THIRD EDITION WORKING FOR THE BABIES.

Busy Scenes at the Big Vermont Establishment Where Lactated Ford is Prepared for all Parts of the World,

Mothers are everywhere related by the mere fact of motherhood.

Their joys, their sorrows and their needs are the some all over the world.

Think of the countless babies in London." in Canada, and even in distant Australia. who are growing up rosy cheeked and bright eyed on the same dict of lactated food that mothers in America know so well

Only those who have visited the big establishment at Burlington, Vt., In summer have sny idea of the tremendous amount of this world-famous haby foud which is weekly produced at the central establishment. As the weather grows warmer every effort is made to meet the enormous demand for lactated food, not only in this country and Canada, but from the various branches in foreign countries. It is from the London branch house that goods are forwarded to the large cities of Europe and the east, among the large shipments being those sent to India and to the Australian branch, located at Sydney, N. S. W.

A visit to this busy establishment in Burlington never fails to make a lasting impression on every mother and on any one who is at all interested in the ques tion of a reliable baby food that shall be a genuine substitute for mother's milk The absolute cleanliness in every process and the arrangements for meeting the hig domands in July and August without undue haste or carelessness that night interfere with the perfection of the food always delight visitors.

Strikes are unknown among all thes busy persons, because, with the constant demand for lactated food at all seasons, wages are kept up, so that the employed have come to feel their own interests bound up with those of the establishment. By this friendly, co-operative spirit among all who are concerned with the preparation of Inctated food, it has been possible to produce a baby food absolutely pure, all the ingredients of which are carefully elaborated and conscientionaly combined.

Physicians, after inspecting these buildings, which are models of neatness and convenience, unhesitatingly prescribe lactated food for invalids, especially as the direct supervision of the preparation of the food has been from first to last under one of the professors of Vermont's famous university. Lactated food is to day everywhere prescribed as the one real substitute for healthy mother's milk combining excellence never before secure of marvellous nourishing powers, and ye being taken by all bables with decide relish when every other food is rejected.

All that is needed to keep baby per-fortly well in summer and safe from cholera infantum and districes, that enery off so many thousand bables during the hot weather, is proper nourishmen and cleanliness. These two indispensable qualities are found in Instated food and this is how it has earned that splendid reputation of the infant food that "saves bables' lives.
