Were the Colonel ten years younger we believe he would consent to run. He would make a rattling good fight and he honestly believe could carry this Democratic district with a flourish. He did it when he was a candidate for Prothonotary.

Both Scott and Davis have many warm friends in Shenandoah. If either makes the nomination for Sheriff on the Republican ticket it will put the best Democrat in the county on his mettle to beat either one.

Hon. Thomas J. Higgins is making a vigorous fight for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff and is meeting with unexpected encouragement. Tom, when in the Legislature, made many lasting friends among the Republicans who would like to see him successful.

Some friends of ex-Supervisor D. H. Llewellyn are urging him to let his name go before the next Republican county convention for Poor Director.

MR. BEDDALL RESIGNS.

Gives Up a Responsible Position He Held for Many Years.

Mr. S. A. Beddall, of town, has resigned from the position of land agent and mining engineer for the Gilbert and Shearer Estates in Shenandoah and Gilberton. A position he has ably filled for twenty-three years. He knew the colliery workings and the surface land lines of the estates thoroughly. It is understood that the severance of the connection comes from Mr. Beddall's suggestion and the officials of the estates parts with his valuable services with great reluctance. The resignation will take effect on May 1st. Mr. Beddall has not decided upon his future, but as he is too young to retire to an inactive life we may expect to soon hear from him in some other important field. He will remain in Shenandoah for the present.

A WOMAN ATTACKED.

Mrs. Szlupas Suffers Indignities on a Public Street.

OFFENDERS ARRESTED!

A Crowd of Lithuanian and Polish Boys Threw Snow Balls at the Woman and Addressed Shameful Epithets to Her. Five of Them Arrested.

Mrs. Louisa Szlupas, wife of Dr. John Szlupas and who has attained considerable notoriety of late in connection with her husband, through their associations with the Andrakaitis funeral and the charges against the borough authorities, was the victim of a disgraceful assault on West Coal street yesterday.

Mrs. Szlupas visited some friends on Coal street and when she was leaving the house several boys, ranging between 15 and 17 years of age, subjected her to most outrageous insults. Not only did they call her a "mule" and "devil," but applied other epithets in the Polish and Lithuanian languages of a more shameful character and stoned her with snowballs.

Mrs. Szlupas recognized several of her assailants and proceeded at once to Justice Williams' office, where warrants were issued for the arrest of the boys. They were Joseph Katsunski, George Binkus, Anthony Szukoski, Joseph and Peter Lutwens.

Two of the boys admitted applying shameful epithets to Mrs. Szlupas, but the rest stubbornly protested their innocence in the face of all proof; and not one of the boys would admit snowballing the woman. They charged each other with that part of the outrage.

Each boy was committed for trial in default of $500 bail and the cases will be pushed to the full extent of the law.

UNDER A CLOUD.

A Druggist Clerk Shakes Mahanoy City Dust From His Feet.

MAHANAY CITY, April 12th.—E. K. Beans, until last night manager of James Hagenbuch's drug store, has left town under a cloud. He was accused by Mr. Hagenbuch last evening with the theft of $100. Beans admitted the charge, made restitution and departed this morning for Philadelphia. The clerk arrived in Mahanoy City about four months ago. He was not of extremely possessing appearance, in fact he looked much like the picture of Anarchist Herr Most, with his full fat face and heavy beard, but he drew many admirers about him by accounts of the large money he had made at different times in horse racing and of the big stable of fast trotters he supported at Grassland and Gloucester.

Mr. Hagenbuch told a reporter this morning that he had suspected something wrong for some time but disliked to accuse Mr. Beans. The store had a good patronage but receipts were small and it became necessary to reduce the clerk's salary from $75 to forty dollars per month. It might incidentally be remarked that out of this amount, Beans paid his board and supported a family in Philadelphia.

To detect the clerk, Mr. Hagenbuch sent several of his friends to make purchases. They reported that the clerk failed to ring up the amount on the cash register, and on looking over the sales book the proprietor found no record of such cash receipts.

Last evening when the proprietor made the accusation he caused Officer Hasset to come upon the scene. When the clerk caught sight of the burly blue coat, he became much disturbed, walked up and down the store occasionally jerking a whisker from his bushy beard. He asked Mr. Hagenbuch what he thought would cover the amount of his pecuniations and when the proprietor named a figure he pulled a wallet from his pocket and handed over the amount.
