ONLY THREE STOP WORK

There is Apparently a Weakness in the Ranks, But General Master Workman Sovereign Declares the Knights of Labor Will Eventually Respond.

Special to EVENING HERALD.
CHICAGO, July 11, 3 p. m.—There is a perceptible weakness all along the lines of the strikers, but the more aggressive leaders evidently expect to carry the day by storm, and Sovereign declares his mandate will eventually be obeyed by 750,000 men.

All but three local Trades Unions have decided to postpone their strike until Friday. A.P.A.

THE CALL FOR STRIKERS.

All Unions May Not Respond—The Reason is Given.

Special to the HERALD.
CHICAGO, July 11.—The backbone of the strike appears to be broken. The twenty-three railroads represented by the General Managers' Association are moving passenger and freight trains on schedule time. Of course, the extraordinary conditions of the strike situation still obtain, and each train must have the protection of the government.

The calls for recruits to the ranks of the strikers issued by the Trades Unions and Knights of Labor has not been as effectual as was anticipated. It is admitted that not all organized labor will join directly in the strike. The locomotive engineers will not go out. Neither will the plumbers nor the printers. In many of the trades which will quit as organizations, a large proportion of the men will remain at work. They do not see in the Pullman strike any reason why they should lose their work and wages and involve the nation in industrial anarchy.

In the case of other trades, the strike, under present circumstances, is a flagrant violation of their organic law. The strike will not be legitimate, and any man taking the place of a striker in such conditions cannot be placed under the ban.

A Dynamite Scare.

Special to the HERALD.

CHICAGO, July 11.—In this crisis, and just as the public is alarmed at the possible conflict, comes the announcement that 100 pounds of dynamite have been stolen from one of the great magazines of the drainage canal. In the dead of night the heavy bars and iron doors of the magazine were forced and enough dynamite was stolen to blow up the entire business portion of Chicago; yet 300 specially detailed detectives have been unable to find a trace of the robbers or the missing explosive. The secret of the theft has been well kept while the search was proceeding, but a high official of the drainage canal to-day admitted all the facts, adding that the quantity stolen was sufficient to destroy property worth $50,000,000 and terrorize the whole city.

Gompers Calls a Meeting.

Special to the HERALD.

CHICAGO, July 11.—President Gompers has called a meeting of the Executive Board of the American Federation of Labor for Thursday, at a hotel here, when decisive action by the officers of all the allied national trades and labor organizations will be taken. President McBride, of the coal miners, has been asked to return to Chicago to meet Mr. Gompers.

Monster Parade.

The Columbia Hose Company proposes having a monster parade on August 15th and in order that the affair may be an entire success it is desirous of having the aid of the business people. Decision Reserved.

Phillip Coffee was before Justice T. T. Williams yesterday afternoon charged by Levi Kefowich with secreting one S. S. Goldberg in his house for the purpose of obstructing the service of a process. It appears that Constable Dando had a warrant for Goldberg's arrest on a charge of confessing fraudulent judgments for the purpose of cheating and defrauding his creditors. Dando was unable to find the hide-out in his house for him, and subsequently learned he was in Coffee's house, although the latter denied his presence. Coffee pleaded not guilty and claimed that he did not know a warrant was out for Goldberg's arrest. Justice Williams postponed the case until Saturday morning, at 10 o'clock. In the meantime M. M. Burke, Esq., counsel for the prosecutor, and S. G. M. Holloper, Esq., for the defendant, will submit authorities.

William Powick with playing third base in the ball game at the Trotting park on Sunday, the 1st inst., and the latter charged with tampering with the game. Upon application of Sol. Foster, Esq., the cases were postponed until this evening.

The Rope Broken.

One of the hoisting ropes in the Luck Mountain slope of the Kohinor colliery broke yesterday afternoon, precipitating two loaded cars down the slope, which knocked out several sets of timber and caused other damage, but fortunately only disabled one side of the slope. The broken rope was tied up and hoisting was continued on the other side until quitting time. The rope was repaired last night.

A COSTLY ERASION!

Important Discovery in the Water Works Contract.

IT REFERS TO THE PIPE!

The Supervising Engineer Objects to the Kind of Pipe Contracted For, and an Inspection of the Contract Shows a Very Important Omission.

When the Borough Council adjourned on the evening of the 5th inst. it decided to meet again last evening for the purpose of having a consultation with the supervising engineer and contractor of the public water works with a view to having an understanding as to why certain pipe had not been ordered and laid, and at the same time it was resolved that in case the engineer and contractor failed to appear at the meeting all work on the water works would be stopped.

Mr. M. P. Quinn, the contractor, Mr. Womelsdorf, the engineer, and Mr. Wm. McAdam, the sub-contractor, were in attendance at the meeting last night and before they left the water works question assumed a very complicated shape. The result is that $8,000 is added to the cost of the works, but Council is to hold another meeting on Thursday evening to decide, from its point of view, who shall bear the additional expense.

Mr. Womelsdorf was the first speaker after the opening of the meeting and stated that the contractor had expressed a willingness to put in the 8,000 feet of pipe from the pumps on the other side of the mountain towards the reservoir on this side, but he (Mr. Womelsdorf) would not allow it. He said that if Council proposed to put in the pipe called for by the contract he would be exposed from all responsibility as engineer, as the pipe contracted for would not stand the pressure six minutes.

Mr. Quinn added the statement that he had always been ready and is still ready to comply with the wishes of Council.

A discussion followed and led to the production of the contract, when Mr. Quinn pointed out the provision for 12-inch cast iron pipe, 1,300 pounds to the length, $1.50 per foot. Mr. Quinn said he was ready to go ahead and put in that pipe in a workmanlike manner, but the engineer objected to it.

Messrs. Gable and Lamb argued that a contract had been made for a pipe to withstand a pressure of 600 pounds to the square inch, but upon referring to the contract the only paragraph referring to pressure was found in the attached specifications and had been marked out with red ink.

The question then arose as to who had taken out the provision as to pressure and some one remarked that it must have been the lawyers. In his own behalf Solicitor Pomeroy said he had nothing to do with the drawing up of the contract and never saw it until last evening. It was prepared by the late John A. Nash, Esq.

In answer as to what the cost of the pipe required would be in addition to the cost specified in the contract Mr. Quinn said it would be $1 per foot, which, in the aggregate, would amount to $8,000.

Council finally decided to adjourn to meet again on Thursday evening, the water committee in the meantime to meet and come to some conclusion in regard to the matter, the result to be reported to the meeting of Council.

On Saturday A. W. Schalck and J. H. Pomeroy, Esq., accompanied by members of Council, will drive over to Davis' Run for the purpose of inspecting the break in the breastwork of the reservoir and arriving at some conclusion as to who is responsible for the repairs.

NEWSPAPER CHANGE.

The Miners' Journal Passes Into New Hands.

An important event in Schuylkill county newspaper circles took place at Pottsville yesterday in the transfer of the Miners' Journal plant to a syndicate known as the Miners' Journal Printing Company, of which M. P. Quinn, the well-known contractor, is president. H. C. Boyer, of the HERALD, Shenandoah, is secretary, and John F. Finney, of Shenandoah, and editor of the Pottsville Morning Dispatch, is treasurer and business manager.

The Journal is the oldest established Republican newspaper in the county and has a prestige which makes it a valuable acquisition. The political and general policy of the paper will remain unchanged.

It is believed that in the near future the Morning Dispatch will be made an evening paper. This change has been discussed, but nothing definite decided upon.

The working staff of the Journal remains as it was before the change was made.

The change of the Journal ownership has no bearing upon the HERALD, notwithstanding Mr. Boyer's interest in it. The HERALD will be issued as usual and in a short time arrangements will be made to make it better than ever. Its large and continually increasing list of subscribers shows that it is already appreciated, but the management aims to make it one of the best one-cent daily inland papers in the state.

See Ruckle and Roth hold down Freeland to-morrow.

F. O. S. of A. Notice.

A great crowd will witness the first of the week-day series of games at the Trotting park to-morrow.

LAWLESSNESS AND ANARCHY

Rev. William Powick Writes of Sunday Base Ball and Chicago Riots.

EDITOR HERALD.—The nation stands aghast at the dreadful spectacle that centres in the city of Chicago—poor Sabbathless Chicago. The cries of oppressed labor pierce the heart of humanity, but a still louder cry salutes our ears and stirs our fears, it is the cry of lawlessness and incipient anarchy. It looks as though great multitudes feel that anarchy is the only remedy for cruelty. But if they are right the remedy is worse than the disease.

However much we may deplore the wrongs which may have been heaped upon labor by iron-hearted and cold-blooded tyranny we must remember that wrongs which may be righted by other wrongs still survive, and will appear again in other and more dangerous forms. The spirit of lawlessness which scores a point for you to-day will not scruple to score a dozen points for you to-morrow if occasion should serve. Lawlessness—wherever found—is a universal enemy.

But what has this to do with Sunday ball? Much, every way. Chiefly, because Sunday ball is an expression of the same spirit of lawlessness that is to-day trampling under foot in Chicago the rights of all classes and defying the authority of "the power that be" and threatening the land with civil war. Man has no more right to violate one law than another. The same authority that makes murder a crime makes Sunday ball a crime. And a really good citizen will no more violate one than the other. "He that offends in one point is guilty of all." When man loses his respect for one law he is likely soon to lose his respect for any other that may not happen to fit his own selfish ends. Chicago's contempt to-day for these fundamental laws upon which trade and commerce depend are the legitimate outgrowth of a contempt for other—and what may seem to some minor—laws in the past. The thief begins by stealing pennies, then dollars and then fortunes. The drunkard begins by taking a drink to-day and another to-morrow and then jumps to two or three and then—So the lawless man begins by picking this and that law out and stigmatizing and violating it because he does not like it and nearly always goes from bad to worse until he becomes as length a thorn in the flesh of the moral and well disposed part of society.

If, as our Borough Council says, "playing base ball on Sunday is a disgrace to the town and should be condemned by all good and law-abiding citizens." It seems clear that those who wink at this evil are likely to wink at other evils when it suits their purpose. The only guarantee any citizen has of liberty depends wholly upon the cultivation of a spirit of submission to the law as we find it, whether it suits us or not. And he who rebels at the point is the enemy of the whole nation. A community that tolerates lawlessness in any form is inviting lawlessness in other and perhaps very unexpected forms—as Chicago realizes now.

In view of all this, the question of Sunday base ball resolves itself at last into a question, not merely of morals or of religious opinion, but of good citizenship. And I am persuaded that the reason Sunday ball obtained such a foothold in Shenandoah in the past is because persons who, in other respects were good and law-abiding citizens, failed to consider its bearing upon the vital questions here suggested. To advertise one's contempt for law and deliberately plan for its violation and then to invite others to share the crime, is to threaten the foundation of society and to invite the opposition of every good citizen on the ground of self-defence. If society does not throttle the spirit of lawlessness that threatens it, the spirit of lawlessness will eventually throttle society.

Very truly yours,

Wm. POWICK.
