A Phonograph Musicale.

A Phonegraph Masicale.

The parlors of McElhenny's cafe presented a brilliant appearance last night, filled as they were with music-loving ladies and gentlemen who had called to hear Mine Host McElhenny's "best phonograph in the state" under sweet songs, enlivening band pieces and a repertoire of miscellaneous music. The party was gotten up by a few friends of Miss Tessie Stattery, of Philadelphia, who returned home this week after a sojourn of three weeks in town. It was entirely an impromptu affair, but surprised and taken on short notice as he was, Mr. McElhenny was equal to the emergency, and after manipulating his phonograph for an hour or so he set the sixteen callers down to as nice a repast as ever was offered to an appreciative party, which only proved the gentleman's efficiency as a host. We chance the remark that a more novel and enjoyable occasion has not occurred in Shenardoah for many days. The oddest part of the affair was that nearly all the gentlemen present claimed a first consin relationship to one or other of the ladies and one young fellow with a nothing-mean-about him away-in-the-future look, claimed relationship with every lady in the house. The first phonograph musicale of the season was a success, said all as they departed after midnight.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with D. E. Carr, of 1923 Harrison street, Kansas City, He is an old sufferer from inflammatory rheamatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went up into Wisconsin, and in consequence has had another attack. "It came upon me again very acute and severe," he said. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; sore to touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother in law I tried Chamberian's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and case the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did both, I have used three fifty-cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant. Thomas Tosh is working quietly but affectively in his canvas for Jury Commissioner. His vote in the next county convention will surprise some of the would-be leaders.

P. M. CONFERENCE.

The Twenty-Second Assual Session Held at Girardville.

Special to Eventual Heralds.

Girlardville, May 2.—The twenty-would-be leaders.

The Union's, ever fruitful of available political timber, has a large number of the Primitive Methodist church is be andidates for office this year. This is especially true as to those of the Democratic faith. This fact will cause considerable uneasiness among the leaders of the "unterrifled."

The Union's, ever fruitful of available of the Primitive Methodist church is being the political timber. It opened at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and will continue until next Tuesday evening.

The business transacted during the morning and afternoon sessions was of a routine character.

It is an unusual day that doesn't bring forth an aspirant for political honors, and by the time the conventions of both parties assembly available timber will be a glut upon the political market. ***

It is stated upon reliable authority—a close friend of John I. Mathias—that that gentleman has not yet fully decided to enter the field for legislative honors in

L. A. Bamberger is thinking seriously of entering the field for one of the county offices this fall. Lee has always been a staunch Republican. One thing is sure, if woman suffrage prevailed in Schuylkill county, he could be elected to any position within the gift of the people. Announce yourself, Leo, by all means. There's lots of room to stand on. ...

The result of the conventions called to elect delegates to the Republican state convention is very gratifying to the riends of "Jack" Robinson, who counts hem by the hundreds in this county.
