CONGRESSMAN REILLY Is now called th Pantata of the Schuylkill Democracy.

THE heavy rains in Kansas forebode good erops, and good crops are synony mous with hard times for the Populists

TEXAS is a great wool-growing state, a Gov. Hogg boastingly asserts; but it won't be when the Democratic tariff bill gutamong its sheep.

THE son born to the Buke and Duches of York gives additional assurance that the throne now occupied by Victoria will not suffer for the want of heirs

It is impossible to point to a single thing that the Democrats have done for the promotion of national presperity since they assumed control of the govgrament.

An exchange observes that the name of the popular magazine that Mr. Ingalis has been invited to take charge of has not transpired. Perhaps it's a powder magazine

Tun only justification of an income tax is the necessity of providing means to sarry on a war, and the people will not indorse such a method of raising revenue under any circumstances.

THE fellows who are not satisfied with the Allen verdict should assemble together and get up a new trial. Perhaps they could find a different verdict than the "twelve men, good and true."

It is reported that the number of steer age passengers going to Europe is now about as large as the number coming from there, and it is to be hoped that this condition will continue indefinitely.

THE Populist Congressman from Colorado, who has lost his voice, is to be par ticularly pitied, as there isn't anything worth mentioning left of a Populist statesman when his vocal energy is gone

It is said that the appearance of the seventeen-year locusts always portends some disaster; but the Democrats do not used an insect of any kind to tell them that there is calamity in store for their party this year.

Normino but Yankee Ingenuity would have invented the idea of manufacturing an island to order and anchoring it eleven miles of the American coast. Will the modern Atalantis be a free and independent country, or what?

Ir McKinley be defeated in his Presidential aspirations he will find himself in grand company. The list of the great disappointed islong and brilliant. Among the names on it are those of Clay, Webster, Crawford, Cass, Marcy, Douglass, Seward, Chase, Breckburidge, Greeley Tilden, Plaine, Sherman, Logan and Edsounds. Some of these were beaten in the convention and others were knocked sof at the polls. A few of them were Bigger men than any who reached the Presidency to their day. It is a pretty high honce for a man to get his name on at ch a roll as this.

JUST THE SIZE OF IT.

The Allen case is at last ended and a pary of twelve men, good and true, have acquitted Mr. Allen of the charges on which he was arraigned. There is little doubt, technically speaking, of Mr. Alleu's guilt, neither is there any doubt but what under a strict interpretation of the law, a single hill official could be found who could pass the ordeal. The jury evidently took the same view of the case that has been taken by our citizens generally-that the osecution was not in the interest of pure politics BUT WAS INSTIGATED EN-TIRELY BY MOTIVES OF REVENUE Every intelligent citizen knows that had Mr. Allen formed an alliance with Mr. Rentz and had voted for the men and neasures that Messrs. Losch, Whitehouse et al., suggested and desired, not a word would have been heard of prosecution and persecution. The Chronicle is not in love with Mr. Allen or his methods but does believe in justice though the heavens fall. Evening Chronicle.

Some one has discovered that not a single American has been brought to the stand yet in the Lexow investigation in New York, and that the policemen of that city accused of blackmail, with one or two exceptions, bear foreign names. All of which proves that "Americans are not in it."

A HERDIC LITTLE MAID.

General Forrest Protected From Federal Bullets by a Brave Guide.

By way of preface to the recitation of his poem, 'The Veterans of the South," at the Birmingham Confederate reunion, Heary Clay Fairman, editor of The Sunny South, related the following thrilling story, given in the Hirmingham Age-Herald, as having been venefied for by General N. B. Forrest himself:

My authority," said the speaker, "is Colonel John Goode of Virginia, who re-lated it to me and two others at Richmond last May, with the remark that nobody ever heard the general repeat the incident without heart thrills and watery eyes.

Forrest, as the story goes, was glowing under the conception of one of those bold and unexpected enterpriess which have im-mortalized him as a knight of the saddle and a cavalry captain of the first class. Night was upon him, and a river was be-

Forrest laughed at the strange word, and the faces of his followers reflected his invincible resolve. The girl looked bravely at the general

"Madam," said the commander, "I am

The child rushed forward impetuously and the anxious mother yielded.
"General, I'll ride behind you," cried the girl, and strong arms lifted her to her place, and the column pressed forward through the dark swamp under the guid-ance of the womanlike little maid.

By paths she led them a mile or two down the river, and at length pointed out the place where the perilous attempt must be made, if made at all. Ordering his men to halt, Forrest rode in to test the ford.

His Body Arrives at the Capital from Lyons.

FRENCHMEN STILL BELLIGERENT.

Further Assaults on Italians at Lyons and Grenobis-Details of the Destruction of the Italian Consulate at Granoble by an Angry Mob.

Panis, June 27.-Madame Carnot re curned to Paris from Lyons yesterday with the remains of the president, coffined in plain oak. The civil and police authorities received her, but no time was spent in vain compliments. About 7,000 persons, chiefly members of the working class, were massed outside the railway station, and from respect were as stient as the tomb. Madame Carnot had on the gray mauve trimmed silk dress and the bonnet she wore nine days ago at the grand prix race, the last state function she was ever to attend as presidente. When the news of the murderous attempt reached Madame Carnot Sunday night she had on this costume, and had no time to change it before hurrying away to Lyons.

Until she came back to the Palace of the Elysee she did not doff her dress. The widow was accompanied by her three sons to Paris. The train was awaited at the terminus by a funeral wagon, tw landaus and a coupe for the officers who went with the president to Lyons. The party were soon conveyed to the Palace of party were soon conveyed to the Palace of the Elysee. Their hearts sank when they found the front of the palace already draped with black and silver hangings. Troops were drawn up in the courtyard and saluted the funeral wagon, which folowed close behind the carriages.

Mme. Carnot has not touched any food since Sunday night, but she was able yes-terday to drink deep draughts of milk flavored with coffee. Her mental and moral vigor sustained her. She is comforted to feel how deeply the poor of Paris feel her bereavement. It was not too much that tens of thousands of mechanics. with their tools on their way from work, filed through the porter's lodge yesterday at the Elysee to write their names in the attend the funeral.

Seemingly M. Carnot's fate tames the ambition of those politicians who covered the presidency. M. Lacour, speaker of the senate, refuses to run for the office. Prine Minister Dupuy seemingly has the best chance but is less keen than M. Caslmir-Perier. The octogenarian Arago, the astronomer's son, is hardly-placed, but because he is so old, and tottering may get. cause he is so old and tottering may get in. M. Brisson, who has been a candidate twice already, has some chance. M. Cas-imir-Perier would just now be dangerous because he is repugnant to the Industrial working classes. While everything remains quiet in this city, there is considerable disorder else where. At Lyons last night a riotous mob gathered and marched upon the northern district of the city. Upon arriving there the rioters attacked and looted a number of stores owned by Italians. During the pillaging a barrel of petroleum exploded and burned three of the rioters to death. Troops were hastily dispatched to the northern district. In addition all the daugerous points about Lyons have been oc-cupied by the military, and most serious trouble is apprehended.

Just as the trouble was be-coming more serious the prefect arrived and induced the Frenchmen to retire.

Another riotous French mob assembled on the Avenue Theiers at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. The Italian cafes were at-tacked and their contents destroyed to some cases and in others they were simply compelled to close. A number of Italian stores were treated in the same manner. The mob marched through the streets shouting, "Down with the Ital The police were unable to dis perse the rioters and several Italians who were met in the streets were benten and

Finally they seized upon two large and handsome oil paintings, representing Hinmbert and Queen Margaret of Italy and threw them into the street. A detachment of military engineers was summoned and the soldiers charged upon the mob. After a short conflict the roters were driven off. The consulate was then occupied by the troops, and the prefect made an apology to the Italian consul. The riotous crowds then apread throughout the city and seized upon all the Italians, men, women and children, and took them to the prefecture, believing that they were to be expelled from the city. The unfortunate Italians were guarded by the police until the disorder had temporarily subsided.

The two leaders of the attack upon the Italian consulate were arrested yesterday and this caused a renewal of the disturbance, which was quelled by troops.

The mayor of Marseilles has issued an address asking the citizens to refrain from molesting Italians, but a strong anti-Italian feeling exists. Twenty-five Italians employed in enlarging the St. Cyr college have been dismissed in deference to the wishes of the other workmen Several building contractors have been warned not to employ Italians.

LABOR'S HOLIDAY

The Bill to Stake It National Now Awaits

the President's Signature, Washington, June 27.—The very warn weather and the uninteresting nature of the proceedings in the house kept both members and sightseers away yesterday, and the chamber wore a somewhat de-serted appearance. The deficiency bill ocserted appearance. The deficiency bill oc-cupied the greater part of the day. A number of bills and resolutions were passed in the morning hour, the most im-portant being a senate bill to make Labor Day a national holiday. The bill requires but the signature of the president to be-come a law. The day set is the first Mon-day in Section between day in September.

The senate spent another day debating the income (ax provisions of the tariff bill without making perceptible progress. Over five hours were devoted to the discussion of two amendments offered by Senator Hill, the first to except the interest on state, county and municipal bonds, and the second to exempt the interest, on state bonds from the operation of the tax The debate drifted into an exhaustive ex-amination of the power of congress and State rights. Three Democrats, Messrs. Gray, Pugh and Caffrey, sided with the New York senator Both amendment-were defeated, however.
