IT IS MARTIAL LAW

President Cleveland's Orders in Operation at Chicago.

THE STRIKERS RETIRE

The Troops in Full Possession But An Attempt by Railway Companies to Move Trains May Cause Disaster—100,000 Additional Men Ready to Strike.

Special to the HERALD.

CHICAGO, July 9.—Martial law went into effect here at noon to-day under the proclamation issued by President Cleveland last night.

There was no trouble to enforce the law as before the hour fixed arrived the strikers had withdrawn from the properties sought to be protected and left the troops in full possession.

This evacuation is by no means a complete surrender. It is more like a calm before the storm. The strikers are sullen and may even defy the troops should an attempt be made to run trains.

In addressing a crowd of strikers this morning a leader denounced the National Government as using the troops to aid the corporations to oppress the working classes and the sentiment seems to have taken such a hold as to make the men indifferent to even bloodshed.

A STUPENDOUS STRIKE.

One Hundred Thousand Men May Go Out Wednesday.

Special to the HERALD.

CHICAGO, July 9, 1 p. m.—This morning representatives of ninety-eight trades unions representing one hundred thousand men met in convention here and decided to order a strike on Wednesday unless the Pullman Palace Car Company agrees to arbitrate the trouble with its employes before noon on Tuesday.

LABOR IN NEW YORK.

Resolutions Adopted by Several Labor Organizations.

Special to the HERALD.

NEW YORK, July 9.—At a meeting of District Assembly, No. 49, Knights of Labor, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That we view with extreme alarm and regret the indecent and malignant haste with which the state militia and Federal troops have been ordered to assist the railroad kings to coerce their striking employes into submission.

Resolved, That District Assembly No. 49 emphatically denounce the action of Attorney General Olney and the rest of the capitalist crew in ordering the destruction of human life to save a few dollars per year for Pullman, et al.

Resolved, That in order to save future strife and contention, we urge all wage workers of every nationality, sex, creed, or color, to join together at the ballot box on the next election day and vote for the party which proposes the only solution for the present capitalistic anarchy, viz: the ownership by the people collectively of all the means of production and distribution.

A meeting of the Central Labor Union was also held and several resolutions were adopted.

Delegate Joly, of the German Brewers, made a startling proposition. After saying that the police had been armed with .38 instead of .22 calibre revolvers, he said: "Now let the workers buy .44-calibre revolvers. I am sorry I voted for Cleveland at the last election, but I won't do it again."

Delegate Barr offered this resolution, which was passed:

Resolved, That while the Central Labor Union denounces the Federal Government and police for their action in connection with the strike, it places itself upon record against all incendiarism, anarchy and firebugs who have brought disgrace upon organized labor.

A resolution suggesting the impeachment "at once" of "United States judges and officials" who have issued or executed any orders in connection with the strike was passed and also the following:

Resolved, That if the United States officials arrest Eugene Debs as being responsible for the trouble it is the duty of every workingman in the United States to stop work at once, and remain idle until he is released.

LOCAL RIOT RECALLED.

Superintendent Linden Speaks of Coal Region Mobs and Riots. Captain H. J. Linden, who, as the head of the coal and iron police, gained a large and valuable experience in handling mobs and suppressing riots in Schuylkill county and who is at present superintendent of the Philadelphia police force, has been interviewed by the reporters of that city as to whether he has made or intends making any special preparations to handle an outbreak should the railway strike extend to Philadelphia. In the interview the Superintendent brings out some facts which are of interest to the people of this place as they recall the great riot at the West Shenandoah colliery several years ago.

The official says that his experience has taught him that the best method of suppressing a riot is to crush it in its incipient stage. That a mob is like a horse and if you take hold of it when it is forming and before its passions are aroused you can manage it as easily as you can a gentle horse. Once let it get beyond control, however, and it becomes like a runaway horse, afraid of nothing.

"I once faced as ugly a mob as ever was formed in the coal regions," said Superintendent Linden in this interview, "and with twenty-four men I held a breaker and dispersed the mob without firing a shot. It was during the Mollie Maguire troubles. I had been stationed at a colliery at Shenandoah to protect it from the strikers. The first morning I was there, a mob of a thousand or more men with a drum corps at their head came marching down the road to this colliery. They were armed with clubs, with revolvers and stones and they meant to stop the men at work in the colliery which I was protecting. Six of my twenty-four men had rifles, the other eighteen had revolvers. They were formed into a double line at the end of the engine house, and when the mob approached went out and held it. I drew an imaginary dead line and I told them that we were officers of the law, and were there to protect that property; that we did not want to hurt any of them, but so sure as they attempted to come upon that property we would shoot to kill. Six times I halted that mob on that day and in the afternoon the leaders came to the conclusion that they did not want to fight and they marched their people away. They visited a half dozen other collieries, however, and closed every one of them. That was one of my earliest experiences. I have gone through a great many others since that time and have always found that good nature and firmness will conquer a mob if you take it before it has become organized. The worst possible thing to do is to show leniency or fear. Action must be swift and sure and the rioters must be given to understand that there will be no trifling."

Independent Catholics.

According to the Cleveland Plain Dealer a large number of Polish Roman Catholics in this country will soon leave their church and organize as an independent Catholic church, and Father A. Kolaszewski, of Michigan, who has frequently been at odds with his bishop, will be the first bishop of the new church. He will be consecrated in September by the Rev. Edward Randall Knowles, of Worcester, Mass., who is now on his way to Alexandria, Egypt, where he will be consecrated an archbishop by Nicholas, the patriarch of the Armenian church. The career of Father Knowles has been an interesting one. He was reared a Baptist, but at sixteen he became a Roman Catholic. He abandoned the faith for a time, but returned to it again. He finally left the Roman Catholic church and went into the Old Catholic movement, being ordained an Old Catholic priest by archbishop Rene Vilatte, who himself was consecrated in 1891. In the Cathedral of Our Lady of Good Death, Colombo, Ceylon, by Archbishop Alvarez, of Ceylon and Goa. The adherents of Father Kolaszewski say that a majority of the Polish Roman Catholic congregations in this country will go into the movement.

A TURN IN THE TIDE!

Shenandoah Defeats the Altoona State League Club.

AN INTERESTING GAME!

Both Sides Welded the Bat Furiously, But the Home Players Were More Timely in Their Hitting and Kept the Visitors at a Distance.

The home base ball team took a game from the Altoona state league club in a very interesting contest at the Trotting park yesterday afternoon. Those who witnessed the last game between the two clubs looked upon the defeat of the home team in the second contest, but were very agreeably surprised as the latter appeared on the diamond with more ginger in it than it appeared to hold in any other game of the season.

The attendance was not as large as at the Altoona game and was a verification of the statement made last week that unless the management would furnish good base ball the patronage would drop off. The game got up against the Altoona showed that the management had heeded the warning and strengthened the team in many respects. While the contest was not a brilliant one it was of such a character as to give the people their money's worth and if the same kind of ball is dished up in the future all the patrons will go back to their seats. The Altoona filled the date because at the last moment the Lock Haven club canceled.

The home team went at the ball yesterday as if they would like to eat, pitcher and all, and most of the hits were timely ones. The Altoona, on the other hand, could not get their hits just where they wanted them. They only scored one run in the first five innings. This was made in the first inning and there would have been at least two runs if the hits could have been made timely. After the run was made and two men were out O'Maley followed a three-bagger McGinnis followed, but popped the ball to Ryan, retiring the side.

Ryan started the game by making a two-bagger and Toman followed with a home run. Myers made a hit, Wilson got an error and Smith got his base on balls, but the three men died on the base a through fly.

A hit by Young, followed by a home run by Smith and singles at intervals by Martin, Yerkes and Toman increased the score of the Shenandoah in the third inning to five runs and three hits and an error in the sixth increased the score to eight runs. After that the Altoona settled down to work and the Shenandoah had to fight harder for all they got.

In the eighth inning Martin got his base on McGinnis's error and Dodges brought him home with a three-bagger. In the ninth Toman got his base on balls and was brought home by a three-bagger by Meyers, who was also landed at the home plate, after two men had been put out, by Smith's timely single.

DIAMOND DOTS.

A more orderly gathering than that which witnessed the Altoona game could not be wished.

Barclay has left the home team and gone to his home in Milton.

Meyers, the new first base man, takes well.

Toman plays with the Altoona at Pottsville to-day and to-morrow. He put up a good game yesterday.

Young, the new catcher, has caught the eye of the cranks.

There is reason to believe that the home team has struck a winning gait.

The Altoona left this morning for Pottsville to open the second state league series with the club of that place.

If anyone asks how Shenandoah happened to beat Altoona yesterday say that timely batting and good fielding at critical points did it.

Smith made an excellent throw from right field to third base in the sixth inning, cutting off to runs and retiring the side.

Shenandoah will play at Freeland on Wednesday.

A game will be played here on Thursday but the visiting club has not been decided upon.

Shenandoah defeated the Mt. Carmels at the latter place on Saturday by a score of 33 to 2.

The Cuban Giants won at Ashland on Saturday by a score of 19 to 3. The Giants made but nine hits off Shultz, of Iowa.

A false report was spread through town yesterday that the Mt. Carmels were to play here under the name of Altoona.

A Match Made.
Anthony Schmicker and Frank Brecker met Saturday evening and concluded arrangements for a pool match on Tuesday, 17th inst., for a purse of $20.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

What is Going On in the Ranks of Both Parties.

The local war between Davis and Scott delegates to the Republican County Convention grows more earnest and interesting as the days go by. All hope of a compromise on a division of the delegates is off and the gauntlet for a hand to hand contest has been thrown down. This will be a refreshing departure from the machine method of naming and electing delegates which has been in vogue here from year to year. It will be a fight by the friends of the respective candidates outside the strict lines of party considerations. It will enlist actively a class of voters who have heretofore concerned themselves in party affairs only to a limited extent. This forecast promises the enactment of the oft-repeating scenes that cluster with such vivid earnestness at Democratic primary elections. Indeed, there are not a few who set up the claim that Democratic politics will be, simply stated, not in it in comparison. The merry war, as it progresses, will not lack in amusing features.—Ashland Record.

The Congressional fight continues very quiet. In the Fourth district legislative contest there are at least forty candidates for the three Republican nominations and the news that the fight is getting warm is by no means surprising. Dr. Cox, of Schuylkill; Hill, of Berks; Harling, of Palo Alto, and Seth Orme, of Sch. Clair, seem to have the bulge on the field.

Jolly "Tom" Edwards, of Mahanoy City, who has recently and told his friends he is making a great fight for the Senatorship on the Republican ticket and is sure of securing the nomination. We fear "Tom" is being misled by some indiscreet friends. There is no one in the field who would more conscientiously represent the people of this district or is more deserving of recognition from the Republican party, as he has served it consistently for years; but to urge him out in a forlorn hope is an injustice. A nomination is one thing and an election another. This district is hopelessly Democratic and we do not think that Mr. Edwards, capable and deserving as he is, can carry it.

There is a lull in the Democratic Senatorial contest in this district, but it is expected a storm will break out in all fury in a few days. Meaningful candidates King and Franey are getting their tomahawks sharpened.

It is said the friends of Frank P. Spiese, who was apparently crowded off the track for the Senatorship, intend to spring a surprise upon the other candidates. It is so reported that there is a big kick in the Brunwags, Schuylkill, Ryan, Rain, Reilly and Rush townships against the methods of some of the Democratic leaders in parrelling out the offices for the next election. These townships will act with Tammany in forming an alliance against the towns north of the Rain mountain in the Thirtieth Senatorial district and it is Spiese's friends who expect to get in their work.

Never has Republican prospects in Schuylkill looked brighter than at the present. There are no factional quarrels and the canvassing for the nominations is being carried on in the proper spirit, and the indications are that a strong ticket will be nominated, one that will command the respect of the voters of the county and its triumphant election in November.—Ashland Local.

With nine per cent. of the $2.50 basis, free trade, no money with which to purchase the necessities of life, strikes and riots, general discontent and paralyzed industries staring them in the face, the Democrats have not much encouragement to go ahead and make nominations for the fall elections. The people will not be fooled again. They have a surfeit of Federalism and are burdened enough when obliged to struggle through two years more of it.

A Musical.

A very pleasing affair in the form of a musical given by Miss Ella M. McGinnis was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ogden, on South White street, Friday evening. Among those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ogden, Rev. and Mrs. William Powick, T. H. Hutchison and wife, Mrs. Crisman, Mr. C. Powick and Miss Mary Powick, Wilmington, Del., and Mr. Richard Ogden. Mrs. Crisman rendered a number of fine solos and the renditions by a quartet composed of Mr. C. and Miss Powick, Mrs. Crisman and Mrs. William Powick were very pleasing. Refreshments were served and the evening passed delightfully.

Mr. Phillips Improving.

Special to Evening Herald.
ATLANTIC CITY, July 9.—The condition of Hon. D. D. Phillips is very much improved and his family have hopes for his recovery. On Saturday he suffered an attack which caused apprehension and his family was summoned to his bedside, but he rallied in the evening and has since continued to improve. He is still a very sick man, however.
