POLITICAL POINTS.

The warm weather isn't interfering with the candidates. It will be hot enough for some of them on election day.

The politicians who are grooming Gen. Hastings for the Presidency should first let him get warm in the gubernatorial chair.

There is no law to prevent every voter in town becoming an aspirant for office, but the people eventually decide the question.

The locusts have become so plentiful that there is scarcely room enough left for more candidates to announce themselves for office.

Senator Quay would make a hustling candidate for President. We believe, however, he is working for his colleague, Senator Cameron...

Col. Tom Stewart, of Norrisstown, is frequently mentioned as the next Adjutant-General under Hastings. It is seldom that "Tom" gets left, but he should stand aside and give the other fellows a chance.

The snubbing that was given Governor McKinley by a few misguided Democratic and Populist workmen, doesn't seem to have made the least impression upon Ohio's governor. He is not a demagogue by any means, and can always be depended upon to do his duty.

Quite a number of Democrats in town are patiently waiting for their friends to ask them to come out for office. While we believe the office should seek the man, still in practical politics every tin must stand upon its own bottom.

If you want an office say so, and don't be backward, as Democratic office-seekers are hard to find in these ten-cent-Jimmy times.

THE ALLEN TRIAL.

Very Little Interest Being Manifested in the Case. Special to the Herald.

POTTSVILLE, June 22.—Very little interest is being manifested in the trial of County Commissioner Charles F. Allen, and still less is taken in the result of the deliberations of the jury from the fact that everyone, even some of those who are pushing the prosecution, expect a verdict of acquittal. In no other case tried before the court in the past two or three years has there been so little evidence to sustain a charge.

The District Attorney has made the statement that he had nothing to do with the drawing up of the indictment; that certain lawyers, who are working the prosecution, drew up that document. The defense called the District Attorney for the purpose of showing that neither he nor any of his deputies drew up the indictment, but upon the objections of the Commonwealth his evidence was not allowed.

A number of witnesses were called by the defense to testify as to Mr. Allen's good character, and among the number were Daniel Shepp, Squibb, Prager, J. C. Schadd, K. K. Conrad, Robert Carter, E. C. Job, J. C. Farley, Thomas Purcell, Sig. Livingston and Dr. Coble, all of whom spoke highly of the defendant.

The defense submitted in evidence two letters, one written by George Heffner to Mr. Allen asking for the appointment of janitor at the court house, and another from Charles Hause, asking for the appointment of policeman, janitor or something else.

John F. Gressang, of Pottsville, was called by the Commonwealth for the purpose of contradicting the testimony of Frank J. Alber. Witness remembered hearing Charles Hause make an affidavit early in January concerning the meeting between Allen, Alber and Hause in "Jimber's" saloon. Hause said Allen left the saloon first and beckoned him to follow, which he did, Alber going in another direction. Witness said he had a conversation with Alber, a short time after Hause made his statement, and reported to Alber what Hause had made affidavit to. Alber told witness Hause's statement was true with the exception of the matter of purchasing drinks. Alber claiming he bought the drinks. Witness said this ended his conversation with Alber.

Gressang examination witness said he was interested in the prosecution of the case, and that he had been a candidate for the position of warden at the county jail. He had visited Tamaqua for the purpose of getting Dunkelberger to withdraw from the contest.

Gressang stated that R. H. Koch advised him to see Young, brother-in-law of Dunkelberger, about getting the latter out of the fight. He did so, but without success. The witness stated that Dunkelberger told him he was in the fight, which will in all probability be concluded to-morrow afternoon, and perhaps earlier.

The only development in the case to-day was a decision by Judge Weidman, granting District Attorney Ryan permission to amend the indictment to overcome the defects pointed out by the defense.

It is quite likely the case will be closed this evening, with the exception of the summing up and charge to the jury, which will in all probability be concluded to-morrow afternoon, and perhaps earlier.
