All that's Yellow is not Cottolene

There's hardly a housekeeper in the country but has heard of Cottolene the new vegetable shortening. It is a strictly natural product; composed only of clarified cotton seed oil, thickened for convenience in use, with refined beef suet, pure and sweet. So composed,

COTTOLENE

Was bound to win, and to drive out lard from the kitchens of the world. When housekeepers wish to get rid of the unpleasant features and results of lard, they should get Cottolene, taking care that they are not given cheap imitations with vegetable names spuriously compounded to sell in the place of Cottolene.

It's easy to avoid disappointment and ensure satisfaction. Insist on having Cottolene.

FISHERMEN DROWNED.

Terrible Accident to a Party of New York Excursionists.

TWENTY-FOUR LIVES SACRIFICED.

The Tug James D. Nichols, Overcrowded with Passengers, Goes to the Bottom Four Miles from Scotland Lightship. Only Fifty-four Rescued.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The tug James D. Nichol, with sixty-three excursionists and a crew numbering twelve, sank at about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon some three miles off the Highlands. Fifty-four of those on board have been accounted for. The rest were probably drowned.

The tug left Fifth street and the East river at 7:30 a. m., touched at Pier 3, East river, and then went on to the fishing grounds. She had, it is said, a license to carry fifty passengers, but sixty-three tickets were sold. There was a bar and a lunch counter on board, where attendants, with the crew, brought the whole number on board up to about seventy-five.

The tug reached the banks on time, but the fishing was poor and the sea too rough for comfort, and about noon she started back. When about three miles east of the Highlands and about four miles south of Scotland lightship the waves began to break over her starboard rail heavily. To dodge the water and the wind the passengers began to run around to the port side and to climb on top of the deck house. The boat careened alarmingly to port, and the water swept in over the rail. The terror stricken men rushed back to starboard, and the tug swung deeply down on that side. At the same time three heavy breakers struck the boat in quick succession.

The captain, William Hyatt, stuck pluckily to his post, and sounded the whistle in a prolonged scream for help. Even as he did so the tug filled with the water that poured into her from both sides, and went down like a stone, carrying many of her passengers with her.

The water choked the cry of the whistle, but not before it had been heard and heeded. The Clyde steamship Algonquin, a mile away, heard it, and swung round to go back to the rescue. The tugs Wallace S. Flint, R. J. Moran and Governor also hurried toward the spot. From farther away came the C. E. Evarts.

The Algonquin sent her lifeboat, with First Officers A. M. Rich and four sailors. They picked up ten men, one of whom, however, died a few moments later. The tugs rescued the others who remained afloat. Some few had life belts on, but most of them were clinging to bits of wreckage. A life raft supported a dozen and the top of the pilot house as many more.

The unconscious man picked up by the Algonquin was found in the Nichol's lifeboat. He was under the thwarts, and entangled in fishing lines. The boat, practically unsinkable, was floating right side up, but was full of water.

The Algonquin brought those she had picked up to the city. The living dispersed to their homes and the dead body, which has not been identified, was sent to the morgue. All were people bearing German names and living on the lower east side of the city.

Some of the tugs, not wishing to come to the city, transferred the men they had saved to other tugs. The Sayers brought up thirty-four survivors and landed them on the east side. The C. E. Evarts brought up two bodies and several survivors. The Governor is supposed to have landed others in Brooklyn. Altogether fifty-four out of the seventy-five have been accounted for, three of them being dead.

The propellor Neptune, having on board a large party of fishermen, members of the Earnest and Peffer Fishing clubs, went to the fishing banks yesterday. While there Michael Schaefton, who was sitting on the rail on the lower deck, was thrown overboard by the tossing of the vessel. It was fifteen minutes before he was gotten aboard, and it was impossible for the rescuers to restore animation. At Quarantine Dr. A. F. Tallmadge pronounced the man dead.

Five Drowned While Yachting.

BROOKLYN, June 25.—A catboat was capsized by a sudden squall yesterday off the Atlantic Yacht club house, at the foot of Fifty-sixth street. A pleasure party, consisting of six people—two men, two women, a boy and a 2-year-old girl—were thrown in the water. The Atlantic Yacht club's steam launch at once put out to the rescue, but only the little girl was saved. One of the men had worked heroically to keep the little girl's head above water, and when she was taken from his grasp, his strength being spent, he sank and drowned before help could reach him.

Three Drowned on Lake St. Clair.

DETROIT, June 25.—By the capsizing of the electric launch Ellen W. during a squall on Lake St. Clair yesterday afternoon three persons were drowned and two others narrowly escaped a similar fate. The drowned are Caleb E. Healey and the Misses Katie and Maggie Ortwine.

Brothers Drowned While Bathing.

SUMNER, Ills., June 25.—Samuel and Adam Hockman, aged 13 and 15 years, respectively, sons of William Hockman, living nine miles north of this city, were drowned in Embarass river while swimming.

A Little Peacemaker Brutally Kicked.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., June 25.—Ella Regan, a 10-year-old girl, is lying in a precarious condition, suffering from the effects of a kick in the abdomen by Edward Boyle, 13 years of age. Boyle and the girl are employed in the thread mill. Boyle began fighting with another boy, and kicked the girl because she urged him to stop.

Bald Heads Go With Big Beards.

"You'll have a bald head before many years," said a barber to a customer. "Why? Well, it's a very easy matter to tell. Now, while it would be to my interest to sell you tonics or hair restorers, I tell you that nothing you can use will prevent you from becoming bald. I have learned from years of wide experience and keen observation that when a man has an extremely strong beard he will invariably lose the hair on his head. It seems in those cases as if all the strength of the hair went into the beard. I don't give this as a mere theory. I have proved to my own satisfaction that it is true. It might be put down as a rule that the stronger the beard the weaker the hair of the head."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Variety of Climate In Australia.

What is our idea of the Australian climate? It is most probably new to us to be told—perhaps we have never even thought of it—that in the one colony of New South Wales, in parts, the inhabitants experience a winter like Canada and a summer like Jamaica. In Kiandra, a mining town on the borderland between New South Wales and Victoria, there is no communication with the outside world for four months in the year except by the use of snowshoes. Snowshoe races are organized, and the mail man has to use these means of locomotion.

At the same time in Queensland the sun will be pouring down in overpowering strength, drying up all before him and making water dearer than wine. To continue the tale of this diversity of climate, in part of northern Queensland the rainfall and vegetation are not unlike those of Ceylon; in the northern rivers of New South Wales canebrakes flourish, as moist and luxuriant as in Jamaica; in the west of the same colony a long file of camels laden with merchandise has become a common object, and in Tasmania Assam hybrid tea plants grow side by side with barley, maize or potatoes.—All the Year Round.

The Detective's Yarn.

One of the big sleuths in the city had been seen by a citizen who had lost a diamond scarfpin.

"Where did you keep it when you were not wearing it?" he asked of the loser.

"Under the lapel of my waistcoat. Always pinned it there when I didn't wear it in my scarf."

"Ever have your waistcoat scoured at the cleaner and dyer's?"

"Yes, once a year." Then he named the place. The sleuth went to the place and found the missing spark. This in itself is of no consequence. But what the sleuth added may save some worry. "In a city like this," he said, "where so many are accustomed to sending wearing apparel to the scourer and dyer, valuables are likely to be left in a pocket. I have traced a number of such articles to those places. I do not say that all valuables that go in that direction are recovered, but I suggest to people who leave their apparel at the scourer's to examine the pockets first. It may save a whole lot of trouble."—Chicago Herald.

Early Timekeepers.

The clepsydra, or water clock, was used at Babylon at a very early date and was introduced at Rome by Scipio Nasica about the year 158 B. C. Toothed wheels were added to it by Ctesibius about 140 B. C. Some writers aver that they were found to be in use in Britain by Cæsar in the year 55 B. C. The only clock in the world is said to have been sent by Pope Paul I to Pepin, king of France, in the year A. D. 760.—St. Louis Republic.

MINE HORROR IN WALES

Terrible Results of an Explosion of Fire Damp.

TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY KILLED.

Of Two Hundred and Sixty-seven at Work in the Mine Only Seventeen Escaped Alive—The Bodies of the Dead Terribly Mutilated.

PONTY-PRIDD, Wales, June 25.—A terrible explosion of fire damp occurred Saturday afternoon in the Albion colliery, at Gilfynydd, near this place. The force of the explosion may be judged from the fact that a beam fifteen inches by fifteen inches and twenty feet long was blown to a considerable distance from the top of the shaft.

Late last evening the rescuing parties succeeded in extricating a large number of bodies, all of which were sent to the surface. Thus far 142 bodies have been taken from the pit.

It has been ascertained that 267 men and boys descended the shaft on Saturday, and of this number only seventeen have been saved. A large number of bodies were buried beneath the earth. Those not killed by the explosion or crushed to death by the falling earth and rock were undoubtedly asphyxiated by the after damp. The bodies of those recovered, who were killed by the actual explosion, which was terrific, were terribly mutilated. In many cases arms and legs were blown completely from the trunks. Limbs from missing bodies have been found in several parts of the mine. In one place a dozen bodies were found together. The men had evidently been overtaken by the after damp while endeavoring to make their escape.

A telegram was yesterday received from the queen. Her majesty said she was much shocked by the news of the sad disaster, and she expressed her deep sympathy with the families of those who lost their lives. The dispatch adds that the queen awaits with anxiety the results of the brave efforts of the rescuing party.

Bayoneted a Woman.

ADRIAN, Pa., June 25.—A serious riot occurred here last night. L. W. Robinson, superintendent of the Rochester and Pittsburg company, and Sheriff Gourley were stoned, while a Polish woman was bayoneted by a soldier. The sheriff was cut over the eye with a rock and struck with a club on the back. Mr. Robinson has an ugly cut on the chin, but otherwise he is not badly hurt. The Polish woman was the most seriously injured, but it is reported that she will recover. Robinson and Sheriff Gourley brought a carload of special police. The miners thought they were non-union men, and the women stoned the train, being urged on by the men.

Domino and Grady Beaten.

CHICAGO, June 25.—The great American Derby was won Saturday by Rey El Santa Anita, the son of Cheviot. Domino, the hitherto unconquered son of Himyar, ran last in a field of nine starters, played out. Senator Grady, Marcus Daly's colt, finished second, with considerable in him to spare at the close. Domino at no time was better than fourth after the first half mile. Taral pulled him up hard at the close, when it became apparent that the colt was done for. In the pools the winner sold at 40 to 1.

Another Heir to the British Throne.

LONDON, June 25.—A future king of England was born at 9:50 o'clock Saturday evening. The Duchess of York, who is the daughter-in-law of the Prince of Wales, gave birth at White Lodge to a boy, who will some day sit upon the greatest throne on earth, if he lives to mature years and the dynasty is not overthrown by the coming of a republic.

A Canine Rope Walker.

NEWARK, Del., June 25.—J. K. Miller, of this town, is the author of several well trained dogs, one of which, Flossie, is a skillful walker of the tight rope. He proposes to take this dog to Niagara Falls next month, and will send her over the falls on a tight rope, under which will be suspended a net for safety in case the dog falls.

Killed by a Falling Water Tower.

COLUMBUS, O., June 25.—While the fire department was drilling on Broad street the immense water tower toppled over and crashed into a surrey, killing James H. Frederick. Mr. Frederick's wife and a gentleman named Rigby, who were in the surrey, escaped.

A Hundred Cattle Burned to Death.

COATESVILLE, Pa., June 25.—The barn and stock house of N. P. Boyer & Co. were destroyed by fire Saturday night, with 100 head of fine cattle and the black stallion Midnight, valued at $1,500. Loss, $12,000.

A NARROW ESCAPE!

How it Happened.

The following remarkable event in a lady's life will interest the reader: "For a long time I had a terrible pain at my heart, which fluttered almost incessantly. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I would be compelled to sit up in bed and belch gas from my stomach until I thought every minute would be my last. There was a feeling of oppression about my heart, and I was afraid to draw a full breath. I couldn't sweep a room without stirring down and resting; but, thank God, by the help of New Heart Cure all that is past and I feel like another woman. Before using the New Heart Cure I had taken different so-called remedies and been treated by doctors without any benefit until I was much discouraged and disgusted. My husband bought me a bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and am happy to say I never regretted it, as I now have a splendid appetite and been well. I weighed 135 pounds when I began taking the remedy, and now I weigh 170. Its effect in my case has been truly marvelous. It far surpasses any other medicine I have ever taken or any benefit I ever received from physicians."—Mrs. Harry Starr, Greenville, Pa., October 12, 1893.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. This great discovery by an eminent specialist in heart disease, contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.
