A QUADRUPLE MURDER.

A SEVEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL ESCAPED.

The Father, Mother and Two Other Children, However, Wore Brutally Slain to Prevent Evidence in a Criminal Case, While the Survivor Was Left for Dead,

While the survivor Was Left for Dead.

Milan, Mo., May 12.—A most atrocious crime was committed Thursday night near Browning. Gus Meeks, his wife and two children were murdered outright and another of the Meeks' children, a girl 7 years old, was so badly injured that she may not recover. The circumstances leading up to the crime are about as follows:

There are a number of criminal cases pending in Lynn and Sullivan county against William P. Taylor and George Taylor, brothers, the former being a banker of Browning and the latter a farmer. The charges against them are forgery, arson and larceny. William P. Taylor, Gus Meeks and others are jointly indicted, and Meeks pleaded guilty at the last term and was sent to the penitenlast term and was sent to the peniten-tiary. About a month ago he was par-doned by Governor Stone in order to use him as a witness against the Taylors, who were in consequence anxious to be rid of

It is said the Taylors had arranged with Meeks to give the latter a wagon and team to get out of the county, so that he might not be present when the case against the Taylors was called for trial. From Mecks' mother it is learned that on Thursday her son received a letter from the Taylors at Browning telling him to be ready at 10 o'clock Thursday night to go away; that Gus Meeks and children waited for Taylor until midnight, when two men whom Meeks said were George and Bill Taylor, came to their home in a wagon. Meeks and his family got into the wagon and started for Browning. The details of the crime, as near as can be obtained, were told by the little 7-year-old girl, who was suffering greatly as she recited the story.

It appears that when the Meeks family and the persons accompanying them reached a point near the school house, in Lynn county, a short distance east of Browning, they were met by two other men who were lying in wait. Gus Meeks men who were lying in wait. Gus Meeks was first shot, and Mrs. Meeks was also killed. The murderers then took stones and beat the brains out of the two of the children, and left the other for dead. The murderers then, it is supposed, loaded the whole family into the wagon and hauled them nearly two miles to the Taylor farm, where they were harded. where they were buried under a straw-

Yesterday morning the eldest child came to her senses and made her way to the residence of a Mr. Carter near by. The Carter family then sent a boy to the Tay-lor farm, where he found the murdered family as stated by the Meeks girl. The Carter boy then saw George Taylor and innocently told him of the murder, as deinnocently told him of the murder, as described by the almost dying child. George Taylor immediately started for Browning on horseback, got his brother William, and both departed on horseback. Their departure from Browning was before the knowledge of the murder had reached there.

The little girl recovered sufficiently to describe some of the parties, and upon her evidence one Sharon McCullough, of Gould, and George Howiett, of Lime county, have been arrested as participants in the crime. A party of citizens from Milan and Browning found at the place of the murder the revolver and a stone with which the murderers had shot and killed the father and mother and beat out the brains of the two children and left the other for dead

Neither Strikes Nor Foreign Distrust Long Retard Progress Here,

NEW YORK, May 12.-The strikes begin to have a serious, though it is assumed only a temporary effect. The number of only a temporary effect. The number of works depending upon supplies of bitu-minous coal or coke for fuel is large, and quite a considerable proportion of it has already been compelled to stop operations. Textile works of some importance must close soon unless the strike censes. The movement of so called armies of unem-ployed on Washington has caused little excitement, and is less important or sig nificant than the outward movement specie, which shows shrinking foreign de-mand for products, and further with-drawal of foreign capital. But neither strikes nor foreign district long retard the progress of this country. One large failure about doubled the aggregate of liabilities for firms failing in the week ending May 3, which would otherwise have been quite small, but were $2,922,794. The number and the general average of liabilities are still encourage. ingly shrinking. For four weeks of April the Habilities reported were $8,826,862, of which $8,687,220 were of manufacturing which $8,87,220 were of manufacturing and $1,677.000 of trading concerns. For the past week the failures have been 206 in the United States, against 257 for the corres-ponding week of last year, and $2 in Can-ada, against 25 last year, with none of special importance, although four bank failures are included.

DILATORY TACTICS.

Blow Progress of the Senate on the Amended Tariff Bill.

QUAY'S FILIBUSTERING MEASURE.

The Pennsylvania Senator Admits His Desire to Retard the Tariff Bill-A Repub-Bean Caucus Called for Monday Evening. The Democrats Standing Together.

Washington, May 12.— The Republi-cans of the senate, under the leadership of Mr. Quay, yesterday attempted a flank movement, which, while unsuccessful, is nevertheless fraught with great possibilitles for time killing. Senator Quay in-troduced a bill of 125 pages and asked for its reading in full. Hours could have been consumed in this way. This was formerly a favorite method of filibustering in the house. An objection carried the bill over, but no parliamentary method can be employed to prevent its reading if Mr. Quay insists. In the course of the colloquy on the subject Mr. Quay boldly avowed his filibustering motive, declaring defautly that he thought time would be better employed that way than in considering the tariff bill. Three amendments to the first three items of the chemical schedule were adopted. This represented six hours' work. The senate is now on about the fifth paragraph. There are about 700 paragraphs in the bill.

The Republican senators by their votes yesterday, and also in private conversation, indicated the purpose of voting for the amendments proposed by the Democratic compromise committee wherever they increase duties and change from the ad valorem to the specific system. This ques-tion of policy will be discussed at the Republican caucus which is to be held on Monday night. Among other matters which probably will also receive attention at the hands of the caucus is that of the policy to be pursued in debating the tariff bill. There are some Republican senators who hold that if the Republicans are to pursue the policy of aiding the Democrats in perfecting the bill by voting for the amendments it is useless to prolong the debate and extend the session merely to have the bill pass in the end in the shape the Democrats desire it, as expressed in their caucus.

The proceedings of the senate yesterday have served to emphasize the intention of the Republicans to exploit every phase of all the questions presented in every para-graph, and of the Democrats to permit the Republicans to consume the greater part of the time that is to be devoted to talking. The speeches on the Republican side were calculated to assure the Democratic managers of the bill, and were in some instances as tantalizing as speeches could well be under the rules of the senate, but they were only partly successful in provoking Democrats to a response. It was noticeable that the Democrats, with the exception of Senator Mills, stood by the committee recommendations on all votes. Senators Hill and Irby, concern-ing whose position there has been speculation, were absent, but Senator Murphy, whose position has been considered some-what doubtful, stood with his party.

This practically solid vote on the Demo-cratic side has given the Republicans no little concern, as they have been hopeful of creating division among the Democrats. Some of them predict that the cohelsm so far displayed will not continue, but the information obtainable at this time indicate that, however unsatisfactory the bill is to a number of the Democrats, it will continue for the present at least to receive the voting support of all Democratic sen-ators, with possibly one or two exceptions.

The naval appropriation bill again occupied the attention of the house resterday without being finally disposed of. General debate on the bill was closed, however, after a heated controversy between Messrs. Reed, Boutelle and Cummings The bringing up of old scandals against ex-Secretary of the Navy Robeson and al legations of Republican mismanagement of the navy department in general and the "colonization" of voters at the navy yards at election times in particular were re-sponsible for the turbulent closing of the day's session. At 5 o'clock a recess was taken until 8, the evening session being devoted to private bills on the calendar.
