BABY'S LIFE IN THE BALANCE.

The Simple Provenance of Cholera Infantum that is Worth More Than all the Medicines in the World—Lactated Food.

Now infant lives tremble in the balance. Heat and food that fails to nourish, cause cholera infantum and the exhausting diarrhoea that carries off so many babies in July and August.

Where mother's milk is defective or insufficient in nourishing quality, lactated food best supplies the need; for lactated food most closely resembles mother's milk.

Whenever baby's weight fails to show a steady increase the nutrition is for some reason imperfect. Lactated food at these times should be used either altogether or to supplement the natural milk.

The efficacy and nutritive quality of lactated food is today acknowledged by every one.

As a preventive of cholera infantum it is worth more than all the medicines in the world.

As a strength-giver to growing infants nothing can compare with it. As a food that is easy to procure and prepare, and is liked by the little ones themselves, too much cannot be said for it.

It has saved the lives of thousands of infants within the last few years. It has been the food of hundreds of babies who have never been sick. Above is the picture of the one-year-old child of Mrs. Edward Newcom, of Logansport, Ind., which was received the other day, accompanied by the following letter from Mrs. Newcom:

"Our baby had to use artificial food on account of no nurse. We tried several different kinds of infant foods, but none agreed with him until we commenced the use of lactated food. Now he is perfectly healthy. We are still using the food and recommend it to all our friends."

This is the experience of hundreds of mothers in this vicinity and will be the experience of hundreds more.

$100 Reward.

The Shenandoah Base Ball Association will give $100 reward for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who set fire to the grand stand at the Shenandoah Trotting park.

W. S. BRENNAN, President.

Last June, Dick Crawford brought his twelve months old child, suffering from infantile diarrhoea, to me. It had been weaned at four months old and being sickly everything ran through it like water through a sieve. I gave it the usual treatment in such cases but without benefit. The child kept growing thinner until it weighed but little more than when born, or perhaps ten pounds.

ADDRESSING THE JURY

In consist of the forces of nature? A. The forces of nature might be a part of God.

Q. Do you believe that that power is the handwork of the Omnipotent and the Omnipotent God? A. Yes, sir; I think so; that is my belief.

By Mr. Brennan. Q. The God you believe in is that an intellectual God? A. Certainly so; it could not be otherwise.

Q. You were asked whether you were a Unitarian? A. Yes, sir; I am. I believe that God is made in the image of man. You stated before that that part of God is in man and part of man in God?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is not that in the image of man, and man the image of God in that sense? A. In that sense it is certainly so.

Q. What you mean when you say it is not made in the image of God, is he is not flesh and blood? A. Yes, sir; certainly so.

Q. With beard and hair and hands and feet? A. So I said before.

Q. In the image there is a spiritual image with man and God? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were asked whether you were an atheist? Is it not true you have faith in law and government? A. Certainly so.

Q. And that the source of law and government should be in the people? A. Yes, sir; that is my belief.

Q. And that any evils that may exist should be remedied by law and by government in a lawful way? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And not by destruction? A. No, sir, never.

By Mr. Brennan. Q. No, sir.

Q. Nor communism? A. No, sir.

Q. Nor any for against the established authorities as they are? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that no authorities should be overturned except in a legal proper way? A. Yes, sir.

Q. By the will of the people properly and honestly expressed? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You have great respect and admiration for our institutions, have you not? A. I think I would not in come over the Atlantic if I did not expect to find freedom here.

Q. State whether or not you have great respect and admiration for our institutions here? A. Yes, sir; I used to teach my countrymen to do an example from this country in every respect.

Q. You teach them that yet wherever you get an opportunity? A. Yes, sir, especially in the public schools. I was an editor and always trying to sustain them.

Q. Do you believe in education? A. Certainly so.

Q. And advised it and encouraged it? A. I would like to see every man ought to go to school who is illiterate.

By Mr. Brennan. Q. He asked you in addition to the atheism and your religious belief, about your nihilism. You said you were no nihilist? A. No, sir.

Q. Is not your own tribulations with your people because you are a nihilist? A. My tribulations are because I left the Catholic church and you cannot attribute it to anything else.

Q. Is it not true these people in different places charged you with teaching nihilistic doctrines? A. I could answer in a way I could not know what Mr. Whitehouse would talk about me and say I could not say about that before.

It is not a fact the first time you left Shenandoah was because you had no following on account of your anarchistic feelings and your religious belief? A. No, sir; it is false. I left Shenandoah on the ground I wanted to come to college at Baltimore, and so I did. I went to study medicine at the University of Maryland.

By Mr. Brennan. Q. You were asked by the commonwealth whether you are not in favor of the destruction of the churches. Just state whether or not you have anything of that kind in your composition? A. I do not think I ever advocated destruction of churches.

Q. Are you opposed to churches at all as churches? A. I am opposed to churches that are built so very expensive among our countrymen. That I was opposed to.

Q. In defining your position as to church and your manner of speaking as to what is the way you speak to them on that subject, just in one word? A. The subject I used to lay as the foundation of my views was the reading in the bible, the statement of the bible, "Adore your God in spirit and in truth."

Q. And that is what you believe in? A. Yes, sir; I could not tell you now the exact place where it is, but it is in the new testament.

Q. You have children, have you not? A. Yes, sir; I have three.

Q. Do you send them to church and Sunday school? A. I do. I send my children to Sunday school and to church.

Q. State whether or not you have had that child christened? A. Yes, sir; I did.

By Mr. Brennan. Q. Do you believe that Christ was the Son of God? A. I admit human nature in Christ.

Q. Answer my question? A. I do not think I can answer in any other way than I did.

Q. Do you believe that Christ was the son of man as set forth in the scriptures, sent here to redeem the world? A. Yes, sir; I do not doubt the scriptures say he is the Son of God.

Q. I do not ask you whether the scriptures state that I asked you whether you believed it is true he was the Son of God, born of the Virgin Mary? A. I could not say; I do not know.

Q. Then you do not believe what you do not know? A. I think sometimes I might believe some things I do not know, but always I look for a proof.

Q. Do you believe in the scriptures as they exist in the different churches? A. I know the scriptures do exist.

Q. I do not ask you that and you are as much as man to know it. Do you believe in them? A. Certainly I allege the historical facts in the writing.

Q. And that they are inspired writings? A. As to that I do not know as to whether the scriptures are inspired or not.

Q. Do you believe they are not? A. I do not know whether the scriptures are inspired or not.

Q. Cannot you tell us whether you believe they are. From the writings of them and what you have read of them do you believe they are inspired, written by Divine authority? A. I will tell you plainly, quite plainly, I think that the Bible is a work of the Jewish nation, just as we have English literature and in every country has its own literature.

Q. That is all you have to say in answer to that question? A. Yes, sir; that is all I have to say.

Q. If that be true, and you do not believe that Christ was the Son of God sent into this world in the manner described in the scriptures and for the purposes described in the scriptures, was not the christening of your child in the christian church a piece of hypocrisy to deceive the people? A. [He was to examine the bible and open it and see I would assert what I believe and what I do not.

Q. There are parts you do believe and parts you do not believe? A. There are some parts I can and some parts I cannot. I would ask your Honor kindly to say whether I am here to be examined on my belief or to give evidence in the case.

The Court.—Certain religious belief is necessary to be competent as a witness.

The witness.—I think I have some belief. I am not an irreligious man.

Q. How long is it since you left the Catholic church? A. We made an open protest last January on the 23rd or 24th. I could not say exactly, either the 23rd or 24th of January this year we made an open protest against the Popish church.

Q. Was it prior to that or since that you had your child christened? A. It was prior to that.

Q. In the Catholic church? A. I brought my child to the Catholic church. Father Demsky did it.

Q. You did not bring the child to the Catholic church? A. It was in my home it was christened.

Q. I was with your consent? A. Yes, sir; I did consent to it.

Q. Your alienation from the Catholic church took place since your child was christened, you separating yourself from it? A. Yes, sir; my views did not agree fully with them because, let me say why, because I saw that the Catholic priests themselves, our Lithuanian priests, do not believe what they tell the people. They skinned them—the skinning of the people was the cause that I left the Catholic church.

Q. Can you tell us why you told us that your child was christened in the Catholic church? A. I did not say that.

Q. Without explaining to us with the same candor and honesty as you did with the Catholic church if it was not for the purpose of misleading us? A. I did not mislead you, gentlemen, or anybody else.

The Court.—The question here is to this man's religious belief and I think we have wandered off and got into a good many other issues.

The witness.—Judge, am I a second Luther who is to be tried before the Council of Worms?

The Court.—It is not for me to answer Brennan's question as that.

The witness.—And I think I am a second Luther among Lithuanians.

The Court.—We have gone far enough. I think the question arises on Mr. Whitehouse's offer to produce witnesses at this point which I have examined with the care I could, and I think that is not the proper practice at this time, and as I am called upon to pass now upon the question as to whether the witness shall be sworn, my judgment is that the witness having sworn that his belief in the existence of a God who was omniscient and creative, that he would be morally punished or affected in a future state in another world for any moral wrongs done in this, I think he ought to be sworn, and is competent to be sworn.

BASE BALL SUITS.

Actions Against Ticket Sellers Before Justice Shoemaker.

Patrick Brennan, James Smith and John E. Higgins appeared before Justice Shoemaker last evening to answer charges of selling tickets at the base ball grounds on Sunday, June 23rd. Rev. William Powick was the complainant and was represented by S. G. M. Hollinger, Esq.

William Reese, of South West street, testified that he bought a ticket of James Smith and surprised the spectators by the announcement that he paid a fifteen cent piece for it. He subsequently corrected the statement by saying he paid a nickel and a dime. He could not recall the color of the ticket, but thought it was red or blue. Reese said he was twenty years of age and had not attended Sunday school since the inauguration of base ball.

Charles Jones testified to the purchase of a ticket of Smith and said he had not attended Sunday school for three months, whereupon Sol Foster, Esq., counsel for the base ball association, interjected the remark that Jones probably stopped early to prepare his conscience for the base ball season.

Justice Shoemaker will decide the cases at 8:30 o'clock on Saturday morning.

New York Bomb Mysteries.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The police at headquarters have two bomb mysteries on their hands. Within the past four days there have been two explosions, in places where their explosion meant great loss of life and extensive damage to property. It looks as though the police think the explosives were meant to do damage in connection with the great railway strike.

The fact that Mr. Pullman has been in the city and is now at Long Branch lends some degree of probability to the latter theory.

Explosion of Prussic Acid.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Laden with bales of cotton in the hold and a quantity of prussic acid on deck the Erie railroad tug lighter Dayton caught fire yesterday afternoon in the bay when midway between the barge office and Castle William.
