SENATORIAL SCANDAL.

The Sugar Trust's Interest in the Tariff Bill.

EXAMINING THE NEWSPAPERMEN.

Edwards and Others Reiterate Published Statements of Alleged Corrupt Practices, but Decline to Reveal the Source of Their Information.

WASHINGTON, May 25. - The senate bribery investigation committee yester-day began the second and by far the most important branch of the investigation for which the committee was created, the in-quiry into the connection of the sugar trust with the tariff legislation. E. J. Edwards, the author of the "Holland" letter in the Philadelphia Press, was before the committee for several hours.

Owing to the fact that the committee

sat behind closed doors, it has been im-possible to obtain a detailed account of the inquiry. It is known, however, that Mr. Edwards presented a written memor-andum giving some of the sources of the information contained in his letter, and stating that he could not give his authority in other cases, as it would be a breach f faith

He declined to state his authority for the information contained in his letter to the effect that Secretary Carlisle had ap-peared before the tariff sub-committee, consisting of Senators Jones, Vest and Mills, before the original senate bill was reported, and had insisted that sugar be given protection because of the party pledges made previous to election, or for the statement that Mr. Carlisle himself had revised and written the sugar sched-

He stated that he understood that this schedule as prepared by Mr. Carlisle was still in existence, and suggested that if it were it could be obtained. He intimated were it could be obtained. He intimated that it was his opinion that this fact could be definitely ascertained by summoning members of the finance committee. He said that his authority was such as to sat-isfy him of the truth of the statements

Other statements in his letter, the authority for which Mr. Edwards declined to give, were those that $500,000 was the amount contributed by the sugar trust to the Democratic campaign fund in 1892, and that a member of the firm of Moore & Schley, who he said in his let-ters were Senator Brice's brokers, had been in possession of the latest amendments which had been agreed upon to the tariff bill before the time when Senator Voorhees still insisted on the floor of the that no amendments had been agreed to.

After a brief conference the committee decided to postpone consideration of excusing Mr. Edwards from divulging his authority for certain of his statements until today to allow Judge Dittenhoefer, his attorney, to consult the authorities bear ing upon the case. John S. Shriver, the Washington cor-respondent of the New York Mail and Ex-press, was also before the committee. He was examined in regard to a dispatch which appeared in his paper on May 19, in which he stated that an interview between certain United States senators and mem-bers of the sugar trust held in a parlor of the Arlington hotel had been overheard by a wire manufacturer who occupied the adjoining room. After acknowledging that he had written the dispatch Mr. Shriver was asked the name of his authority and also the name of the wire manu facturer mentioned in his dispatch.

Mr Shriver said that the story had been given him by a congressman, but he declined either to give his name or the name of the wire manufacturer, his reasons being that the congressman who gave him the story for publication did not wish to be brought into the scandal or to be called upon to testify, and had made witness promise not to reveal his name. The com-mittee tried by various methods to make Shriver disclose his authority, but without success. Mr. Shriver said that the wire manufacturer on the morning after the conference met the congressman and seemed in an excited state of mind. He slapped the congressman on the shoulder and remarked that now he was certain that the Wilson bill would never pass, because the night before he had occupied a room next to that occupied by some sugar trust men and he had overheard enough of the conversation to lead him to believe that the tariff bill was dead.

After Mr. Shriver was excused Mr. Harry W. Walker, Washington correspondent of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, was called and asked to state where he had obtained the information published by him in a dispatch in which he in-atasted that a prominent member of the sabinet, and had intimated that the presicabinet, and had intimated that the president himself, had confessed that the Democratic party was under obligations to the sugar trust. Mr. Walker also confirmed Air. Shriver's story about the occurrences at the Arlington hotel between members of the sugar trust and certain senators, saying that he had also received his information. mation from a member of the house. Like Mr. Shriver, he declined to give the name of the congressman who had given him the information.

The committee is devoting today's see-sion to the problem of deciding what to de with the newspaper writers who refuse to divulge the authority for portions of the information which they had used in their papers. Upon the decision will depend to a certain extent the future progress of the sommittee's work.

Jones is missing, and it is feared he is lying in some secluded place dead or seriously wounded.

A Virginia Desperade Killed.

STAUNTON, May 25.—A tragedy is re-ported from Greenville, in this county, Henry Weeks, who bore the reputation of a dangerous man, was shot in the right breast with a Winchester rifle by Benjamin litte, a neignbor, with whom he had engaged in a quarrel. The two met by accident at the house of a friend and an old feud was renewed. Weeks picked up a chair and started towards litte, who without putting his rifle to his shoulder pulled the tragger, killing Weeks almost instantly. Hite promptly surrendered.

Presbyterian Union Defeated. SARATORA, N. Y., May 25.—The "filtra tation" between the northern and south ern Presbyterian churches has come to a abrupt close. The offer of organic union has been rejected by the southern body and each will now continue to pursue its separate way. The Smith trial has been begun in the general assembly, and will probably continue until tomorrow moon. The argument of Professor Smith was a great effort, but it was almost pathetic, being addressed to an audience not at all sympathetic.

BANQUET OF NATIONS.

Tribute of British Sailors to Our Naval Officers.

SPEECH OF AMBASSADOR BAYARD.

Our Representative at the Court of St. James Pays a Glowing Tribute to England's Queen, While Lord George Ham liton Lands President Cleveland. LONDON, May 25.-The banquet tendered to Admiral Erben, Captain Mahan and the officers of the United States craiser Chicago by officers of the English navy and army and distinguished citizens of Great Britain was held last night in St. James' heil and was a brilliant success.

The American officers were received by a committee consisting among others of Lord George Hamilton, Admiral E. H. Segmour, Lord Brassey, Viscount Galway, the lord mayor of London, the Duke of Leeds, and Lords Methuen, Hond and Nanier.

The guests were first conducted into the smaller St. James' hall, which had been converted into a reception room. Here in-troductions took place and all engaged in an animated conversation for an hour. At o'clock the guests entered the banque ting hall. Entwined Union Jacks and Stars and Stripes were placed in many parts of the hall. A banner inscribed, "Blood Is Thicker Than Water" was suspended from the gallery opposite the or-

As the guests entered United States Ambassador Bayard and Admiral Erben were together. They were followed by were together. They were followed by Captain Mahan and the other officers of the Chicago. The string band of the Royal Marines Light infantry played "Hall Columbia" as the company took their places. At Mr. Bayard's left sat Lord George Hamilton, the chairman. Next sat Admiral Erben, Lord Roberts, the Earl of Darnley, Viscount Sidmouth and Lords Leconfield, Hood, Brassey and Alesster (formerly Admiral Seymour). On dester (formerly Admiral Seymour). On the right sat the Earl of Carlisle, Captain Mahan, Admiral Hornby, the Earl of Galloway, the Earl of Minto and Viscount Falmouth. Four tables extending the whole length of the hall, at right angles to the principal table, accommodated the other guests, numbering 300.

Lord George Hamilton offered a toast to the queen and President Cleveland. He said that Queen Victoria and President said that Queen Victoria and President Cleveland were the heads of the two great English speaking nationalities of the world. President Cleveland was a man of pre-eminent abilities and character, and his fellow citizens recognized the fact by conferring upon him the rare distinc-tion of twice electing him to the highest post to which a citizen of the United States could aspire. In responding to the toast, "The United States," Ambassador Bayard said he was sincerely grateful for the manner in which in old England the toast to the health of the United States was received. He felt deeply the honor of having been made the envoy of this country and this nation. The gracious reception that he had been given on numerous occasions in this great city and elsewhere in Great Britain made him feel the sincerity and reality of the wel-come so expressed. In the name of his country and his countrymen he sincerely thanked them for tonight's banquet. It was a happy omen that it came upon the birthday of that benign and gracious lady whose devotion to public duty was clear and beautiful. Her private life endeared her not merely to those whose good fortune it was to live under her benign sway, but to all right minded and right thinking men and women in America, as fully as in England.

Well might the British subject congrat-ulate himself as he contemplated with affectionate admiration the home life of the true mother of her country, whose domes tic ties so illustrated her long and happy reign. Turning his eyes across the At-lantic, well might the American of whatever party or race congratulate himself that the virtues of graceful and refined womanhood, of innocent and guileless childhood, of life, integrity and manhood were clustered round the hearthstone of the president of the United States.

He did not feel that this was an ordinary occasion of festivity. Hospitalities and courtesies came thick and fast as the bios-soms in May, and mutual services were soms in May, and mutual services were paid in time of need and sympathy, in time of serrow. These, thank God, were exchanged abundantly between the two great branches of the English speaking people. It was the men who went deep in ships who knew best the sympathies that the bearts of the sullors of the two nations. It was an excellent thing to have people. It was the man who went deep in ships who knew best the sympathies that bound the hearts of the sailors of the two nations. It was an excellent thing to have a sea power of giants, but it was tyranous to use that power. Therefore, step by atep, and keeping equal step, let the laws of equal forces and the laws of morals proceed, and whoever should best exercise power in this world remember that power to be safe must ever be in the harnoss of Admiral Hornby tonsted the United States navy in a felicitous speech, to which Admiral Erben responded. Other speakers were Lord Roberts, Captain Mahan and Admiral Commercil.

Virginia's Municipal Elections.

RICHMOND, May 25.— The municipal elections throughout Virginia yesterday passed off quietly. There was little inter-est save at Norfolk, where a sharp doutest had been waged and where the Prohibi-tionists' perorm ticket triumphed over the straight Democratic organization by a majority of from 1,000 to 1,500. A reform ticket was also chosen at Basic City over the regular Democratic nomines by a ma-jority of $4. An unusually large vote was polled at Charlottesville, though there was no excitement there. The election here in Richmond was a mere form to confirm the result of the Democratic primary of some weeks ago. Generally the results were like that here.

Invading Strikers Repulsed. LEAVENWOBTH, Kan., May 25.—Captain Steve Kyan, of Napoleon, Mo., and 100 of his striking miners were marched through this city last evening in charge of Sheriff Rothenburger and hundreds of citizens and compelled to cross over the new steel bridge into Missouri, from whence they came. The rest of the mob gave up the invasion at Walluia, twelve miles south of this city, and are retracing miles south of this city, and are retracing their steps to Kansas City. The invadors had come here for the purpose of driving out the working miners Death Ends Her Sufferings. OBANGE, N. J., May 25.—Mins Susic Decker, who was burned by an explosion of a kerosens lamp on May 1, died at the Memorial hospital yesterday from blood poisoning and shock. She suffered ter-gibly.
