A VERY SPICY LETTER

Occasional Pottsville Correspondent Writes Again.

SOME RELIABLE POINTS

A Story Concerning Congressman Kelly and Ex-Senator King Discounted—Caricatures as Weapons in Political Campaigns—Lively Times Near at Hand.

POTTSVILLE, June 8.—Imagination has done many things in this world but it never paid the National debt, nor it will never give the devil his due. The story of a slate in Thursday's issue of the Morning Despatch sounds so much like the revamping of a similar one in the Sunday News last Sunday week, that the reader of both might be his boots with safety that the same fellow wrote both, although they appeared in papers diametrically opposed in politics. That's nothing. Newspaper writers nowadays don't care whether they write for a Democratic or Republican sheet—especially when they dish up politics. It's a blamed poor apology for a correspondent or editor who cannot write to suit the tastes of everybody. Such a one wouldn't be worth beer money to any newspaper.

AN UNLIKELY STORY.

It is amusing to read some of the stories dressed up for the political eager ones "those days" as an Irish acquaintance puts it. We are asked now to believe that Congressman Kelly is a fool. He is put up for a fool now, at least, by the party who invented the slate with Frank Spiese for Sheriff and Charlie King for Senator. I have it from close friends of the Congressman that there is no such slate. He and King do not take their juleps through the same straw. They never did, nor never will, drink from the same canteen. And if any one believes that Kelly can afford, at this time, when so many of his old-time, solid Irish-Democratic supporters are lukewarm on him, to slap those people in the face by turning down McKernan, Higgins and Langton by one fell swoop, such a believer is a fit subject for a lunatic asylum. There never has been a time in Mr. Kelly's political career when he needs to conciliate these people so much as now. The man of political sagacity will take no stock in such a story.

A KING CARTOON.

If ex-Senator King should be nominated look out for a great effort to wipe up the surface of the 8th district with him. His enemies already are preparing to cartoon him with a view to hisponing him on election. If the author of this cartoon don't get his shoe laces tangled it will represent the ex-Senator as a Dago driver. He will be shown as a contractor with a whip lash as long as a tally-ho coach whirling the Dagoes to work in a fit subject for a lunatic asylum. There never has been a time in Mr. Kelly's political career when he needs to conciliate these people so much as now. The man of political sagacity will take no stock in such a story.

RIDICULE AS A WEAPON.

Ridicule is a powerful weapon. There are some who believe that Tom, Nash's and Puck's cartoons bent the groans of man, Hon. James G. Blaine, for President. That was a terrible one in Puck that represented Blaine and Logan in the slough of despond, sitting on a log in a swamp and eating "Me and Jim." And I well remember how ex-Congressman Brumm and Charlie Wells got one printed in New York on Hon. John W. Ryan, representing him taking the oath in a "know-nothing" lodge and everybody not too young will well remember that the Hon. John was ridiculed to death and beaten for Congress that year. Yes, ridicule is a powerful weapon and a mean one, too. The fellows who resort to it ought to be horse-whipped. Many a good citizen has been smirched by a cowardly cartoonist. But if you don't want to be cartooned keep out of politics and in legitimate business.

THE FEATHERS WILL SOON FLY.

James J. Franey was here the other day and gave it out that he would commence to lay out ex-Senator King next week. As Franey is in the undertaking business "lay out" was an appropriate term to employ. King will come back at Franey, no doubt, with the remark that he will proceed to "make a tunnel through him," and so these two battle-scared veterans will take a fair one at each other. It would be far better if they got together and tossed up a penny letting the fellow who got tail get out of the fight, because this contest will become so bitter between them that after the nomination that there will be nothing but wormwood left. The feathers will soon fly in the Senatorial skirmish and Franey told the people down here that he was going to be the "dead cock in the pit." All your arse knows about it now is what Franey tells him, and that is that he is going to win. When Mr. King unbends, unlimbers and thaws out sufficiently to be approached, I will interview him and hear how he is going to do Franey. Meanwhile all you chaps up in the Thirtieth who like sport may prepare yourselves for a good and rich farce-comedy when these two birds get at it in earnest.

NOTES.

The Phillips-Coyle shooting match is still on. Dave says he has got Jack downed.

If Dave Llewellyn's friends are telling the truth, he will stack his crutches in the almshouse hallway next year.

There is no disaffection among the Dutch on Reilly. It is among his own people, so to call them.

It is rumored that Losch has seen Quay again, and we shall soon know who is the Senator's preference for Congress, Brumm or Shoener.

The Legislative ticket of the 4th district is slated as Losch, Schriek and Stuck. Gee whiz! Three single syllable names, and all very suggestive. Stuck will stick to the last, Schriek never shrunk from a duty, and the ever-with-us-Losch will get there, by Gosh.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Proceedings of the Regular Meeting Held Last Evening.

A regular meeting of the Board of Health was held in the Council chamber last night with Messrs. Spalding, McHale and Miles present.

In connection with the report of the epidemic committee President Spalding stated that there had recently been two deaths from diphtheria in the First ward and in both cases there had been public funerals and the bodies had been kept entirely too long before burial. He said it was the board's duty to regulate the time in which a corpse should be buried after death.

On motion of Mr. Miles, it was decided that in all cases of death by contagious diseases the Health Officer call on the family and see that the corpse is buried inside of 48 hours.

Mr. Dyke appeared before the board and asked that the board would discontinue dumping refuse in the creek in the southern part of town.

John Dovaditz, of 900 Linn-street, appeared and stated that the Health Officer had notified him that he would have to dispose of the pigeons he had housed in his garret. Mr. Dovaditz asked the board to allow him to retain the pigeons in the place, but was informed that he could not keep them under the same roof with human beings.

The nuisance committee reported that it had viewed the system of drainage of properties on the south side of Centre street, between Emerick street and the R. & E. railroad, and found it in a very imperfect condition. The committee will be notified to extend the sewer to the creek.

Official notices will be given to the public that no property owner or others shall attempt to tap water closets into sewers without having the health officer superintend the same.

A letter from Secretary Lee, of the State Board of Health, was read. It stated that the Borough Council has full power to make appropriations and the Board of Health would have to regulate salaries accordingly.

On motion, the secretary was instructed to notify Undertaker M. J. O'Hara to appear at the next regular meeting of the Board of Health to answer a charge of violation of the rules.

WE START A WINNER

The Shamokinites Smitten by Our New Club.

AN INTERESTING GAME!

The Visiting Pitcher Kept Our Boys Thinking For a While, But Gave Way Under the Strain and Then We Pounded Upon Him.

The base ball season was opened at the Trotting park yesterday afternoon under very favorable circumstances, the weather being delightful, the crowd numbering about 800 people and the home team winning the game by a good margin. The season bids fair to be even more successful than the last one.

The game was a pretty pitcher's battle for the first three innings, during which the Shamokin pitcher did not give the home team a hit and the two runs scored were due to the passed balls of Boyd. After that inning Kutzner became very wild and three wild pitches, three bases on balls, a passed ball and a rank error by Kutzner allowed the home club to add three more runs to its score.

In the seventh inning Kutzner again became very wild and in addition to his two wild pitches gave the Shamokinites the benefit of four hits. Boyd also contributed another passed ball and the home team added five more runs to its score. It may be said that after the third inning the Shamokin battery went to pieces and the fielders were too slow at critical points.

Shultz, the ex-Bloomersburg man, did excellent work in the box and Catcher Fulmer proved an admirable general. Up to the close of the fifth inning the Shamokinites made but one hit off Shultz, but after that he weakened somewhat, still he put up a pretty stiff game and held the visitors down to five hits during the balance of the game.

Kutzner is credited with twelve strike outs, but he is indebted more to "fanners" than to his skill for that record. Lewis fanned the air four times out of the five times he was at the bat and he was saved from a fifth strike out by Kutzner's throw to second to cut Shultz off on a steal. Fulmer was also an unlucky but wielder and was struck out three times of the six that he went to the plate.

Musser, the latest addition to the home team and late of the Demorests of Williamsport, proved the star hitter of the day and aroused great enthusiasm by his two bagger and three bagger. Up to the time the game was over he had struck the people were of the impression that there wasn't a man on the home team who could get the ball outside the diamond. Musser's work broke the ice and several of the players found the ball after.

The following is the score:

Wild pitches—Kutzner, 3. Time of game—2 hours and 40 minutes. Umpire—Dalton.

DIAMOND DOTS.

"Tommy" Dalton made a very fair umpire. He mislaid his telephone during the opening of the game and failed to hear one or two foul tips. His work during the rest of the game showed that these errors were due to a fault of the ear and not of the heart.

Mulderig is the latest acquisition of the home team. He is said to be an excellent pitcher.

Setley and Fulmer will be the battery against the Royersforths.

The batting order of the Royersforths will be McKenzie, ss.; Meyer, 1b.; Stevenson, rf.; Cappel, 3b.; Roth, c.; Chilas, 1b.; Stout, 2b.; Lendon, cf.; Cummings, p.; Hess, p. and tenth man.

The home team played at Ashland to-day.

Unless the bump of conceit on "Cappy" Martin's head is considerably reduced he will not wear a Shenandoah uniform this season. He holds his services at too high a figure.

The home management has the grounds in excellent shape. One excellent change is a designation of a part of the grounds for carriages so that they can in no way interfere with the players. With a score board and a place for the scorers the arrangements will be complete.

The new pleasure resort at Beaverdale will be named the Mt. Carmel National Park. A base ball diamond and bicycle track will be made, and the projectors of the scheme are Joseph Young and James Nolan.

Little Toman covered ground in a remarkably clever manner yesterday.

This will be the batting order of the Shenandoah team in the game against Royersford: Fulmer, c.; Setley, p.; Toman, ss.; Musser, 3b.; Mulderig, 1b.; Reilly, 3b.; Schultz, rf.; Toole, lf.; Henry, cf.

Mulderig and Reilly formed the Shenandoah battery at Ashland to-day.

Lewis was released by the home management this morning.

Church Specials.

The subject of Rev. John Bath's discourse to-morrow morning, in the Primitive Methodist church, will be "A preacher's conversing, call, ordination, work and its results." In the evening he will take up "The power of the Keys, binding and loosing."

In connection with the regular service in the Presbyterian church to-morrow morning there will be baptismal services, when a number of children will be baptized. The evening session will be devoted to Child exercises. The church will be handsomely decorated with flowers and much time has been spent to make the program an impressive one.

Mrs. Rice, the evangelist, is still meeting with excellent success at the Evangelical church and is making a large number of converts nightly, but on account of engagements elsewhere the lady is compelled to announce that to-night and to-morrow night will positively be her last here for the present.

Children's Day services will be held in the Trinity Reformed church to-morrow.

Oysters and little neck clams nicely served at McElhenney's cafe. 6-30 ft

Another Large Shipment.

The collieries in this district are now being worked to their full capacity in order to meet the increased demand for anthracite coal occasioned by the strike of the bituminous miners. The Hill colliery, of which Thomas Williams is outside foreman, made a large shipment yesterday. They hoisted 907 cars of coal and 4 of rock, and shipped to market 414 loaded cars. This is considered a very large shipment, and the officials at the colliery pride themselves upon the increased output.

Hard and soft shell crabs and prime lobsters served at McElhenney's cafe. 1f

The Convention.

We are again impromptu to remind the people that a convention of the German Catholic societies will be held here on Tuesday, next. There will be a large number of societies and many strangers in the town and it is hoped the citizens will decorate the business places and residences and make other preparations. The local society has made a contract with professional decorators, but would also like to have the co-operation of the citizens.

Excellent bill of fare always in readiness at McElhenney's cafe. 1f

Change of Name.

The Messrs. Foster have changed the title of their excellent journal to that of "Colliery Engineer and Metal Worker." This publication is on solid footing and on the high road to success. Its circulation is now very large and its advertising patronage is most encouraging. It is a welcome visitor to every intelligent coal or metal worker all over the world.

I. O. O. F. Invitation.

All members of Plank Ridge Lodge No. 880, I. O. O. F., are respectfully requested to attend their 30th anniversary, to be held in Robbins' hall, corner of Main and Oak streets, on Monday evening, June 11th.

E. D. BEDDALL, Sec'y.

A Fast Trip.

Engineer Albert Dent, of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, made a remarkably quick trip over the Lizard Creek branch the other day. He was in charge of engine No. 612, drawing a special train with officials of the road on board, and made a run of 74 miles in one hour.

The "X" Program.

The program at the meeting of the "Y" this evening, which has been published in detail, will be given in honor of the anniversary of the Flower Mission connected with that organization, and will no doubt prove quite interesting.

Brecker Won.

At the saloon of Anthony Schimicker, South Main street, on Thursday evening, in the pool match between the proprietor and Frank Brecker, the latter won by six points. Brecker made one run of twenty-four points during the game.
