CRISP SCORES COXEY.

How the Speaker Squelched the Commonweal Army Leader.

THE REMEDY FOR EXISTING EVILS.

Mr. Crisp Reminds the Ohio Farmer That Reforms Can Not be Brought About by Intimidation Through Self Constituted Leaders, but Through the Ballot.

WASHINGTON, May 2.-The details of the w Ashinoron, Many 2.—The details of the interview which Mr. Coxey had with Speaker Crisp Monday night have just been learned. To the former's request for a suspension of the regulations so as to permit the contemplated meeting on the Capitol steps the speaker replied that while he did not remember the exact terms while he did not remember the exact terms of the law, he doubted that he had any authority to grant the permission asked. "But," he added, "if I have the au-thority I will not grant the permission. What reasons have you to offer in support of your request to have the operation of the law suspended?"

Coxey asserted that they had came here to represent millions of unemployed and starving peopls.

"Then what is your purpose? What do

Coxey said that they came in the name of the people to demand legislation for their relief, and then entered into a long atatement about his being the representa-tive of the people.

"How are you the representative of the people" the speaker asked. "By what authority do you undertake to represent 65,000,000 of people of this country. The people's representatives are the 356 repre sentatives elected to congress and vested with authority under the provisions of our government.

Coxey objected that congress did not

Then, said the speaker, "ye ar remedy is at the ballot box. Under our system of government the government inelf is the people, subject to f requent changes when the people indicate at the ballot box that they want a change, and you appear to be a self constituted representative of the people.

Coxey replied that the appeal to the ballot box was too slow; that the relief demanded must be had at once.

"Do you propose to coerce congress? In what respect is your method of petition better than the old method, which is be-ing constantly availed of by the people?" Coxey held that written petitions were never regarded by congress, and that he thought his method would compel conmideration.

"Do you expect to intimidate congress! Do you think you can frighten any repre-sentative into voting against his convic-

Coxey stated that he did not know, but he believed it was the duty of the government to appropriate money for the em-ployment of the unemployed. He said they could not wait for the opportunity to elect men to congress representing the people, and that they would have to have relief, even if it were secured through revolution.
"Your proposition," said the speaker.

"would be, if carried out, subversive of the government. Our institutions would be overthrown, and there would be no stability of government."

Coxey still persisted, and said that his army had a right to assemble in the White House grounds.

The speaker replied that he would not grant the permission sought; that no reason had been given which would warrant it; that if permission were given to Coxes it could not be refused to any one for any purpose; that the proposed method of petition meant an attempt at intimidation or it meant nothing; and that if the theory of public ownership was to be accepted as giving any assemblage the right to take possession or occupy government property it would apply to the treasury and its vaults as well.

BALTIMORE, May 2.—Champion George Dixon, who is showing in this city, is highly pleased to think that the backers of the "Kentucky Rosebud" have covered his deposit of $1,000 to make a match Jack Lynch, who represents Dixon, said: "It is all nonsense to say the Rosebud knocked George out. When the two met in the ring the Rosebud asked George to make a funny set-to, and then when he saw a chance tried to make a reputation Lauer's CILEBRATED LAGER for himself by throwing Dixon down. There will be no trouble now if those other people will come to terms."

Breckinridge Confident.

Washington, May 2.—Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge, the congressman defendant in the Breckinridge-Pollard trial, said toin the Breckinridge-Pollard trial, said to-day: "I start for Lexington tomorrow morning, and will open the cauvass Sat-urday afternoon at that place. I antici-pate opposition, of course, but I am will-ling to trust the people of my district in this matter, and will cheerfully abide by their decision. I feel confident that I will be nominated and re-elected."

OFFENSIVE ECZEMA

Suffered Terribly. Doctors and Medicines Useless. Cured in Four Weeks by Cutleura.

I have a boy, fifteen years old; born in Fishkill, portrait enclosed, who had the eczema so offensive that I could not stay in the room with him. The poor boy suffered terribly. His foet we're terribly size, he could not wear any shoes, and had therefore to stay at home from school. When he put on a pair of dry stockings in the morning, they would in one hour be saturated with moistner and very offensive even in the coldest weather. The disease began to spread over his body, especially his hands became stiff and as useless as two withered sticks of wood. It would be useless for me to try to tell the suffering this boy endured. I took him to two different doctors, both gave him lots of medicine, but all to no use. He grew worse, I therefore despaired of ever having him cured. One day I saw the great benefits promised to those who would use CUTICHAR REMEMINS. I went right away to the drug store and bought them. However, I used them according to directions, and to-day I say truthfully to all the world, that my son is entirely cured, thank God and thank the discoverers of CUTICHAR REMEDIES. They cured him in four weeks as sound as a gold dellar.

RIOTING IN CLEVELAND

A May Day Demonstration Leads to Great Disorder.

THE MOB WRECKED STREET CARS.

Motormen Refused to Stop Their Cars While the Procession Passed and Were Assaulted-A Fusillade of Bullets Fired, but Nobody Seriously Hurt.

CLEVELAND, May 2.—The unemployed of Cleveland celebrated May Day with a meeting, a procession that was marked by meeting, a procession that was marked by several riotous demonstrations, and by listening to and applauding a rank an archist address on the public square when they had finished their murching. The procession was composed of between 6,000 and 10,000 men and boys, mostly foreigners. They followed a United States flag. and started in military order. They had not gone a mile, however, before the pro-cession collided with an electric car. The motorman refused to stop, and the car wa

A few minutes later another car came with pellemen on the front platform and ordered them to give way. They refused to do so, and a policeman fired his revolver into them. Many of the men drew pistols and began firing, at least 100 shots being discharged, but nobody was hurt. Some of the bullets went through the windows of a store, however, and two of the clerks had narrow escapes.

The procession was broken up tempor The procession was broken up temporarily, but the lines were reformed. Soon a third car was seen, and when the driver refused to stop he was felled with a brick, though not seriously hurt. As the procession moved up Superior street, on the return, it filled that thoroughfare from building to building. Street cars were stopped and all traffic suspended for a time. The driver of a truck who refused to take his team out of the way received a bad wound in the side of the face from an bad wound in the side of the face from an iron bolt thrown by one of the marchers.

During all these disturbances not a single arrest was made, the police evi-dently not desiring to court trouble with a mob of such an ugly temper. When the procession had returned to the square several speeches were made by Central Labor union leaders who advised the men to go home, but an auarchist finally got hold of the crowd and made a speech which started another procession. It headed out through the manufacturing district, in the eastern puri of the city, and it was feared that more violence would be commiteed, but the reports indicate that nothing more serious than the breaking of a few windows in a factory occurred.
