SERVICES AT CHURCH

Children's Day Prettily Observed in Two Places.

DECORATIONS PROFUSE!

The Young People of the Presbyterian and Trinity Reformed Churches Indulge in Sacred Songs, Recitations and Responsive Readings.

Children's Day was observed in the First Presbyterian church, at the corner of White and Oak streets, on Sunday in a very appropriate manner. The exercises were the most impressive ever held in the church on a like occasion and the attendance at both the morning and evening sessions was very large.

The interior of the edifice was elaborately decorated with laurel festoons, evergreens, flowers and plants, all very beautiful and throwing out a delightful fragrance.

In the morning Rev. T. M. Morrison baptized three children, which was attended by impressive ceremonies.

In the evening the children and young people of the church carried out a very pleasing service of sacred song and scriptural readings and recitations. The recitations were: Singing, "Hosanna to Son of David"; scripture reading; prayer; pastor; singing, "A Song of Praise"; recitation, Gertrude Muir; duet, either accompaniment, Alice and Maggie Beddall; recitation, Mary Pomeroy; singing, "Building Day by Day"; scripture reading; double quartette, Miss Ramage and party; primary extempore; recitation, Mary Dunlop; singing, Two Builders; recitation, Viola Fielders, Ida Williams, Lucy Crawford and Bertha Holderman; reading, off to sing and anthem; recitation, George Watson; singing; address, pastor; "Jesus Shall Reign"; benediction.

Children's Day service was also held in the Trinity Reformed church, on West Lloyd street, last evening. Rev. Robert O'Boyle, the pastor, preached a very interesting sermon appropriate to the occasion and a large class of children rendered a service entitled, "Gather them in," which many beautiful sacred songs, recitations and responsive readings were introduced.

The interior of the church was decorated with a profusion of plants and flowers, a feature being a floral "Cross and Crown" about ten feet high and four feet in width, filling the space within the chancel rail. The baptismal font and the windows were also very beautifully decorated. The attendance at the service was very large.

HEAD SPLIT OPEN.

The Result of a Bloodthirsty Quarrel at Gilberton.

GILBERTON, June 11.—John Connors and Joe Wagner fought here at 11 o'clock Sunday morning and Connors now lies at his home nursing a five-inch gash over the right ear which he received from a club in the hands of Joe Wagner.

Both men are residents of this place. The quarrel started on Saturday night when Wagner, it is reported, shot Connors' hat from his head with a revolver. Yesterday morning another contention arose between the pair and resulted in Wagner's resort to a club. The wound was a bad one. It was dressed by Dr. Ritz, of this place. Wagner made his escape.

ALTOONA BEAT US!

Immense Crowd Witnessed Our Players' Defeat.

SOME PRETTY FEATURES

Setley's Arm Gave Out and he Retired From the Box—Enthusiasm Aroused Over a Timely Home Run—Toole Makes Another Acrobatic Catch.

Fully twenty-five hundred people witnessed the defeat of the home team by the Altoona club on the Trotting park base ball grounds and had an opportunity to judge well the spots of the home diamond chasers in which the greatest weaknesses prevail.

Notwithstanding the large margin by which the visitors won the game and the heavy batting they indulged in the home club made a very gallant uphill fight. That most of the players were outclassed there can be no doubt. In fact the management did not look for a victory. Before the game started some of the officials said they would be satisfied if the ponies would try to put up a game that would show the spectators that they tried to win.

As a matter of fact the Altoona club was an eleventh hour acquisition of the management. The Royersford held the date all last week until Saturday afternoon when they found they could not come. The Phoenixville telegraphed late in the day that they would fill the date, but in the evening again telegraphed that they could not come and if ever there was a base ball manager in hot water Mr. J. Reilly was one. He spent over three dollars in telegrams before he received assurance at 11 p. m. that the Altoona would be on deck. This is a full explanation as to why it was not definitely known by many people until almost the last moment what Altoona would play here. The uncertainty caused some rumors of "fake," but the truth of the matter is the management exerted itself in face of a sore disappointment to give the people a good return for their money.

The Altoona took a winning lead in the first inning by making three singles and a two-bagger off Setley's delivery. The pitcher's arm was in poor condition, but he struggled along with pretty fair success until the fourth inning, when a base on balls and another hit discouraged him and he retired from the box, taking Henry's place in right field. Mulderig succeeded Setley. The very first man who went to the bat after the change, Yonngman, checked the ball for a three-bagger, and for the rest of the game Mulderig held the visitors down to four singles and a two-bagger.

The visitors were full of blooded sluggers and put the home team to a test. They brought out some very pretty hitting. Little Toman did excellent work at short and figured in two exciting double plays. In the sixth inning, after the visitors had scored two runs by a double, a single and two passed balls, Cote retired the side by an acrobatic catch. Little Toman did excellent work at short and figured in two exciting double plays. In the sixth inning, after the visitors had scored two runs by a double, a single and two passed balls, Cote retired the side by an acrobatic catch.

Up to the close of the fifth inning Shenandoah proved very ineffectual at the bat and for the rest of the game Mulderig in the sixth inning Reilly started out with a hit and was advanced to second on Toole getting his base on balls. Henry went out on a foul fly caught by Cote and Fulmer was retired on a fly to third base. Then came the star play of the day, Joe Toole sent a long drive to loose right field, bringing in Reilly and Toole and scoring a home run. Enthusiasm ran high, but the score which was thus made 6 to 4 was immediately changed to 1 against them. In the seventh inning the home team got another batting streak. After Toman and Reilly had been retired on flies Setley made a two-bagger and was advanced by Reilly's hit. Hagan's error assisted both men in scoring and when Mulderig and the side were retired by Hartman's throw to first base the score stood 8 to 6 in favor of Altoona. The visitors failed to score in that inning, but in the eighth they made the bases hot and prevented the home players from scoring in that inning and the ninth. The Shenandoahs got a case of bad rattle in the eighth and when three of the visitors were in a fox chase failed to retire any of them.

The Altoona were charged to the bases during the entire game and the only man who succeeded in purloining a bag was Fulmer. The score:

BASE BALL.

Shenandoah won at Ashland on Saturday by a score of 10 to 1. Mulderig held the Ashlands down to one hit for seven innings. Toman is making a record which will surpass that he made here last year. Shenandoah could not rely upon its base stealing, and Fulmer didn't let the visitors steal any. The latter is a good 'un.

The Barnum and Forepaugh shows will be looking for Toole.

The grand stand was not large enough for the Altoona game.

We have a pretty good club but when we run up against state league teams we need better.

Considering the odds against them our team did well against the Altoona.

Setley's arm is evidently out of gear.

The two passed balls which allowed the two runs to be scored were due to an injury to one of Fulmer's fingers.

The Lakeside Electric Railway helps to swell the throngs at the park.

Altoona got a big guarantee for filling in the Royersford date. The home management will play here to-morrow.

Boys under sixteen years of age will not be admitted to Sunday games. A notice in large letters to this effect is posted at park entrance.

A meeting was held in the P. M. church yesterday at which a committee from each Sunday school was appointed to circulate a petition against Sunday base ball games.

Ashland will play here to-morrow.

George Colby, of town, has the reputation of being an excellent catcher and a first-class batter. He would like to join the home team.

Toman received on Saturday a telegram from Manager Dorsher, of the Binghamton, N. Y., team asking him to report to that club at Providence, R. I. No railroad or steamboat ticket accompanied the instructions and Toman telegraphed back: "As I have no airship or balloon, how can I report?" Echo thus far answers, "How?"

RUNAWAY TRAIN.

A Serious Accident Narrowly Averted Near Lost Creek.

Shortly before nine o'clock this morning there was an accident on the L. V. Railroad near Lost Creek which almost resulted with disastrous effect, a passenger train narrowly escaping collision with a train of loaded coal cars.

The coal train had been standing on a siding at Packer No. 2 colliery and as it was being run down the grade toward engine waiting for it the brakeman lost control and the train ran away.

The men in charge of the coal engine took in the situation at a glance and full steam was put on, but the momentum was so great that the runaway train overtook the engine before it could get headway. The cars and engine came together with a tremendous crash and a great cloud of dust was raised, but not a wheel left the rails.

Just before the crash the passenger train bound from Ashland to Shenandoah approached, but the engineer also took in the situation in time to reverse his engine and run his train in an opposite direction, out of danger.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

Items of News Concerning the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

The shops at Delano are working full time these days.

All locomotive boilers are subjected to an examination once a month. This is a new rule.

The two large engines which were built for Cox's D. S. S. Railroad and which were recently transferred to the Lehigh Valley Company, because they were too large for the bridges of the former road, will soon be put in freight service on the Mahanoy division. They are the largest owned by the company. They weigh 70 tons each, the boilers are 72 inches in diameter, the cylinders are 22 inches in diameter and have 28-inch strokes, and the driving wheels are five feet high. The tanks only have three pairs of wheels and they are connected by equalizing beams. The engines are equipped with the latest air brake improvements. Traveling Engineer McMillan had one of the engines out on trial on Saturday.

Excellent bill of fare always in readiness at McElhenny's cafe. tf

Shenandoah in the South.

From the Bluefield (W. V.) Telegraph, a copy of which has just been received at this office, we notice that Mr. W. A. Cather, a former resident of this town, has become quite prominent in the industrial interests of Bluefield and has applied to the Council of that place for a franchise supply the town with electric power and light.

Citizens Decorate. Quite a number of our townsmen have decorated their business places handsomely in preparation for the convention of the German Catholic societies, which is to be held here to-morrow, and a large number who are behind in the work say they will step into line to-night. It is expected that the convention will draw a large number of strangers into the town.

Collieries Resuming.

Ellengowan colliery resumed operations this morning after an idleness of three weeks resulting from the floods.

It is believed that West Shenandoah colliery will be sufficiently relieved of water by to-morrow, or Wednesday, to permit a resumption of operations.
