By all means the Kentucky gentlemen in the Breckinridge case should get up a duel. They have made such a very favorable impression right along and a little bloodshed would be so gentlemanly, sah.

A RENTUCKY woman recently sued a railroad for killing her husband and her horse. The jury, who knew both, assessed damages at one hundred and fifty dollars for loss of the horse and one cent for that of the husband. The obstinute eleventh juror was on hand, as usual. He protested against allowing the cent for the busband, but finally gave in.

Chicago is in the throse of a faith-cure revival. One of the "cured" gives testimony that a leg, withered since infancy, and a lock and a half shorter than the other, was miraculously lengthened, filled with blood and life and made as strong as the other. The man of whom the song says that "one of his legs was longer than it really ought to be" will not fail to take note of his present opportunity in Chicago.

Six years ago this spring the great blizzard swept over this latitude; and the following autumn the Democracy was driven from power in Congress. The blizzard has come again, and all signs indicate | skirts very soft materials, such as eashmere that history will do some effective repeat- and henriette, have retired into the back ing next fall. There is nothing handler to have about the house at this time of year than a well constructed political almanac.

THE New York Tribune says: "The Solid South, which is now in the saddle and riding rough-shod over the ruined industries of the nation, defiantly proclaims: "Yes, the North conquered the South in the Civil War, but time at last makes all things even. The South will now destroy by logislation all the magnificent industries which have made the North rich and prosperous." It is an industrial war of revenge.

THE House of Representatives a day or two ago passed another deficiency bill, being No. 5 since the convening of the pres head with a charge of bird shot. The utter hopelessness that would characterize any search for a penalty to adequately fit this boy's crime is enough to torture Impressive Services in the Nathe brain and heart of the intelligent citizen. The thing is beyond the scope of any established code. But, so far as the law can go in the case, it should go promptly, regardless of the years of the offender, which were certainly enough, as his actions after the tragedy proved, to give him a comprehending sense of how criminal was his carelessness.

MISS POLLAND, now famous throughout. the length and breadth of the land, ossesses to such an extent the fordness for dress that it amounts to almost an eccentricity. All her gloves, shoes and corsets are made to order, and have been since she was a girl living at home and being supported by her father's earnings as a harness maker. In these details of dress she is intensely ridiculously particular, and the tailors and shoemakers of Washington, probably sided by a lively imagination, tell very interesting stories of this characteristic. A G street shoe man, who claims to have made her shoes during one of her previous stays in Washington, tells, with appropriate gestures and a convincing manner, of how she at one time threw a pair of shoes at his manly form and refused to take them back because they were lined with light satin of first nstead of yellow satin, as she had or-

MOIRE IS KING THIS YEAR.

It Appears In All Colors and Is Used For About Everything.

There is no question as to the supremacy of more this year. Its popularity five years ago was as nothing to its present vogue ago was as nothing to its present vague.
It appears in all colors and is utilized for trimming, for entire gowns, for ties, capes, hats—in fact, for everything. It is combined with plain slik, satin and woolen materials and is particularly favored, espetional Senate Chamber.

THE PRESIDENT A PARTICIPANT.

Accompanied by All the Members of His Cablnot Save Secretary Lamont the Chief Mugistrate Pays His Tribute of Respect to the Dead Senator.

Washington, April 17.—When the sen-ate reconvened at 3.30 yesterday afternoon, after the recess taken out of respect to the late Senator Vance, the chamber pre-sented a metamorphosed appearance. The chairs of the senators had been crowded more closely together and additional seating capacity was obtained by bringing in a large number of light folding chairs and placing them in every possible space. Large upholstered arm chairs had been placed in the semi-circle space facing the vice president's dais, those for the family of the deceased statesmen and invited @dests being on the left and for the president and other officials on the right.

On the clock's desk was a massive floral piece, representing a tall column, com-posed of the dark copper colored leaves of the gallx, a North Carolina mountain plant, while at the foot of the shaft was the emblem of peace, the palm branch, while twined around it was a wreath of la France roses. This was the tribute from the deceased statesman's colleagues in the senate. In the recess behind the vice president was a tall waving palm, flanked on either side by North Carolina firs, banked in the corners of the chamber, and and at the foot of each pilaster were palms

The galleries were crowded with a distinguished audience long before the hour of 3:30, ladies largely preponderating. In the front bench of the ladies' gallery was

At 8:30 the casket was borne from the marble room by nine Capital policemen in uniform and laid before the vice president's rostrum. The lid was hidden by a mass of flowers, chiefly white roses, tied with broad purple ribbon. Conspicuous by its beauty and size and by its solitary grandeur was a single American beauty rose fastened to the head of the casket. When the active pall bearers had deposited their burden a number of pines were brought in and grouped about the form of the dead senator. Everywhere was the of the dead senator. Everywhere was the pine, seeming to bring the pungent frag-rance of the North Carolina mountains into the senate of the United States. A few minutes after the family of Senater Vance entered, and soon after committees of the senate and house appointed to attend the funeral entered. Then came the honorary pall bearers, who were seated at the side of the casket, facing the audi-

Resolutions of respect to the memory of the distinguished North Caro-lina statesman were unanimously adopted. The house, as a body, participated in the funeral ceremontes in the senate, after which it adjourned as a further mark of respect. Appropriate resolutions were also adopted in honor of the memory of General Henry W. Slocum, the gallant Union general, formerly a member of the house, who died in Brooklyn, N. Y., last

Charges Against Ex-Officials.

LANCASTER, Pa., April 17.—The excita-ment in political circles incident to the cauvassing of the vote of the Republican primary election was heightened yester-day by the action of Judge Bruhaker, who directed the district attorney to prepare indictments against ex-Prothonitary Lewis S. Hartman and his deputy, John B. Miller, for conspiring to after the records of the court. The affair grows out of the war made by Judge Bruhaker on illegal fee grabbing and the subsequent changing of accounts in the books of the prothonitary.

A Careless Hallroader Pleads Guilty. PITTSHURG, April 17.—Joseph F. Dodds, who caused the wreck at Bessenier, on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, was alowed to plend guilty yesterday of negligence as a railroad employe, and the indictinents for murder and manslanghter were allowed to be nolls prossed. The wreck occurred on the night of Dec 19, 1866. Two massengers were killed and twelve injured. Dodds will be sentenced old board to turn over the office at noon today. The order was obeyed, and is a complete victory for Governor Waite.

There will be no further contention in the courts or by force, and the question is absolutely and peaceably settled. As the present police force has been active in its support of the old board no doubt exists that it will be satirely reorganized and the police officer supported by Pomiliate. the police officers supplimited by Populists. It is the general opinion that Governor Waits seried within the provisions of the law, and that the opposition on the part of the old board to complying with his demand for its resignation existed purely because of the personal and political ad-vantages the positions offered. There have been no demonstrations of any nature, and the city is absolutely peaceful.

Alleged Illegal Dredgers Arrested. MILLVILLE, N. J., April 17.—A boat load of deputy sheriffs and constables, all heavily armed, left here on a Philadelphia tugboat bound for the syster beds at For-tescne. They took with them warrants for the arrest of a large number of the dredgers, who are accused by the owners of riparian rights of trespass on their beds Information from the sent of trouble is very meager, but it is understood that no less than twenty five arrests were made. The dredgers claim that the arrests are Hegal and threaten to bring counter suit for damages. Everybody concerned in the affair is at high tension, and trouble is feared.
