Train Robbers Caught. Special to the HERALD.

MAHANAOY CITY, July 11.—Howard Harler, of Tamaqua, and Thomas Brimer, giving his residence as nowhere, were committed to jail this morning by Justice May. They were caught in the act of robbing a freight car at Buck Mountain by C. & I. Pullman Kliebender. They had broken the seal of the car and when caught were filling their pockets with the booty. Harler was released from the county jail on June 14th, after serving a term for a similar offense. Brimer is a tramp. Both are young men.

They Resume Work. The bricklayers who struck at Kaler's new brewery, Mahanoy City, have resumed work after gaining their point. One of the employes told a HERALD reporter that the architect had accused them of making mistakes in their work. The men, it is alleged, showed that this was not correct and after receiving a promise that the thing would not occur, again they went back to work. Another complaint made is that the men receive the lowest wages paid mechanics in the county, but this was not a plank in the strike, however.

Successful Test. Special to the HERALD. MAHANAOY CITY, July 11.—The Mahanoy City Water Works pumps received a thorough test yesterday and they proved equal in all points. The test was witnessed by Prof. Dekinger, of Brooklyne; Prof. P. E. Thurston, of Harvard College; and representatives of the boiler manufacturers and Worthington Pump Company.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS IN TURKEY.

Many Houses Destroyed and Half a Hundred People Killed. CONSTANTINOPLE, July 11.—Two violent earthquake shocks were felt here yesterday afternoon. Each shock lasted twenty seconds. Some damage was done, the extent of which is unknown. The inhabitants fled from their homes in anticipation of a more serious disturbance.

Several houses fell in Stamboul. In the suburbs of Galata the shock was severe and the new houses were reduced to a ruin. The people were greatly alarmed when their houses began to sway, and fled in terror to the streets.

A fresh and more severe shock was felt in this city last night. An indescribable panic followed, and the people ran hither and thither in the utmost confusion.

The shock was felt in its full severity in all the villages bordering on the Bosphorus and the Sea of Marmora. Most of the buildings in these places suffered damage and a number of houses were ruined completely. The people have sought shelter in the fields outside the villages, where they will be safe from falling walls should further shocks occur.

It is believed fifty persons have lost their lives and that the number of injured far exceeds that figure. The loss of property will be very large.

There have also been severe shocks of earthquakes in Smyrna, a seaport of Asia Minor, and Island of Selo, on the west coast of Asia Minor, and in the Dardanelles.

More Trouble in Bluefields.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Secretary Herbert yesterday received the following cablegram from Captain O'Neil, of the United States steamship Marblehead, dated Port Limon: "An insurrection has broken out at Bluefields, Nicaragua. Marines and Bluefielders sent on shore at the request of the authorities and of the American consul in order to protect the property of American citizens. The authorities of Nicaragua have been overthrown by the Mosquito chief. There is less excitement. The situation is improving. I shall withdraw forces within the next few days. The Marblehead leaves today for Bluefields."

HAD ABANDONED HOPE

Terrible Experience of the Sailors of the Wrecked Whaler James Allen.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The full report of Captain Healy, of the revenue cutter Bear, giving details of the wreck of the whaler James Allen in the Behring sea, and the rescue of twenty-four out of a crew of forty-nine, makes a shocking tale of suffering on the part of the boat's crew, who were finally rescued on Unimak Island.

Captain Healy says: "The men were found in a terrible condition. One man, Gideon, had died a week before. Mussels were scarce and the birds wild, so the men said. They had given up all hope of ever being rescued, and were completely demoralized. The body of the man Gideon had been eaten entirely. They had even dug up the body of one of those who had died two weeks previously, and had partially consumed it. The trunk lay just outside the hut, with arms and legs cut off, and portions of the meat were in the pot outside the door. No attempt had been made to hunt or to attract attention from seaward. Not even a mark had been set up on the bluff behind them. They had not ambition enough to go down to the beach to gather driftwood to keep their fire going, but had begun to tear down the hut over their heads."

"When found they lay around the fire in the hut doing nothing, looking at each other, with the blood of their late shipmates on their hands and faces, and human bones strewn about them on the floor. The men were brought on board the Bear and cared for. Some of them were sent to San Francisco, some of the others remaining at Unalaska. One will go north on the Bear to join the whaling fleet."

The Stubborn Tariff Conference.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The Democratic senate and house tariff conferees adjourned last night, after being together for eight hours, until 10 o'clock today. It was stated that the discussion was being marked by great stubbornness, and that neither side had yet yielded in the least on any of the main issues involved. The general understanding that the Republican conferees should not be admitted has now advanced to a definite decision. Up to the time of adjournment no time for making a report had been agreed to, and the determined stand of each side gave little indication of an early report.

Two Killed in a Runaway.

CUMBERLAND, Md., July 11.—William Hawkins, with his family, was descending a mountain when the driver accidentally let go the brake, and the wagon, forging ahead, frightened the horses, causing them to run away. Hawkins' daughter, a young lady, jumped from the wagon and was seriously hurt. The wagon upset and one of the children was instantly killed and three others were slightly injured. Mr. Hawkins was caught beneath the wagon and so severely crushed that he died from his injuries.

To Banquet the Yale Team.

LONDON, July 11.—The banquet which the American colony of this city is to give to the Yale team on July 17 will probably be held in the Grafton Galleries. The supper is to be served at 11 p. m., and will be followed by a concert in which a number of noted variety artists will appear. Ambassadors Bayard and Consul General Patrick A. Collins have taken up the matter with enthusiasm, and an influential committee has been formed to take charge of the affair.

Galvin's Army Must Move.

ROSLYN, Va., July 11.—The Galvinites industrial army, which has been encamped here for some time, will have to vacate the reservation promptly. A representative of the secretary of war called on the leaders yesterday and formally communicated to them a notice requiring the army to move, the reason given being that a permit to encamp on the place had been issued without authority. The order will be complied with.

Threatened the President by Mail.

PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—Frederick Max Toepfer, 35 years of age, a furrier living at 705 Vine street, was arrested yesterday and sent to the city insane asylum, having by his own confession written a number of letters to President and Mrs. Cleveland threatening them with violence if they do not give him work. Toepfer was formerly an inmate of an insane asylum at Utica, N. Y.

Schooner Wrecked at Atlantic City.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 11.—The three masted schooner Kate Robinson, with a cargo of ice consigned to the Klieberbocker Ice company of this city, ran aground on the bar while entering the inlet. She lies in nine feet of water, and is pounding badly. Captain Parker, of the government life saving station, thinks she will be a total wreck.

Scaled to Death by Steam.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 11.—John Bugdale, a laborer employed in the Forty Foot mine, was scaled to death under horrible circumstances. A large steam pipe burst near the place he was working, and the escaping steam threw Bugdale a distance of fifty feet into a gangway, where it imprisoned him until the flesh was burned from his bones.

Buried Under Tons of Coal.

BOSTON, July 11.—While a gang of men were unloading coal from the schooner Jennie Hall, at Lewis' wharf, the wharf gave way and five men were precipitated with 300 tons of coal into the dock. STREET WHISPERINGS.

Newsy Items Gleaned by the Town Patenting Reporters.

It was intimated to me yesterday that the miners of this region would be ready to strike in sympathy with the western movement upon slight encouragement, but I can hardly believe this sentiment prevails among the men. So far as a cause for complaint is concerned there are no men in the county who would be more justified in striking than the men of this region, but I feel confident that other thoughts are sufficient to deter them from taking the step. In the first place they are in no condition to do without work; in the second place the business people are in no position to aid them if they do strike, and in the third place the bitterness and disappointment they met with in their last strike were sufficient to disgust them so far as such measures are concerned. If every industry in the county could be closed down and it becomes evident that that end can be attained I would not be surprised to see our miners go into the movement, for in such a case their coal would not be needed and the mines may be closed for want of a market. I incline to the belief that they will be among the last to stop work.

A well known gentleman of this county was asked yesterday what he thought of the great strike and this was the answer he whispered into the ear of his neighbor: "What Cleveland and his leaders did with their mouths two years ago they are now undoing with the rifles."

Alex. Strouse, the jester of the Main street court, remarked the other day that Cleveland could declare martial law in Shenandoah without disturbing the equanimity of the people, because during the present dull time very few are seen on the streets.

Father Ducey, of New York, made a statement the other day which I think is very nicely in this column and will interest all the readers, whether or not they sympathize with the western strikers.

Father Ducey said: "I suggested to an eminent lawyer some time ago that the organization of trusts and the labor question generally be discussed at the next Ecumenical Convention, and that it be made a subject for priests to ask in confession of their penitents whether they had been instrumental in oppressing the poor. In other words, I think the form of what is known as 'the examination of conscience' for persons who are about to go to confession ought to be changed so as to include trusts, for it stands at present, men might be guilty of oppression and of depriving the masses of their rights through the medium of trusts and yet not feel called upon to confess it as a sin, for it does not occur, in so many words, at least in the examination of conscience. As His commandments would be a different condition of things, and none of these matters would occur. The examination of conscience, in the prayer book, ought to be revised, and I would suggest to those churchesmen who have no sympathy with the strikers to help to do so. The prayer book, as it now stands, in that regard, at least, is obsolete and men can steal under the name of a trust, as Pullman has been doing until his employes have become weary of it. I have always been in favor of the masses, in their struggle for better conditions. I think Pullman ought to submit this affair to arbitration. That is reasonable, and if he has such a good cause, why should he hesitate?"
