HEADQUARTERS
REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE,
Philadelphia, Feb. 24, '94.

To the Republican Electors of Pennsylvania:

I am directed by the Republican State Committee to announce that the Republicans of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in State convention at Harrisburg, Pa., on Wednesday, May 23, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the following purpose, to wit:

For the nomination of candidates respectively for Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, two members of Congress from the state at large, Auditor General, Secretary of Internal Affairs, and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

Attention is called to the rule adopted at the State Convention of 1893 providing for the basis of representation as follows:

Representations in future state conventions shall be based upon the vote cast at the Presidential or gubernatorial election immediately preceding, one delegate being allotted to each legislative district for over 2,000 Republican votes and an additional delegate for a fraction exceeding 1,000 votes, each district to have at least one delegate.

By order of the Republican State Com.
B. F. GIBKESON, Chairman.

Attest: JERE B. REK,
A. D. MILLER, Secretary.

The representatives to which each district of the county is entitled to is as follows:

First district, 1; Second district, 1; Third district, 1; Fourth district, 3.

BE CAREFUL.

The Democratic majority of the Borough Council may not realize that the medicine it is steadily administering to the minority is taking effect on the citizens of both parties, and if the doctoring is continued it will not long before the majority will be obliged to swallow a dose of its own physic, as the Democratic majority at Washington was obliged to gulp the Hood dose. Even one of the majority has stated that the last meeting of Council "sickened" him, and he was tired of the way the body transacts business. As an honest confession is good for the soul we will look for a change.

Never in the history of the borough has there been a majority in Council which has resorted to such clamorous tactics as the present one. Partisanship is drawn out to the smallest detail, and the eight Democratic members appear to be so thoroughly bound to support each other on all measures as to make the minority representation useless.

We will admit that when the Citizens party had the majority in Council it did many things which we criticized, but in no instance was there exhibited the clamor which appears today. The Citizens' majority was frequently united and stood firm on some measures which did not meet with the approval of some people of both parties, yet they were not so ill-bounded and riveted that nothing could split them, and on more than one occasion Citizens members voted with the Democrats. Judging from the results up to date there is nothing within the power of reason that can induce or compel the present majority to do that. It seems to be understood that when one Democratic member declares himself in favor of any measure the other seven must stand by him to win, unless the member declaring himself shows a willingness to compromise.

The natural conclusion to be drawn from this is that the borough really has but eight Councilmen; that the eight seem to understand each other thoroughly before the meetings and the only chance the minority has to carry anything by motion is to suggest something which is entirely in accordance with the inclinations of the majority.

This was clearly shown in at least one case before the Council at the last meeting when Mr. Straughn raised a point that a matter upon which a committee had not reported could not be re-committed. The Democrats were in a quandary. One of their committeemen made a report and another corrected him by stating that the committee was not ready to report. Matters became badly mixed, but it was quite evident that the Democrats had determined that the matter should not be acted upon that night. All the Democrats finally pulled themselves together and stood upon the ground that the committee had not met to formulate a report and therefore still retained jurisdiction over the matter, and yet in face of this a motion to re-commit was put and carried by the eight Democratic votes.

Some may claim that the question at issue was of minor importance, but small as it may seem or be this action proved with all the force which would attend it in a matter of the greatest importance that the constituents of the minority members can hope for no relief at the hands of the Borough Council if the majority members do not wish to give it to them and that wish is dependent upon the whim of the hour.

This is entirely wrong and far from what was expected of some of the Democratic members who declared that they became Councilmen as representatives of the people at large and not of any party or clique. It is upon these members that most of the odium falls, because they must bear the additional charge that they lack the courage to stand by their convictions.

We sincerely hope, for the sake of the community at large, and the majority members in particular, that they will realize the error of their ways and be guided hereafter more by the duty they owe the people than that which they feel they owe their party.

Steamer Sunk, Four Drowned.

MONTREY, Cal., April 23.—The Pacific Coast Steamship company's steamer Los Angeles, bound north from Newport, Cal., and way ports to San Francisco, ran on the rocks at Point San Lighthouse, thirty miles south of Monterey. The steamer sank within ten minutes, and the passengers and crew took to the boats. Three boats were launched and the shore, and two other boats reached the shore, and two other passengers and members of the crew were met and rescued by the steamer Eureka. It is learned that the captain, who had retired, had given orders to have the third mate call him when a certain number of revolutions of the wheel had occurred. The mate failed to do so and the steamer went upon the rocks. Four dead bodies have been recovered, and Captain H. D. Leland, of the Los Angeles, is reported to be in a critical condition.

Pennsylvania's Heavy Fire Losses.

HARRISBURG, April 23.—The business of fire and marine insurance was very unprofitable in Pennsylvania last year. Had it not been for their interest earnings and accumulations of surplus insurance companies Luper says some of our best and most conservative companies would not have been able to stand the heavy drafts made upon them on account of fire losses. In 1893 the excess in losses over income was $1,847,372.91. Mr. Luper says the provisions of the act of 1870 prohibiting unincorporated associations from doing a fire business ought to be extended to cover all classes of insurance business.

Fatal Shooting Over "Crab."

CAMDEN, N. J., April 23.—John Nash, of 811 Kaighn avenue, was shot through the left eye and brain by Edward Willis, of Baxter street, this city. Nash will die, and Willis has been arrested. Both men are colored, and with a number of companions spent Saturday night in "shooting crab" in the Blue Anchor hotel. About 8 o'clock yesterday morning Willis "went broke" and snatched the stakes, amounting to $1.50, and attempted to escape. Nash, who was banker, objected, a fight ensued, and Willis drew a revolver and shot Nash.

A Double Murderer Captured.

PINEVILLE, Ky., April 23.—The man Howard Nolan, captured at Vancouver, Wash., and said to be wanted at this place for murder is thought to be John H. Nolan, of Harlan county, who killed two men near Harlan court house about three years ago, and who was arrested, but later on jumped his bond. Nolan belongs to a prominent family in Harlan county, and is quite a young man.

Short $14,000 in His Accounts.

TRENTON, April 23.—Ex-Judge Lansing, as special master, has filed a report showing E. K. Church, receiver of the Trenton Woolen company, to be short $14,000, of which amount $6,000 is due the First National bank, Trenton. Church was until recently a prominent local official of South Orange.

Not a Candidate for Governor.

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 23.—Hon. Eckley B. Coke announces that he is not a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.

KELLY'S ARMY COMING.

An Enthusiastic Greeting for the Men at Neola, Ia.

CITIZENS ANXIOUS TO AID THEM.

Flags Flying from Every Farm House Along the Line of March, While Crowds at Every Cross Roads Express Heartiest Sympathy.

NEOLA, Ia., April 23.—Kelly and his industrial army ended their first day's march from Council Bluffs here at 6 o'clock last evening and immediately went into camp in a grove just east of the town. The entry into Neola was a triumphal march. Almost every man, woman and child of the 1,100 inhabitants went out to greet the army. Flags were borne, and the cheers were lusty as the 1,800 men tramped down the town's main street to the stratus of two country bands. The stores and vacant buildings of this place were thrown wide open, and the weary men were offered all available shelter.

The start from Camp Weston was made at 8 o'clock. Hundreds of people had gone out from Council Bluffs and Omaha to see the beginning of the long overland march, and a dozen wagons, heavily laden with provisions, awaited the moving of the column. As soon as breakfast was over and blankets strapped the companies fell into line and in step with the energetic thumping of a bass drummer, tramped down the hill upon the camp was situated, and the march to Washington was begun.

The day was a perfect one and rapid time was made along the smooth, well beaten roads. From every farm house flags were flying, and at every cross road lines of gaily decorated wagons and carriages awaited the coming of the army. The little town of Underwood was reached about noon, and a sumptuous repast was served by the enthusiastic villagers. When the meal was over and the innumerable speeches done the march was resumed amid the energetic cheering of the crowd that was gathered. On every hand the deepest sympathy for Kelly and his men was expressed, and farmers and townsmen were eager to supply the wants of the Commonwealers. Neola is with Kelly to a man, and the condemnation of the action of the railroads in refusing transportation is as violent here as at Council Bluffs and Omaha.

As an ironical expression of the feeling regarding the calling out of the Iowa militia the citizens here formed a company of little boys and girls to greet the advent of the army, the badges and banners of the infantile brigade bearing the inscription "Neola Militia." Throughout the day there was no scene of disturbance or disorder, and the plan of seizing a train has been abandoned. The railroads entering Council Bluffs will not, however, run trains in this vicinity until the army is well off their routes.

Today the Commonwealers are marching to Avoca, eighteen miles away, and if promises made are fulfilled 100 wagons will be provided for transportation. General Kelly said last night that whether the men ride or walk they will move steadily forward for Des Moines. There the army expects to secure a train for Chicago and at Chicago the men believe they will be well provided with transportation to the east.

THE MEN FROM BOSTON.

Over Four Hundred Unemployed Followed Fitzgerald to Washington.

BOSTON, April 23.—There were fully 25,000 people on Boston common yesterday to witness the departure of the Boston delegation of the unemployed to Washington. There was no disorder at any time, but when Morrison J. Swift mounted the improvised platform the crowd began to surge forward until the rail affair was broken to fragments. Swift then continued his speech from the band stand, which is generally forbidden to speakers. At the conclusion of his speech a letter addressed to President Cleveland was adopted by a mighty yell. It calls attention to the deplorable condition of the people, and intimates that harsh treatment of those representing the unemployed would surely meet with just retribution. The letter concludes:

"This is no time to prate about senatorial dignity. It is the time for those who make laws to listen to the commands of those who make them lawbreakers. You can endeavor to have the people provided with proper food while in Washington. We who remain at home will await your action attentively."

The people who had come to see the army depart, however, were disappointed. The major portion of those who had been enrolled had been instructed to stop at Roxbury Crossing for General Fitzgerald. When Fitzgerald left for Dedham, the first stop, he was followed by only forty-five men, but at Roxbury Crossing there were 400 others waiting, who joined the line of march.

THE MARCH ON FREDERICK.

The Mayor Is Preparing a Frosty Reception for Coxe's Army.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., April 23.—After a three days' stop in this place the Coxe cohorts have started for Frederick. There will be one stop at Boonesboro, making the camp at Frederick tomorrow. The start was made at 10 o'clock this morning. The Commonweal will march direct down the National pike after leaving Frederick. The road by the National pike will throw the burden of maintaining the army on Upright Clarksburg, Middletown and Gaithersburg, and relieve other towns that have been nearly swarming the coming of the Commonweal. It is possible that after reaching Rockville there will be a further change of route, the army going south through the little settlement of Potomac, near the Great Falls, and marching into Washington from the west by way of the conduit road.

Brown, in speaking of the proposed camp in the arsenal grounds, said that he had concluded the grounds around the foot of Washington monument would be more convenient and appropriate, and announced that he would telegraph Colonel Reddons to make a request for the grounds on the secretary of war. Mayor Fleming, of Frederick, is preparing a frosty reception for the army. He has announced that no public meeting will be allowed unless in a hall, and that there shall be no parade on the street. Brown says that he would like to see the mayor stop a procession of American citizens with the American flag at its head.

The Smaller Armies.

BALTIMORE, April 23.—The northern, or Jones wing of the Coxe Commonweal army, nineteen strong, in command of Division Marshal Olinos, marched into Orangeville, a small village a quarter of a mile from Baltimore, at 5 o'clock last evening with a great hurrah and went into camp. A colored man by the name of Nathan Diggs lives in the place and he cheerfully gave the division the use of the spacious lawn, barn and wagonshed, which was called Camp Diggs. When it became known that the men were coming in on the Philadelphia road great crowds of people flocked to Herring Run and cheered the men all the way into camp. Three recruits joined here last night, and efforts to recruit here will be active as long as they remain.

HARTFORD, April 23.—The Connecticut contribution to Coxe's army is booked to start from Bristol tomorrow morning and expects to reach this city Wednesday or Thursday. Other detachments, it is hoped, will join here, and Leader George Sweetland will devise means to continue the journey to Washington.

WILMINGTON, O., April 23.—Colonel Galvin, of Frye's industrial army, with 210 Commonwealers, is stranded here, the railway companies refusing to carry them further. The regiment is in camp at the fair grounds.

RICHMOND, Ind., April 23.—J. H. Swift, of Terre Haute, an advance man for the industrialists, is here to raise recruits for Kelly's army. He expects to have 300 in two days.

THE DALTONS WERE NOT IN IT.

Officers Fired Upon a House in Which Were Innocent Persons.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 23.—The Associated Press correspondent at Arkansas City, Kan., who was sent to Oklahoma to secure the facts in the alleged encounter between the United States deputy marshals and the so-called Dalton gang, reports that the stories of the wholesale killing were untrue, and that the Dalton gang were at no time in the fight. When the firing began the Daltons were three miles from the Miller house, on the ranch of Ed Dause. When the firing was heard the Daltons saddled their horses and escaped. From Monday afternoon until Wednesday morning the Miller house was closely watched by the officers, who fired some eighty shots into the house and received in return four shots from the Winchester of the occupants, which consisted of the two Miller brothers, the wife of one of the brothers, a little girl and a German hired man. Wednesday morning Mrs. Miller, in company with the hired man, went to the barn and saddled two horses, upon which the Millers escaped. On returning to the house the German was shot through the heart. The little girl was shot through the shoulder.
