COSTLY FOLLY.

Nothing illustrates the blind folly of mob better, says the Pittsburg Times than its usual disposition to smash and burn things. If the mob which has already set its hand to such work in a small way about McKeesport should rise to the frenzy of leveling the tube works to the ground and dumping all the machinery into the river, so that men could find the slace where it now stands only as a great mere of vacant ground, it wouldn't cost the tube works company a cent, beyond its share in the county taxes necessary to pay its bill of damages. The county of Allegheny is responsible, and every taxable citizen would have to pay his share of the cost, just as we are still paying every year for the millions of dollars worth of Pennsylvania railroad property surned up one mad mob day in 1877. When a mob destroys the property of a firm or corporation with which it is fighting, it takes a shingle off the roof and money out of the pocket of werybody in the county. And when a sommunity ignores the appeal not only of days. authority, but of reason, and lends its sheers and encouragement to rioting and disorder, it does itself a greater permanent injury than any temporary advantage can repay. It sends its name tate of over $100,000 in public bequests to throughout the country to be remembered men will healtate to go with an Investment or to find a home. This is costly and dangerous folly which the people of McKeesport are permitting to go on in and Vigilant. In the Thames Yacht club their young city, and the cost of it will race Saturday the Britannia defeated the fall heaviest on themselves.

"STOP THAT JABBING!"

The Governor of Colorado has heard that the Sheriff's posse and the miners are shooting at each other, and sends in baste to say that if they do not stop fighting he will order the state troops to Cripple Creek to compel a peace. This ald fraud must be a lineal descendant of an old recluse named Leonard, who imagned he had commanded a company attring the war of 1812. He said on one occasion be was ordered to take a gun, which the British were using to annoy the American troops, and that reflecting on the importance of keeping the officer in pharge out of range, he sent on his company and took shelter behind a stone fence. To his great surprise, his company charged upon the gun and its crew, and began to use their bayonets at close quarters. This so exercised him that he climbed on top of the wall and shouted "Stop that jabbing! You'll sartin hurt somebody !

Poor old Waite! He has backed and Misd, and backed and filled, until he has decome a langhing-stock. When the sheriff called upon him for troops, he wedered the Sheriff to assemble his posses and restore order. The Sheriff assembled deputies, and the Governor sent on the process. Then he sent word after the process to do nothing until he should get on the ground and arbitrate. He arbitrated, withdrew the troops, and went back to Denver. The miners refused to abide by the terms of arbitration, and began to destroy property. Then the Sheriff arose and set about dispersing the mob. Then the Governor awoke from his normal stupor, and sent word to stop shooting or he would send on the militia. There is where the old fraud Waite is at When the troops get there the old man will telegraph to do nothing until he gets there. There ought to be a fourth orporal out there to ignore the dispatches on the ground that he cannot read, and then go on to end that row.

Strikers Burn a Bridge.

New Philadelphia, O., June II.— Miners burned over a hundred feet of trestle on the Cleveland, Israine and Wheeling railway at Goshen, three miles south of here. They threatened to kill two bridge guards who ran here and alarmed the operator. Bridgemen called from Ulrichville are repairing the trestle. About a hundred men are working. Sher iff Adams was appealed to guard bridges at Midvale, Strassburg and Dover. Nearly all the bridges are wood, and four deputy sheriffs guarded each last night. Two regiments of state troops will be dis-tributed along the read.

The Situation in Illinois.

SPRINGPIELD, His., June 11.—Governor Altgeld received a telegram from Colone Balley, from Pana, saying that the First regiment had arrived there. Everything was quiet, and no trouble was at hand the miners being overawed by the presence of so many troops. General Orendorff took an engine and coach from here and went to Pana to ascertain the exact situstion of affairs. The Associated Press rep resentative has just seen the governor, who says there is nothing new and no more troops have been ordered out. The governor thinks the trouble at Pana will amount to nothing.

Women Attack the "Scaba."

THINDAD, Colo., June 11.—At the So-oris mines a party of women, wives of the strikers, stationed themselves at the opening to the mine and attempted by abusive language and throwing stones to prevent the men from going to work. A WOMAN'S BURDENS

COKERS FIGHT

Another Deadly Battle Between Strikers and Deputies.

ONE KILLED, TWO FATALLY HURT.

The Fatalities Were Confined to the Strikers, Who Started the Fight-It Is Belisted That Four "Scabe" Captured by the Strikers Have Been Killed.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 11.-The truce is ended, and again the armed deputies to the coke regions have made a killing. One striker killed in his boots, two others dying and another shot through is the re-suit of a battle yesterday at Lemont. There were six deputies on one side and a mob of strikers on the other. Unbiased testimony is to the effect that the mob not only provoked, but compelled the deputies to fire on them, after the strikers had compelled them to retreat, and had fired several shots at them.

The circumstances that led up to this latest of the many tragedies of the coke region were developing since Saturday afternoon. Four American workmen, John Delaney, Oliver Attleby, John Britt and James Furlough, who live at Leisenring, have been working at the Frick Coke com-pany's Valley works for some time. They came to New Haven Saturday afternoon, where they were to take the Leisen-ring electric road for home, where they have not been for a month.

As soon as they alighted from the train at New Haven they were surrounded by a mob of several hundred strikers. The mob of several hundred strikers. The atrikers first beat the four workmen and then put tags on them hearing the inscription "blacklegs," also covering them with chalk marks. They then marched their prisoners to all the works on the line from New Haven south, holding them up as decorated samples of "scabs" for the revillings and abuse of strikers everywhere. The four prisoners were subjected to all manner of insults and indignities to such an extent that many of the more rasuch an extent that many of the more ra-tional strikers protested that it was cruel and cowardly for so many men to assail four helpless fellows in that way. When one crowd had tired of the prisoners or were pressed closely by the pur-suit the four prisoners were handed over to another crowd, and the former gathering would disperse to their homes. The prisoners were especially ill treated when their captors marched them to their homes, where the women and children slapped and spat upon them and called them vile names. The little children screamed "blacklegs" at them and struck

The Frick Coke company were in formed of the perilous position their work-men were in. Field Deputy Matt Allen and six men were immediately sent to New Haven on the evening train. They were missed by fairs information. It was day-light when the squad of tired deputies reached Lamont, where the fight took place. They had been joined by Superintendent Slater, of the Leisenring plant, who had helped in the all night hunt.

Not long after daylight the men began o assemble on the commons by the hun-red. They engaged in the wildest demonstrations, and it is thought that they then had the four captives in their possession. When the deputies were discov ered the mob raised a howl and sur-rounded them. Many of the strikers had revolvers, and all carried clubs. They moved against the deputies who retreated under a shower of clubs and stones. Riding up to the advancing crowd of miners Deputy Allen told them to go back, saying he did not want any trouble, and that there would be trouble if he or his men were attacked or injured. The answer to Allen was a general yell, and one of the strikers covered him with his pistol and fired. The shot was a close shave for the top of Allen's head.

The deputies opened fire together, and the strikers stood to it and fought gamely The first shots were fired by them, and they fired as coolly and as rapidly as did the deputies, and they kept closing in on the men who were working the Winches-ters until they were driven to the extreme end of the company's ground, where they made a stand. By that time three of the strikers were down and several others were wounded. The strikers began at once to carry away their wounded. The dead man and two who were fatally wounded were left in the road where they

The number of wounded may not be known for several days, as they will be concealed where concealment is possible. Allen estimates that fifty or sixty shots were fired by both sides. The two Slavs who were fatally shot can live but a short time. The names of the dead and wounded Wilmington, Del., June 11.—Mrs. Dan-iel Bellfield, of Maryland avenue, put her strikers knew them, and they refuse to tell who the men were or give any information of any kind under any circumstances.

men held as prisoners by the strikers has been seen, and it is feared that they have been murdered by the strikers in revenge for the loss of the men hurt in yesterday's battle. Twelve arrests have been made, and at least 200 more will follow.

Commissioner Boynton, in command of the deputies, was shown the order, and immediately wired his attorney, Hon. C. S. Thomas, of this city, for advice. Mr. Thomas, sent the following reply: "The sheriff of the county engaged in suforcing order, subduing or attempting to subdue armed resistance to the law or the authorities, or in overcoming those who defy the service of process, is dis-tharging the obligations of his office and maintaining civil government. In doing this he may call to his aid and deputize as many citizens as may be necessary, and no power, not even the federal government, has lawful authority to interfere with or disarm him."

Boynton denies that Sheriff Bowers has lost control of his men or that they are a disorderly body.

THE STRIKE IN WEST VIRGINIA All the Troops in the State Will be Called Out If Nacestary.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 11.—Gov-ernor McCorkle is evidently perplexed at the condition of affairs at Boggs Run. A telegram received at 11 o'clock yesterday stated that a roal train had just been brought past the strikers without any trouble, and a dispatch received a short while after contained the information that a train had just been stopped by strikers a short distance below Moundsville and that two companies of military would be sent at once to disperse the meb. The character of all the information that the governor had received up to the reception of this last telegram indicated that the trouble had practically ended and he hoped to be able to withdraw the military probably within a very short time.

This last outbrenk, however, only con firms his original view that the trouble is too deep seated to be settled by the show of force on the scene. He said to an As-sociated Press representative today that he had eleven companies at Boggs Run, and that the entire military force of the state will be used if necessary in moving coal into Ohio and Pennsylvania. Since Adjutant General Holley has gone to Boggs Run his office is closed and Gov-ernor McCorkle communicates with the troops from his residence. He now has a wire direct to Boggs Run

The miners made a demonstration is if to throw stones, but were warned that the soldiers would fire if stones were used. Returning from the attack on the signal station to the rail-road bridge a striker planted himself squarely in the way of the troops. An of-ficer knocked him out of the way. Fully 100 men and women gathered at the bridge, heaping abuse on the soldiers, and rushed on to the tracks and defied the troops. The order to charge was given and the mob dispersed at the point of the
