At the hearing, which took place late last night Lawyer Foster appeared for the pros-centor and proved that Sagotis was ar-rested by Alex at the instance of the saloonkceper. It is alleged the arrest was made without just cause. Chimiel-ski was required to furnished $000 bail and Alex was bound over in $000. The above is a sequel to a suit which the saloonkceper was the prosecutor. Chimielski alleged that Sagotis and another man visited his saloon and called for beer and that Sagotis refued to pay for the beer until Chimielski would buy a raffle ticket. Alex was then requested to arrest Sagotis and he did so.

P-wough Council.

Preough Cruncil, A meeting of the Borough Conneil was held last ever ing in the Council chamber, at which were present the following members: Molive, Kane, Melusky, Stout, Finney, James, Straughn, Gable, Kerns, Gaffigan, Gallacher, Dougherty and Hand. The meeting was called to consider the exoneration lists of Collector Higgins. The latter gentleman was present, and the question under consider-ation was disconsed at some length when it was finally decided to hold meetings met week by wards and going over the lists with the collector, beginning with the First ward on Monday evening. In this way it is thought that hundreds of mames that now appear upon the exonera-tion lists can be reached. Engineer Womeldorf was also present at the works. The object of his visit at this time was to urge upon Council to increase by the storm. The matter was left in the store in he water committee with in-atoristic of the water councils and scertain how much money has been ex-pended upon the project up to the present inter it is expected the works will be in operations by September.

the teachers in some of the other rooms. In the excitement that followed one or two of the other teachers said that just before the fall they heard a noise similar to that caused by a shot in the mines, and it was suggested that the plas ter had been knocked down by the shock from a shot fired in the mine workings under the building. This, of course, added to the excitement and the six schools were speedily dismissed, the echoiars leaving the building in perfect order. Many of the children ran home to tell their parents of the occurrence and of course their version of the affair became more magnified according to the distance they had to travel. Among those who hurried to the build-ing were School Directors Coury, Mul doon and Hanna and Superintendent Wbitaker and after an examination of the building they concluded that there was no cause for alarm; that the fall of plaster was due to a defect in the making of the ceiling and the piece that fell hao probably been hanging by a slender thread from the time the building sank a little a .ew years ago. from the time the building sank a little a , ew years ago. The directors examined all the rooms and the brick and foundation walls and did not find the slightest indication of a shake. They scouted the version that a shot in the mines had caused the fall or that the building had been shaken by anything other than the falling plaster. The dismissal of the schools was severely criticized. All the schools in the building were re-opened after the dinner hour and the teachers have assurances that the build ing is not only safe, but that they need have no apprehensions of shocks from blasts in the mines.

Beaten and Assaulted.

Heaten and Assaulted. Miss Bertha Hagemeyer was beaten, robbed and criminally assaulted by an unknown man ou the outskirts of Ashland Monday night. The attack was made at the footbridge near the gas house when the young woman was on her way home. The villan grabbed the young woman by the throat and, threatening to kill her ff she made an outcry, carried her to a clump of laurel bushes. After he accom-plished his dastardly purpose the non-disappeared and has not been seen since. Miss Hagemeyer is in a critical condition at her bome in Oakhand, as subarbof Ash-and. She is employed as maid by Mrs. Lewis Hause, of Ashland, mother of Mrs. E. B. Huncer, of town.

Fing Day.

Fig Day. To-morrow has been designated as flag day. It is the lifth anniversary of the adoption of the stars and stripes as the emblem of this country. It is to be hoped that the occasion will be observed in an appropriate manner by all citizens. Let the flag float from every building in the town, to the end that it may leave its im-press upon the minds of the young as well as the old. Every American loves to honor the flag of his country, and to see it wave in the breeze stirs a patriotic de-votion similar to that which animated the breasts of those of colonial days. Therefore, lot the stars and stripes be dis-played all over the town to morrow that played all over the town to morrow that it may instill into the minds of the rising generation a similar devotion.
