THE BOARD OF HEALTH

Some Plain Talk on the Existence of Nuisances.

Members of the Board and All Other Must Obey the Sanitary Laws, and if They do Not do so Will be Promptly Prosecuted.

The Board of Health held a regula ceeting in the Council chamber last right and considered the reports of conairtees on the general health of the bor ough and nuisances. The members present were Messrs. Spalding, Miles, McHale and Broughall.

and Broughall.

Secretary Scanlan stated that there have been no contagious diseases in the borough for several weeks, but during the month of June there was a great increase in the death rate, the board having received during that period fifty-six certificates of death. This increases is due to the summer alckness which attacks infants.

Health Officer Miles reported that he Health Officer Miles reported that he had made an investigation of the nuis ance on North White street complained of to the Borough Council and located the source at the Totak property. The owner promised to remedy the evil by connecting the property with a sewer and will begin the work next Monday.

Mr. Miles also reported that many other nuisances are in existence in the borough, but owing to the tardiness of the Council authorities in acting upon what the Board of Health requests, be has been unable to enforce the laws as they should be. In some instances, he said, the violators of the law are wholly indifferent to all notices.

This sentiment brought up a discussion on a puisance existing on property owned by a member of the Board of Health, and for a while there was some pretry plain talk, in which it was declared that a membership on the Board was not a bar to anything the organization is expected to take in other cases of like character, and if the member does not abate the evil be will be proceeded against.

It was decided to have a special meeting of the Board next Tuesday evening, and the Sanitary Committe of the Boraugh Council will be invited to attend so that nuisances existing in the borough and steps to abate them may be considered jointly.

To-morrow's base ball game will be an

Mr. Watson a Candidate.

Mr. Wateon a Candidate,
After a long and steady pull many prominent and influential Demourate of the county have finally induced if m. M.
C. Watson, of town, to become a candidate for the nomination for Senator in the Thirtieth district on the Democratic ticket, and a formal announcement of the candidacy appears in another column.
This is one of the most important development's in the campaign, and it may be depended upon that heaceforth the fight for the nomination will be a lively one, as Mr. Watson is not only exceedingly popular and strong among the masses, but also has the advantages of experience from a winning fight for the same office and an excellent record as a champion of the winning light for the same office and an excellent record as a champion of the workingmen's interests in the State Senate from 1880-20, this record being well known to all readers. Many of the leading Democrats, and in fact other influential and conservative men, have declared that Mr. Watson's condidacy would be the salvation of the Democratic party in this county next fall, as on account of the great depression it must be expected that the Democratic vote will fall off, but with Watson as a candidate the party will more than likely be able to hold the vote through his great popularity with the working classes and enable the Democrats to at least elect a Senator. Mr. Watson's candidacy is not the result of a sudden thought, but follows callu deliberation, and now that he is in the fight he will remain in it to win.

Gasolene Stove Cansed a Blaze Which Ignited the Girl's Clothing and Barned Her Harribly.

A sad sceldent occurred at Councilman deliberary's hotel, corner White and Centre streets, last night, shortly before even o'clock, by which Mary Skrobel, a iri seventeen years of age, was so severely urned that she died at 7:15 o'clock this past, nor person struck the handle and splashed the fat over the lighted part of the gasoline stove.

The girl was employed as a maid of all work at the hotel and yesterday assisted in the kitchen. After frying some oysters she placed the pan of fat on the part of the gasoline stove which was not in operation, but in such a manner that the handle of the pan projected from the stove so that later, when the girl burried past, her person struck the handle and splashed the fat over the lighted part of the gasoline stove.

The girl seemed at first insensible to her own danger, and notwithstanding her ciothing had been ignited she stooped and picked up the blazing pan, which had fallen upon the floor, but the next instant her sereams of fright and pain aroused the whole neighborhood.

Mr. McElbenny and Constable Phillips rushed into the kitchen and found it in a hlaze, the flames reaching to the ceiling. The girl rushed past them like a deer, so suddenly that they had no time to realize that her clothing was on fire, and they turned their attention to saving the house, and with the assistance of Fred. V. Helsenberger succeeded in extinguishing the flames.

turned their attention to saving the house, and with the assistance of Fred. V. Helsenberger succeeded in extinguishing the flames.

Meanwhile the flames were making awful progress over the person of the infortunate girl. Meade Peters, the cateror, met her in the hall and, seling a door mat, made two strokes at the hurning clothing with good effect, but the girl awept past him and out upon Centre street with such speed that the fire was fauned into increased activity. The distracted vicilin ran up Centre street and tried to enter Heisenberger's store, but as her blazing clothing would certainly have set the place on fire she was prevented from doing so. Several attempts were made to get coats about the girl to smother the flames, but she was so strong and girlek that she broke away such time.

Finding her course to the store cut off the victim turned and ran into the middle of the street. Then she turned again and started back for McElhenrys. It was at this point that John J. Heilly, Constable Phillips, Hon. T. J. Higgins, Meade Peters and offers succeeded in surrounding the girl in such a way, as to cover her body with their coats and amother the flames. But little of her ciothing remained and she presented a pitful state. The back of the hody from the knees to the wave affered likewise. Her head, face, breats and hands scaped injury.

Measers McElheuny and Peters hurried the girl to a room on the third floor of the hotel and summoned Dr. D. W. Stranb. The physician pronounced the case a helpiess one on sight, but did all in his power to alleviate the sufferings of the victim and she soon rested easily. Hey. Ambromaitle, of St. George's Lithmanian Catholic church, was summoned and he administered the light. Shortly after seven o'clock this morning she swoke from a deep slumber, flashed a glance at those in the room and expired. The remains were taken in charge by Undertaker Meluskey, who removed them to the residence of the girl's uncle in the First ward.

Question of Costs

Question of Costs.

The Salupas libel case will be before the court at Pottsville again on Montay for a declaton as to whether the costs in the case shall be set aside or the defendants shall pay them. An impression seems to prevail, notwithstanding the publicity given the version in the case, that some of the costs were put on the prosecutors. This is not so. The jury put two thirds of the costs on Dr. Salupas and one-third on his four vo-defendants.

Welkart and Young, of Pottstown, will be a strong addition to the home team. They will make their first appearance to-morrow.
