

MOTHERS WORRIED.

How Infant Death Rate May Decrease.

Cleanliness, Pure Air and Lactated Food.

The Only Sure Preventives of Cholera Infantum.

Lactated Food Approaches Nearest to Breast Milk.

Every One Knows What it is Made of--No Secret in it.

Don't feed a baby on a secretly prepared food. Don't take any chances of giving it a "trade" article that is made, no one knows where nor by what process.

Use lactated food--pure, unadulterated nourishing food. There is no secret about it. Lactated food is manufactured under the personal supervision of Prof. Boynton, of Vermont University.

An absolutely pure and reliable infant food had been eagerly sought for years as a substitute for pure mother's milk.

Lactated food solved the problem completely. It stands to-day pre-eminent among all others. Infants fed upon it suffer less, and fewer die, it is now well known, than those fed upon anything else.

It is used in the big charitable institutions for children. It has saved the lives of thousands of infants during the hot, dangerous months of summer.

It is endorsed by the best physicians, by nurses, and by happy, grateful mothers in every town and village in the land.

Sugar of milk, the basis of mother's milk, is the basis of lactated food. With it is combined pure barley malt, the finest wheat gluten, and the nutritious elements of the oat. It is thoroughly cooked by high steam heat, and a predigested, nutritious food is made that fulfills every requirement of the growing child. It is by far the safest food that a child can take in the summer. It is a true preventive of cholera infantum.

No home where there is an infant can afford to be without it.

Lactated food saves babies' lives! The following letter from Mrs. A. Wardell, 99 Rowe street, Rochester, N. Y., a picture of whose pretty baby is given above, is one of scores that are received every week from happy parents the country over:

"Our baby weighed four pounds at birth. When two months old she weighed but eight pounds with her clothes on. The doctor said she was a very frail child. I commenced feeding her a certain food when she was fourteen days old, but she did not gain strength as I knew she ought. When she was seven months old I changed to lactated food. She commenced to gain at once, and to rest well at night. She has not been sick with bowel trouble since through her teething, and she was teething last summer. I consider lactated food has been a great blessing to our little girl. It has made her healthy, strong and the happiest two year old child in Rochester. Any mother wishing to address one that has used lactated food will be cheerfully answered at my expense by addressing me.

A horse kicked H. S. Shafer, of the Freemyer House, Middleburg, N. Y., on the knee, which laid him up in bed and caused the knee joint to become stiff. A friend recommended him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he did, and in two days was able to be around. Mr. Shafer has recommended it to many others and says it is excellent for any kind of a bruise or sprain. This same remedy is also famous for its cures of rheumatism. For sale by Grubler Bros.

MAHANAY CITY.

(Reported daily from the Mahanoy City bureau of the EVENING HERALD.) MAHANAY CITY, July 19. A dispatch from Atlantic City, Pa., says: "T. W. Johnson, a Mahanoy City, Pa., hotel man was robbed here last night of $300 in cash at an Arkansas avenue hotel, where he has been stopping for several days. The cash was taken from his clothes in his bed room while he was asleep."

William C. Hornaby, a young man 14 years of age and residing on West Mahanoy street, met with a painful accident last evening while returning from the Methodist picnic at Lakeside. While the train was approaching the depot in this town, the young man was standing upon the steps of the platform. A sudden jar of the train threw him from the car and the train passed over his hand badly mashing it. Doctors Harmony and Bissel have hopes that amputation will not be necessary.

P. J. Toland, of town, drives a handsome ten wagon.

High Point Park is the highest park around this vicinity, and has all the advantages of a first-class summer resort, which is noted for its shade and coolness.

A large crowd attended the picnic at Lakeside to-day.

The Vigilant Wins a Race.

BANGOR (Helfast Lough), Ireland, July 19.--The Vigilant won the eighth race with her competitor, the Britannia. In seeing the ending the Britannia carried away her helmsman and had to haul in her mainsail, giving up the race. But this had no effect on the race, for at the time the Vigilant, with a breeze that just suited her, was leading by about six minutes. Captain Carter, of the Britannia, was struck on the head by a piece of the shackle which fell from aloft at the time of the accident, and received a bad cut.

They were taken from their homes and fearfully whipped. The youngest of the Stephens brothers attempted to escape, but was shot through the heel and captured by the whitecaps and numerously whipped. A number of others were warned to leave the county.

Mr. Wellman denied that he exercised any wrong influence on Levy.

Plan for a Soldiers' Home, Park and Military Post. The bill General Daniel E. Sickles, of New York, is about to introduce in Congress for the establishment of a National Park, Military Post and Soldiers' Home at Gettysburg, will be hailed with great satisfaction by the loyal people of the United States. In speaking of the bill the General is quoted as saying: "We have material at Gettysburg not only for a national park on a grand scale, but also a military post and a national soldiers' home. But it has never been organized. We have something like 300 or 400 monuments there and a good deal of land. We have the money appropriated essentially for the project, and all my bill aims to do is to give it form and organization. When carried out, we will have a military or artillery post there, so that the morning and evening guns will forever salute the victorious flag on that consecrated field, and so many patriots in our country, 'bivouac of the dead.' I have been many months studying up some unique features of the plan, both as regards artistic and patriotic effects, and I promise you that when my ideas are carried out there will be nothing of the kind in the world. Besides this, we hope to have a national soldiers' home there, one of these days, on a spot that will be most appropriate for old soldiers in permitting them to spend their declining years among the hallowed associations of their soldier days, and among scenes that are essentially historic in our country's annals. With companies of soldiers, especially artillery, the place would take on an added glory and significance, for Gettysburg was the battlefield that decided the issues of the great war, and made us a homogeneous people, with a flag proclaiming to the world 'Union and liberty, now and forever, one and inseparable.'"

General Sickles will endeavor to put through his bill before the session closes. The scheme, he believes, will strike the general public as something highly appropriate, as well as artistic, and arouse the highest enthusiasm among the Grand Army men and all old soldiers.

Last June, Dick Crawford brought his twelve months old child, suffering from infantile cholera, to me. It had been weaned at four months old and being sickly everything ran through it like water through a sieve. I gave it the usual treatment in such cases but without benefit. The child kept growing thinner until it weighed but little more than when born, or perhaps ten pounds. I then started the father to giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Before one bottle of the 25 cent size had been used, a marked improvement was seen and it continued until cured. Its weakness, and its constitution disappeared and its father and myself believe the child's life was saved by this remedy. J. T. Marlow, M. D., Tamarac, Ill. For sale by Grubler Bros.

Commander Emsley's Order on Riot and Disorder.

Under date of July 11th, Department Commander Emsley issued the following order to the members of his department: "In view of the riot and disorder that are prevailing in some sections of our country, the Department Commander voices the sentiment of every member of our organization in reiterating that there should be no 'one country and many flags.' Those who dared all that the nation might live, stand to-day on the same broad foundation, that the laws of the land must be obeyed; that the red flag of anarchy and the black flag of destruction must go down in the mire of ignominy; and that the old red, white and blue shall wave. The ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic are filled with men who 'earn their bread by the sweat of their faces,' but in times when the lines are drawn between right and wrong, the seeds of violence and destruction of property, find neither advocates nor supporters among our comrades. The members of the Grand Army of the Republic have proven their loyalty, and now, as then, will stand shoulder to shoulder and elbow to elbow in maintaining the peace for which they struggled and suffered. Should scenes of turbulence and defiance of law and of government unfortunately reach within the borders of our country, the seeds of violence and destruction of property, find neither advocates nor supporters among our comrades. The members of the Grand Army of the Republic have proven their loyalty, and now, as then, will stand shoulder to shoulder and elbow to elbow in maintaining the peace for which they struggled and suffered."
