EARLY MORNING ARREST

A Supposed Reformed Town Citizen Arrested on a Charge of Being One of a Gang Wanted for a Number of Burglaries at Minersville.

Three officers accompanied by a handcuffed prisoner got into a carriage at the corner of Main and Coal streets shortly before seven o'clock this morning and drove hurriedly down the street and out past the outskirts of the town in the direction of Frackville.

The incident caused some comment among those who saw the handcuffs on one of the quartette, but for a time considerable mystery surrounded the affair. Some suggested the sensational idea of kidnapping.

When the true state of facts became known the surprise was greater than that which the departure had created. Three of the men who entered the carriage were Constable Bill Price, of Minersville, his brother and Constable Phillips, of town. The fourth man was Joseph Patterson, also of this place, and he was a prisoner in the custody of the others, handcuffed to one of them so as to avoid any possibility of escape.

Upon inquiry it was learned that there have been numerous burglaries and like depredations at Minersville recently. So frequent have they become the authorities at that place and the victims have made an offer of $500 reward for the arrest and conviction of the perpetrators. One of the victims has suffered to an extent that warrants him in contributing $100 to the amount offered.

The reward served as an incentive to make the officers of Minersville active, and in tracing several clues they claim to have discovered that the man they took away from town this morning is one of the gang wanted.

The arrest was a great surprise because the prisoner, although having earned a steady reputation some years ago, has for some time past been looked upon as reformed and striving to earn an honest livelihood. There are a number of town people hoping that an investigation will show that the arrest is a mistake. If such fails to be the result these people will be very much deceived.

PENCIL POINTS.

The mint julep and gin fizz are beginning to bloom.
Mr. Wilson's prediction that Congress will adjourn about July 1 seems too good to be true.

The Borough Council will hold a meeting for the transaction of general business to-night.

Criminal court is drawing a large number of our townsmen down to Pottsville this week.

Senator Peffer is said to have a soft heart. That quality has generally been credited to his head.

Taffy from the sugar planters seems to agree with Congressman Wilson. He has already stood it a week.

C. E. Titman has had a handsome porch and carriage shelter erected at his property on West Cherry street.

The case of Lawrence Keating, charged with assault upon Richard Amour with intent to kill, is before the present Grand Jury.

The Kentucky women are making a strong fight against Breckinridge's re-nomination. That would mean defeat in the North.

Nearly all the Councilmen and many of the newspaper reporters have been called to go before the Grand Jury tomorrow as witnesses in the Salupas case.

It looks now as though Coxy proposed to camp in Washington all summer, but the charges are so high he will "fold his tent" when the quarter admission fees stop pouring in.

A half car load of Hungarian immigrants arrived at the Lehigh Valley depot to-day, immediately after their arrival they were hustled down to the skating rink at the lower end of Main street.

Henry Watterson says Breckinridge's candidacy is "a strange exhibition of marvelous effrontery, wretched taste and mentally and morally oblique casuistry." That is almost as bad as some things Madeline Pollard said about the colonel.

Change of Management.
Charles Burchill to-day transferred all his claim to the cafe at the corner of Main and Coal streets, which became so popular under his management. The new proprietor is Thomas Gorman, of Girardville, a gentleman who has an extensive acquaintance throughout the county and who is said to be a man who will keep the cafe up to its present standard of excellence.

Mr. Burchill has not decided upon his course for the future. He moved his household goods temporarily to the Retovick building on South Main street to-day. He has options on several hotels in Atlantic City and went to Philadelphia this morning to negotiate.

Railway Office Abolished.
The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company has issued a circular announcing that Theodore Voorhees has resigned the office of General Manager of the company and that the office has been abolished. All officers who have been reporting to the General Manager will hereafter report to Rollin H. Wilbur, the General Superintendent. Charles E. Webster, acting Chief Engineer, has been appointed Chief Engineer.

Mickey Doyle Lost His Pass.
From the Sunday News.
By actual count there are 1,200 railroad ties in a mile. As the counting of them is a tedious matter the reader had better accept this statement as a fact.

Marriage Licenses.
Ralph Chapman and Mamie Hipp, of Mahanoy City, and Joseph B. Kleindienst and Dora M. Reidinger, of the same place, have been granted marriage licenses.

COURT NOTES.

Proceedings Before the Court at Pottsville Yesterday.

Argument was to have been made in the case of E. K. and Harry N. Becker against the Palace Theatre Company of Girardville, but when the case was called up the parties agreed to postpone it until the 21st inst. The Beekers seek to join the company and its officers from assessing the shares of stock without first making a statement of the receipts and expenditures for the past year. The Beekers claim the company can pay its obligations without an assessment.

John Barnard, of Shenandoah, has been in jail five months because he has not been able to furnish bail and a failure to pay a monthly allowance for the support of his children. Yesterday Hon. C. N. Deamun presented a petition to the court asking the prisoner's discharge. Decision was reserved.

There are over three hundred cases before the present term of Criminal Court.

The court refused to order the County Commissioners to defray the expense of a paper book to take the case of Harry Bamford, convicted of the murder of Ochs, to the Supreme Court, on the ground that the law does not provide for such an order.

Uncharitable and Unkind.

EDITOR HERALD: Just read the following and ponder: "An enterprising Cambria county newspaper is engaged in stirring up the bones of Charles R. Buckalew for Congressional purposes. We thought that cadaver was amongst the things of the past." Who would think that there lived a man with a soul so dead, so lost to decency, as to pen the lines above quoted. Hon. Charles R. Buckalew is one of Pennsylvania's honored sons. He has been United States Senator and member of Congress; has been honored by the people in various positions of trust; has been regarded by brainy men, liberal-minded men and men of all shades of politics with various positions of trust and preferment; was one of the master minds of the last Constitutional Convention and was always regarded by honest men as strictly honest, fair and kindly in all his dealings with men; above all a christian gentleman and one of the strongest men in a deliberative body this old state contains, and yet in this enlightened age, at this advanced stage of a useful life an honorable, upright, noble citizen who has been always loved by political friend and foe is calumniated and covered with vituperation by some one who is bent fit to blacken the statesman's boots. Shame on the writer! Hon. Galusha A. Grou was resurrected from retirement last spring and sent back to Congress by nearly two hundred thousand majority. He was put up by Republicans and received the approval of the Democratic votes. Was there one opposition paper in the state mean enough to publish an item of Mr. Grou such as that we quote above? Not one. In justice to the other papers published here I will state that the vituperation was emitted from last Saturday's Republican.

Pottsville, Pa., May 7, 1894.

"Pen-elope Ann."

The Milwaukee Sentinel says: "Pen-elope Ann" is a decided hit. The large audience attested the approval of the production by continuous applause. Wm. Y. Owen is the prince of comedians and at no time did he lose the grip which he had fastened upon his hearers. Miss Effie Thomson as "Pen-elope Ann" gave an excellent interpretation of the part and all that was heralded concerning her was carried out to the letter. Mr. Roberts is indeed very clever, while Miss Yale Nelson sustained the part allotted to her in a most acceptable manner. Too much cannot be said of the fine gowns displayed by the ladies, especially so in the second act, when collectively spoken of are indeed marvels of workmanship. The company is certainly in for a good week's business." At Ferguson's theatre to-morrow evening.

A Complaint.

EDITOR HERALD: I desire to call the attention of the borough and county officials to the existence of a gambling den on White street, between Oak and Centre streets, which is frequented by large numbers of our most respectable citizens every Sunday-day and night. Unless the authorities take action on the den is closed prompt movement on the part of the residents in that section will be made manifest.

Inquest Postponed.

The inquest in the case of Andrik Bender, the boy killed on the electric railway, which was to have been held last evening, was postponed until Wednesday evening, at 7 o'clock. M. M. Burke, Esq., who has been retained by the parents of the deceased, and MacHenry Wilhelm, Esq., counsel for the Schuylkill Traction Company, applied for the postponement on account of being engaged in cases at court.

Reunion at Ashland

Quite a number of the members of the three local camps of the P. O. S. of A. will attend the reunion exercises to-morrow evening at Ashland. Quite an interesting program has been prepared, after which the visiting members will be treated to a luncheon. The boys expect an enjoyable time.

In Operation Again.

Gordon plane, which suffered from fire several weeks ago, resumed operations yesterday, the first trip being hoisted at 9 o'clock in the morning. The big shed that sheltered the workmen from the weather at the head of the first plane was not rebuilt.

Monaghan's Bargains.

A good quality home-made rag carpet at 30 cents a yard; nice table oilcloth, 15 cents a yard; good dress gingham, 5 cents a yard; the best 50 cent dress in the market. Lace curtains and dress goods of all kinds cheap.

STILL ANOTHER OFFER

The Town Can Have a Manufacturing Industry.

WILL THIS BE ACCEPTED?

A New York Firm Wants an Offer of Inducement to Come Here and Start a Factory for an Established Business. One Man Ready.

A member of the Borough Council to-day asked a HERALD representative if the borough had a Board of Trade and the latter was obliged to reply that it had not.

Some years ago a few of the enterprising citizens of town got together to organize such a board, but further than declaring themselves organized and ready to receive propositions from capitalists they did nothing and gradually became entombed in silence and forgetfulness. It is now about four or five years since we have heard of the movement.

The search for information was based upon the receipt of the following letter:

Board of Trade, Shenandoah, Pa.

GENTLEMEN:—We have had inquiries from a large shirt manufacturer of New York city relative to locating a large factory to manufacture their product. They have a large and extensive trade established and intend to start seventy-five to one hundred operators and increase it to two hundred or more if sufficient help can be obtained. This is a valuable enterprise for any town to secure and if you have any inducements to offer the same will be considered and placed before these people, but on account of the season being so near at hand it will be necessary for you to take prompt action, as these people move quick on matters after deciding to make a venture. Your early reply will be appreciated if you are interested.

"Very Truly Yours

"SINAIER MFG. CO.

"Philadelphia, May 7, 1894."

The Councilman who handed the above letter to the HERALD representative is one of our business men. He seems to be very favorably impressed with the suggestion and would take steps with some of our other townsmen in either re-organizing the Board of Trade or forming a syndicate to investigate the terms of the manufacturer's letter refers to.

Always ready and willing to do anything that may tend to benefit the industrial interests of the town the HERALD cheerfully consented to give the matter all the publicity possible and leave the rest to the citizens.

Have You Heard Him?

Mr. J. H. Malice, the blind evangelist, held another interesting and profitable service last evening in the Methodist Episcopal church. He spoke from the text, "Be sure your sin will find you out." The speaker emphasized the danger of our sin, secret sins. "The wages of sin is death," and lastly "The gift of God is eternal life." It was a talk worthy of being listened to by a crowded house, and especially a large number of men. This evening his subject will be, "You can't do as you please." Mr. Malice especially invited the "Doubtfuls" to be present. Thus far in the meetings there have been thirty-three seekers and sixteen conversions. An invitation is extended to all to be present. Everybody is welcome. Meetings commence at 7 o'clock.

An Awkward Jump.

Adam Anaskawicz, a Hungarian in miners' clothes, jumped on the passenger train at the P. & R. depot at 7:15 this morning with the intention of riding to the Shenandoah City colliery. After running several hundred yards the train attained a high rate of speed and Adam thought he would get off before the speed became greater. He jumped backwards from the car and fell heavily upon the ground, the back of his head striking upon the switch sill. Those who saw the accident thought the man had been killed, but after lying still for a few seconds he got up and walked to his home at the east end of Centre street.

You are missing it if you do not go to hear the Blind Evangelist in the Methodist Episcopal church. Every evening at 7:30 o'clock. Go to-night.

Accuser and Accused.

Yesterday afternoon Joe Katokis caused the arrest of Mary Audomavage, charging her with stealing five dollars from him. The complainant said that while he was drinking with the woman she took ten dollars from his pocket. She returned five, but refused to give up the rest. The woman denied the charge, but furnished $500 bail for trial. About an hour after he left the justice's office, Katokis found himself a prisoner in the lockup on a charge of drunkenness and nuisance. He spent the night in a cell and was released to-day upon paying a fine and costs.
