FRIDAY, MAY 11, 1894.

HEADQUARTERS
REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE, Philadelphia, Feb. 24, '94.

To the Republican Electors of Pennsylvania: I am directed by the Republican State Committee to announce that the Republicans of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in State convention at Harrisburg, Pa., on Wednesday, May 23, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the following purpose, to wit: For the nomination of candidates respectively for Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, two members of Congress from the state at large, Auditor General, Secretary of Internal Affairs, and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

Attention is called to the rule adopted at the State Convention of 1893 providing for the basis of representation as follows: Representations in future state conventions shall be based upon the vote cast at the Presidential or gubernatorial election immediately preceding, one delegate being allotted to each legislative district for over 2,000 Republican votes and an additional delegate for each fraction exceeding 1,000 votes, each district to have at least one delegate.

By order of the Republican State Com.
B. F. GIBKSON, Chairman.
Attest: J. E. REX,
A. D. FILLEROL, Secretary.

The representatives to which each district of the county is entitled to is as follows:
First district, 1; Second district, 1; Third district, 1; Fourth district, 3.

The real American workman is still minding his own business and awaiting election day. He isn't tramping, shouting, or throwing stones.

A NEW comet has been discovered, and it is getting away from America at the rate of 5,000 miles a day. Oh! that Coxy and Kelly knew the secret of this motive power and would put it in practice.

COMMONWEALTH COXY is sure that he is out $700 as the result of his trip to Washington. If he had spent that money in paying the wages of workmen for productive work instead of spending it on a tramp, both he and the workmen would be just that much better off.

MANY of the Americans who visit Europe this year will attend the World's Fair at Antwerp. Compared with the big show at Chicago this will seem a small affair, yet it will be well worth visiting. The United States is well represented, better, in fact, than a number of European countries. Altogether they have a space of one hundred and forty-seven thousand square feet. In the line of electrical machinery and effects the United States display is said to be unequalled.

It is generally conceded, says an expert, that American railroad men are more progressive than the same class in Europe. We are more inventive in railroad appliances and quicker to adopt what seems useful and progressive, but a bit of news comes from London which shows that sometimes they get ahead of even in lines where we thought we were without rivals. Every one who travels in a railroad train takes more or less interest in the names of the cities, towns and villages he passes through. There is even an interest attached to the names of the road stations, which is, no doubt, augmented by the fact that the traveler is generally unoccupied and the names of the places he rapidly passes through serve to while away the moment of the ride. Every one has experienced the unsatisfactory manner in which the names of stopping stations are announced. Conductors and brakemen are not all gifted with clear, distinct voices, to enable them to be understood amid the noise and din of a moving train when they announce the name of the station. Sometimes only a confused series of indistinguishable utterances can be heard, which convey no meaning, and the passenger turns to his neighbor and inquires the name the brakeman shouted into the ear. Of course, the neighbor did not understand it any more than the inquirer did, and that ends the search for information. Why some better plan was not long ago adopted remains a mystery.

Death of a Venerable Minister.
TRENTON, May 11.—Rev. Dr. John Hall, for fifty years pastor, and for the past ten years pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian church of this city, died yesterday, aged 88. He was a native of Philadelphia, where he studied and practiced law. At the age of 22 he entered the ministry, and has become widely known through his works upon religious topics. He leaves one son and five daughters, the former having been private secretary to three of New Jersey's governors.

WRECKED BY A STORM.

High Winds Work Havoc in the Me- tropolis of Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 11.—A severe wind and rain storm visited this city and vicinity yesterday afternoon. Many buildings were unroofed and the loss will reach into the thousands. Shade trees and outbuildings in every part of the city were blown down. The street car system was for a time deranged and the telephone and telegraph wires were in a useless condition. An infant child of 5, Hunt street, of 861 South Meridian street, was instantly killed while sleeping in its cradle, and a number of persons were more or less injured by falling walls and flying debris.
The roof of the Riley block, on West Washington street, was blown off, and two persons injured. Adjoining the block, on the east, is the establishment of Archdeacon & Co. A number of girls are employed on the top floor of the building, and when the roof of the Riley block was torn from its fastenings it crashed into the building where the girls were employed. Labbie James, of 107 Division street, was cut about the head and face, and Amanda Miller was caught by the falling walls and injured internally. Maus' brewery was damaged to the extent of $3,000, and a number of other large establishments were damaged.

A Steamboat Overturned.

MT. VERNON, Ind., May 11.—A tornado reached this city at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, doing much damage. The roof of Weisenacker's building was torn off, sheds, fences, barns and outbuildings were blown away. The steamer Eugene, belonging to the Henderson hominy mill, was overturned in the middle of the river.
Fifteen people were on board, but they saved themselves by taking refuge on the barge the boat was towing. The boat was valued at $10,000, and is a total loss. Captain Campbell was injured by a piece of flying timber.

Injured by a Broken Trolley Wire.

AKRON, O., May 11.—A terrific wind storm, accompanied by electricity, struck this city last evening. The Hotel Buchtel was damaged and numerous houses shattered. A broken trolley wire struck several people, injuring them severely. Two serious runaways resulted from fright to horses.

NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE

The Bill to Divide Monmouth County Re- ceives Its Death Blow.

TRENTON, May 11.—The bill to divide Monmouth county has caused more bad feeling in the legislature than any measure that has come before that body during the present session. Messrs. Flynn, Coyle and Wilson, Democrats, quarreled when it was up the other day, and now the Republicans are in a bitter dispute over its disposition. The bill has not yet been signed by Speaker Holt, and Mr.
Walters, the Monmouth member who opposed it, charged him yesterday afternoon with unfairness in holding it back. The speaker denied the charge, and said that the bill was passed with the express understanding that it was not to go further than the house. He said that Mr. Walters got it through by making such an agreement, and declared that he told the members that after the bill was through the house he cared nothing about it. He wanted the bill to go over to the senate, and then the responsibility for its defeat would fall upon Senator Bradley.
Mr. Olcott offered a resolution instructing the speaker to hold the bill. Messrs.
Lewis, Coyle, Stors and others said they had voted for the bill through a misapprehension, and favored the motion. It passed by a vote of 26 to 9. The speaker asserts that the bill will never see daylight.

The house passed bill abolishing boards of assessments in Jersey City and Newark, and legislating out of office the boards of health of Newark and Jersey City.
In the senate the bill providing for a non-partisan pilotage commission, three from each party, to be appointed by the governor, was passed. The bill granting an appropriation of $1,000 for the Essex Troop was defeated.

World's Fair Diploma Counterfeiters.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Chief Hazen, of the secret service bureau, treasury department, has begun an active crusade against persons who are using counterfeit diplomas of World's Fair medals and diplomas for advertising purposes. Counterfeiting of any of these diplomas or medals is punishable by a fine of $5,000 and imprisonment at hard labor not more than ten years or both. The government intends to prosecute violations of this act, and proceedings will begin as soon as proof of guilt is obtained.

Croker's Resignation Accepted.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Richard Croker's official connection with Tammany Hall ceased yesterday, when he handed in his resignation as chairman of the finance committee. The resignation was accepted.
No one has yet been appointed leader in his place, nor will there be until after the next campaign. John McQuade will succeed Mr. Croker as chairman of the finance committee. The position will be merely honorary and will not carry the power attached to it in the past.

Death of a Venerable Minister.

for fifty years pastor, and for the past ten
years pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian church of this city, died yesterday,
aged 88. He was a native of Philadelphia, where he studied and practiced law. At
one son and five daughters, the former
having been private secretary to three of
New Jersey's governors.

BROKEN DOWN

—by disease is the natural result if you allow your liver to become inactive, your blood impure, and your system run down.
The germs of Consumption, Grip, or Malaria, wait for this time of weakness—this is their opportunity.
If you rouse the liver to activity, so it will throw off these germs, purify the blood so there will be no weak spots, build up healthy weight where there is a falling off, you will rest secure from disease, for you'll be germ-proof.
Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery does this as nothing else can. The reason it can be guaranteed. In convalescence from pneumonia, fevers, or other wasting diseases, it's an appetizing, restorative tonic to build up needed flesh and strength.
For all diseases of the liver or blood if a "Discovery" fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

No matter how bad your case, Dr. Sage's Remedy will relieve you, cure your Catarrh.

WASHINGTON'S MOTHER

The Monument to Her Memory Dedicated at Fredericksburg.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S ADDRESS

He Pays a Glowing and Eloquent Trib- ute to American Motherhood and to the Free and Accepted Citizens of the United States.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., May 11.—The special session hearing President Cleveland and party to participate in the unveiling of the Mary Washington monument reached this city shortly before noon yesterday. A great crowd surrounded the station, and when the train pulled in a presidential salute was fired. President Cleveland and his cabinet were received by members of the reception committee, of whom one was Judge Harlan, of the supreme court. In the adjoining streets were various organizations, conspicuous among them the Confederate veterans, bearing battle flags of the Confederacy.
The procession marched through the town from the station to the Green Knoll, topped with wooden stands, where the Sons and Daughters of the Revolution and distinguished guests were assembled.

The program for the dedicatory exercises was as follows: Prayer by Rev.
James P. Smith, D. D., address of welcome on the part of the city by Hon. A. P.
Rowe, mayor; address of welcome on the part of the state of Virginia by Governor Charles T. O'Ferrall; Masonic ceremonies; address by Mr. Lawrence, of Washington, a descendant of Mary Washington; oration by Senator John W. Daniel, the orator of the day.

Senator Daniel in his oration said:
"All that I am, and Washington, I owe to my mother." All that we are as a nation we owe to him. His debt is ours.
It is many times multiplied. It is ever growing, as the ever growing republic illustrates in its virtues and in its faults like the merit of his example and the wisdom of his teachings. But for the light that streamed from the deeds of him we honor, we would have never known the name of Mary Washington, and the grass that grew upon this spot had not been disturbed by curious footsteps or reverential hands. But it does not follow that she shines only in the reflection of her offering's fame. Her virtues were not created; they were only discovered by the marvellous career of her illustrious son.
There were ten thousand Mary Wash-ingtons among the mothers of the revolution, and honoring her we honor the motherhood of heroic days and heroic men.

"For many years this grave remained unmarked. But that this monument has been slow to rise is no proof that Mary Washington was unappreciated or forgotten. That this monument is reared now is better proof of appreciation than if it had been done under the momentary impulse of some transient feeling. This is the great test, and the glory years today set their seal on her glory." President Cleveland responded to Governor O'Ferrall's address of welcome, saying in part:

"I speak to those who are today greeted as the official guests of Virginia and Fredericksburg when I return sincere thanks for the hearty welcome that has been extended to us in behalf of both the state and city. Our appreciation of the warmth of your reception is not diminished by the thought that in the light of the highest meaning belonging to this occasion there are no guests here. We have assembled on equal terms to worship at a sacred national shrine.

"The man who said he cared not who made a people's laws if he could not write their songs might have said with more truth that he could gauge the strength and vigor of a people and their fitness for self government if he knew the depth and steadfastness of their love for their mothers. I believe that he who thinks it brave and manly to outgrow his care and devotion for his mother is, more than he who has no music in himself, fit for treason, stratagems and spoils, and should not be trusted. Let us recall today as conclusive proof of the close relation between American greatness and a lasting love and reverence for our mothers the proud declaration of George Washington, 'All I am I owe to my mother; and let us not forget that when his glory was greatest, and when the plaudits of his countrymen were loudest he valued more than these the blessings and approval of his aged mother."
"While these exercises cannot fail to inspire us anew with reverence for American motherhood, we will remember that we are here to do honor to the woman who gave to our nation its greatest and best citizen, and that we have the privilege of participating in the dedication of a monument erected by the women of our land in loving and enduring testimony to the virtues of the mother of Washington. Let us be proud today that the nobility of this woman exacted from a distinguished foreigner the admission: 'If such are the matrons of America, she may well boast of illustrious sons; and that Lafayette, who had fought with her son for American independence, declared after he had received her blessing: 'I have seen the only Roman matron living at this day.'" "Remembering these things, let us leave this place with our love of country strengthened, with a higher estimate of the value of American citizenship, and with a prayer to God that our people may hold fast to the sentiment that grows out of love and reverence for American motherhood."

Fredericksburg Lodge No. 4 of Free Masons, in which George Washington was made a Mason, gave a banquet at the opera house after the ceremonies around the monument. The prominent guests were seated around three long tables on the stage elevated above the body of the house. Vice President Stevenson was at the head of the right hand table. Chief Justice Fuller presided over the left, and the place of honor at the center table was vacant when the banquet commenced.
During the banquet President Cleveland entered the hall quietly and was standing in the center of the stage with the members of his cabinet and their ladies before he was recognized. Then the house shook with yells when Judge James B. Senior introduced the president, pointing to the portraits of Washington and Andrew Jackson above the proscenium arch and alluding to Mr. Cleveland as the legiti-mate successor of both. The president responded:
"Gentlemen, I am a good deal embarrased by the mention of my two distinguished predecessors and by the fact that they are both members of the society under whose auspices the banquet is given.
I am obliged to acknowledge my own shortcomings in not being a member of it.
Perhaps it is my fault; certainly it is my misfortune. Those in fault seek compensation. I, too, have the honor to belong to a great fraternity, one of which George Washington and Andrew Jackson were prominent members. A fraternity whose grip means a united stand for American institutions, a fraternity that can never die, for its fruits will always be before the world. Would you know the name of this fraternity? It is the brotherhood of free and accepted and patriotic American citizens."

On May 7, 1833, President Andrew Jackson laid the cornerstone of a monument over the grave of Mrs. Washington, and it was about half finished when Mr. Burrows, the generous New York gentleman who was furnishing the funds to erect it, became involved in financial difficulties, and the work was stopped. The pedestal was finished, but the shaft and much of the ornamental work were incomplete.
Year in and year out, decade after decade, the marble shaft lay on the ground, crumbling into decay. At last when public interest in the matter was again aroused it was wisely concluded to abandon the old monument and plan and start fresh. An organization was, therefore, formed and called "The National Mary Washington Memorial association," which raised the necessary money, about $11,000.

The monument was made in Buffalo, N.
Y., and is a plain granite monolith, fifty feet high, standing upon a base eleven feet square. It bears the inscription: "Mary, the Mother of Washington." The monument was made possible by the persistent efforts of two patriotic women, Mrs. Amelia C. Waite, widow of the chief justice of the United States and premiere court, and Mrs. Margaret Hetzel, of Clifton Station, Va. It was paid for by the contributions from almost every state in the union.

Judge Clayton Renominated.

CHESTER, Pa., May 11.—The Republican county convention was held at the court house yesterday, with J. Milton Lutz, of Upper Darby presiding. The following ticket was nominated: President Judge, Thomas J. Clayton; congressman, Hon. J.
B. Robinson; legislature, Ward R. Bliss, Thomas H. Garvin and Richard J. Baldwin; prothonotary, William L. Mathews; director of the poor, R. E. James; jury commissioner, John Standing. Congressman Robinson's candidacy for lieutenant governor was enthusiastically endorsed, and the delegates were instructed to use all honorable means to head the state ticket with Hastings and Robinson.

Congressman Brattan Dead.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Representative Robert F. Brattan (Dem.), of the First district of Maryland, who has been lying dangerously ill for some weeks, died at his home in Princess Anne, aged 49. Mr.
Brattan has been ill since September last.
He was serving his first term in congress and occupied his seat in the house during the extra session of congress last year.
Shortly after adjournment he fell ill. His malady was a complication of heart and kidney troubles. He has not been in Washington during the present term.

Confidence in Austria's Government.

VIENNA, May 11.—In the lower house of parliament the democratic deputies questioned the government in regard to the shooting of striking miners at Ostrau and at Falkenberg, declaring that many of the men were found to have been shot in the back, showing that they were running away when they were fired at. The minister of the interior said the police fired solely in self defense and after they had been stoned by the strikers. The house finally, by a vote of 162 to 83, expressed confidence in the government.

A Double Murderer.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 11.—Developments in the Smith murder case, being investigated by grand jury, were to the effect that Mrs. Smith, fourteen years ago, killed a Mrs. Adams, with whom she slept at the Monitor house in this city, and some time after assisted in killing Maud Williams, who was found dead back of the restaurant of Mrs. Smith, in Centerville. Her lawyer refused to go further with the case, but the grand jury continued the investigation.

A Use for Monmouth Race Track.

EATONTOWN, N. J., May 11.—Sheriff Wooley has sold the personal property of the Monmouth Park Race Track association to satisfy a confessed judgment held by Track Superintendent Van Kenren for $4,378. The sale aggregated $4, 399, $300 less than the judgment and costs.
Mr. Van Kuren says the race track is to be used during the present season for training purposes. One hundred horses are now here.

A Herd of Steers Tramp on Children.

LANCASTER, Pa., May 11.—A herd of thirty steers coming down Duke street charged into a hundred school children, trampling ten of them. All of them were painfully injured, but only one, Florence E. Kruse, seriously. The children had just been dismissed from school, and their cries attracted the steers, who were being driven past at the time.

His Arm Torn Off.

READING, Pa., May 11.—Frank Stroluksi, an employe of the Reading Foundry company, while running a cylinder churn attempted to throw off a belt, when his right arm was caught in the gearing and completely torn off between the elbow and wrist. The arm was also mangled above the elbow.

HEART AND KIDNEY TROUBLES CURED

DANA'S SARSAPARILLA

THE KIND THAT CURES
Mrs. Rosetta L. Greene, of Morris, N.Y., writes: "My husband used your Sarsaparilla for a bad case of Heart Disease, that had troubled him since he was 17 years old. It cured him, and he is incapable to work. My little girl was weak, enfeebled, and suffered greatly from Kidney Disease. A persistent use of DANA'S SARSAPARILLA cured her, and she is well and strong."
