A LANCASTER gentleman, in order to impress business methods on his son early in life, recently told the youngster that if he would see that the gas bill was paid before a certain date each quarter be could have the discount for himself The youngster took very kindly to the kiea, and captured the discount every time the bill come in. To his father's surprise, however, the gas bill began to increase at a remarkable rate. He found out night that his son had been burning gas all over the top of the house from 10 s'clock until 6 the next morning. The routh had become a Napoleon of finance and had discovered the fact that the bigger the bill the bigger the discount.

"IT is not worth publishing," says the man applied to by a newspaper reporter for news. Does he ever stop to think-to put himself in place of the publisher, who has gone to the trouble to send a reporter around for that very thing which is not worth publishing. Who is likely to be the best judge? The man who is daily engaged in weighing the value of news, and whose living depends upon its publication, or the one not interested in the newspaper, who imagines that this mobody. Hemember that to the newspaper man news is always valuable and that in imparting information you are doing that which is of benefit to him while it does not rob you.

SECRETARY CARLISLE has another scandal on his hands. It relates to the sale of the Government Building on the World's Fair grounds, which cost $400,000 and is said to have been disposed of for $3,-275. The sale was made through a Treasury agent, who acted on orders from Washington, which appears to have been given, without authority, by the Supervising Architect, in the absence of Mr. Carlisle. There has been some talk of transferring the building to Atlanta and re-erecting it for exposition uses, and it is understood that the purchasers have offered it for this purpose for $25,000. They would thus turn over the neat profit of $21,725. The House Committee on Appropriations has had its interest aroused in this transaction, and a thorough investigation is in order.

THE tide of travel Europeward is on the steady increase, with a fair prospect of continuance. American tourists are the very life and soul of some particular branches of business on the other side. When American tourists are few and far between, as they were during 1800, there was a marked falling off in the sales of particular lines of goods, and well there might have been, for our tourists are sredited with dropping not less than $100,000,000 annually into the coffers of European dealers and landlords. We are reminded by this of the story of a Florida sitizen who, being asked what his people lived on during the summer: "Taters and fish," was the prompt reply. And how in winter? "Why, in winter time we lives off de sick Yankees."

Pennsylvania Operators Decide to Start With New Men

AFTER A LENGTHY SECRET SESSION

They Conclude to Besume Work Imme diately, Even if Each Workman Requires the Protection of a Deputy Sheriff.

PHILADELPHIA, May 29.-The coal operators, at a meeting held in this city res-terday, decided that they would parisy with their striking miners no longer, but would immediately procure new hands and work their mines, even if each work-man required the protection of a deputy

The meeting was held in the offices of the Berwind-White Coal company, in the Builitt building, and was behind closed doors. About forty operators were present, representing about three-fourths of the mining interests of the state. After a session of several hours it was decided that the operators had paid enough attention to the demands of the striking miners, and, as the latter had refused the offer of forty cents a ton made about a week the operators would cut off all further communication and negotiations with them, and hire new men imported into the state for the purpose.

At yesterday's meeting a committee of three of the most prominent operators was appointed to take steps toward hiring them to work at once. A men and putting them to work at once. A coal operator present, when asked where these new men were to come from, replied that there were thousands to draw from and that in New York alone the men were fairly begging for work. He admitted that the greater part of the new hands would probably be foreigners.

Italians Attack Trainmen.

ROUSE, Colo., May 29.—Yesterday after noon twenty Italian miners from Trinidad, coming bither to make the miners of this town quit work, reached House Junction, on the Denver and Rio Grande road. Conductor Evans saw that they wanted to capture the train and ordered the engi-neer to start at the highest possible speed. The miners drew their guns and rushed for the engine. The engineer and firemen heat them off with shovels and kicked sevral guns out of their hands. Several shots were fired. A sheriff's posse captured the men and placed them in fail. Their friends threaten to storm the fail. Picton miners have turned out and joined the Trinidad miners here, making a force of 1,300 men. Rouse miners are still working.

The Mines "Londed."

DENVER, May 29.-Information has been received from Cripple Creek that even had the strikers been driven from the camp, the men wis) took their places in the mines would be in imminent peril. Every mine in the camp over which there had been trouble is "loaded." Large quanti-ties of dynamite have been stored in the shafts back of the timbering by the strik-ers and hidden wires attached to these, charged in such a manner that they can be exploded, and every person in the mines instantly killed while the men who start the battery remain out of sight. The mine owners have decided not to arbitrate differences with the Cripple Creek miners. More trouble may begin at any minute.

Strikers Recapture Trains. was also sent to Sheriff Lenze at Meto-more, and he appeared on the ground.

After exhausting all peaceful measures the sheriff sent to Tolusa for one hundred Winchesters and four good rounds of ammunition. With these he proposes put-ting a posse in the field to capture and re-lease the coal trains. He has also wired to Springfield a report of the state of affairs, and requested Governor Altgeld to send troops to the scene immediately.

The news caused the greatest consternation, indignation and surprise among the miners and their leaders. Many of them now profess to believe that the visit of the governor had an ulterior purpose, probably not on the part of the latter, but perhaps on the part of those who counselled him to take such a

Families Without Food.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., May 29.—A mass meeting of the Huntingdon and Broad Top miners was held at Coaldale yester-day, and was attended by large delegations from all the districts in the region. Along Sandy Run the miners are in destitute circumstances, many families being abso-lutely without food.

The other sed of the stick is in the coffin, the other end of the stick is in the cofin, the other end of the stick is in the glass globe with a red cloth attached.
