William Richards Seriously Injured at Gilberton.

THE EXAMINING BOARD!

The Result of the Examination of Candidates for Mine Foreman Will be Made Public on Wednesday.

A serious accident occurred at Gilberton colliery on Saturday night, which might have proved fatal. William Richards, a miner working at the above colliery, was in the act of lighting three shots when one of them exploded. He was hurled down the breast and before he could recover himself the remaining two shots went off. Richards is a single man and resides at Frackville. He was seriously injured about the head and body.

Mine Inspector Stein, in conversation with a HERALD reporter, says the published reports in reference to the accident occurring recently at Boston Run, Gilberton and Plover No. 6 collieries were altogether wrong. He says the man who was fatally injured at Boston Run was not an employee of the colliery, and that there were no deaths at Gilberton. The accident at Plover No. 6 was trifling. The explosion was caused by one of the men striking a match to light his safety lamp. The two miners, Miller and Buski, were working in breast 15, West Buck Mountain, seventh lift, when their breast rashed and caused them to lose their lights. They took the risk by lighting their lamps with a match.

The Board of Examiners for the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth anthracite districts will meet at the Court House in Pottsville to-morrow, the 24th inst., to examine the answers to the questions given the candidates for the position of mine foreman on the 19th and 18th insts. There are upwards of forty applicants. The boards will complete their work to-morrow, and the names of the successful candidates will appear in the HERALD on Wednesday.

All the collieries under the control of the Philadelphia & Reading Company resumed operations this morning, after a suspension of one day.

The employees of the Wm. Penn colliery received their usual monthly pay on Saturday.

The officials of Kohlnor colliery experience considerable difficulty with a large body of water in one of the lifts of that mine. It is thought the water comes from a large spring, and a bore hole is being bored to carry the water to a lower lift, where the pumps are located.

Water is becoming very scarce at a number of the collieries throughout the region. It was feared last week that a number of them would have to suspend from this cause.

A SACRED CONCERT.

The Grant Band Discourses Music at Ashland.

Yesterday afternoon the Grant Cornet Band gave a sacred concert at Washington Park, Ashland, in the presence of about two thousand people. People were present from Mahanoy City, Gilberton, Mahanoy Plane, Frackville, Girardville, Ashland, Wm. Penn and Lost Creek. The band left here in a special car on the electric road, and were accompanied by about six additional cars filled with people from this town.

Had the weather been more favorable a greater number of people would have been present to enjoy the sweet strains of sacred music furnished by Bands Master Schoppe's famous organization. The latter a reception was hearty, and at the rendition of each selection the audience displayed their approval by unstinted applause. Washington Park is one of the finest resorts of its size in the county, large shade trees being in abundance. No better place could have been selected for the occasion. The following program was rendered:

1. March, "Baton Commandery".....Carter
- Introducing the popular hymn, "O'ward
2. Overture, "La Strada".....Auber
3. Prisoner, from "B. Traviata".....Verdi

4. Caprice, "Soleil".....Mercedante
5. Salvation Army Patrol.....Orthe

OBITUARY.

The Wife of W. J. Watkins, of the "Herald," Passes Away.

After a lingering illness, Mrs. Mary J. Watkins, the estimable and loving wife of William J. Watkins, local editor of the HERALD, passed to her heavenly home, at 1:05 o'clock this afternoon, surrounded by her friends. Her ailment was consumption, and she has been a sufferer for over a year. She leaves a husband and two children, Nellie and William, aged twelve and three and a half years respectively. Mrs. Watkins was 35 years 11 months and 15 days old, and was a daughter of the late John H. Evans and a sister of Mrs. O. B. Williams, of Mt. Carmel. She was a most loving wife and kind mother, and beloved by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon, services being held at the family residence, No. 119 North Jarlin street, at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in the family lot in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.

Mrs. Pauline Lemberg, wife of the late George Lemberg, at one time employed at the electric light plant in this town, died at Harrisburg yesterday. The deceased was a sister of Henry and Annie Muhl, of town, and leaves three children. The funeral will take place on Wednesday at 2 o'clock, interment being made in Odd Fellows' cemetery.

Unknown Man Killed.

MAHANOCY CITY, July 23.—An unknown man was struck by Philadelphia & Reading engine No. 89, early this morning, above the depot. His skull was split open, and he died shortly after being removed to the baggage room. He appeared to be under the influence of liquor, and it is supposed he laid upon the track in a stupid condition. It is thought he is a native of Hungary, is five feet six inches in height, weighs about 160 pounds and has straight face and dark hair. He had upon his person a Waterbury watch, a triple snake chain with horse shoe charm and compass.

The Indians Failed to Break.

The flaming announcement of the game of base ball between an Indian team and the Ashland nine, at the latter place on Friday, failed to come up to expectations and was one of the biggest fizzes of the season. About 500 people were sorely disappointed. The Indians were from New York state, and an ordinary team from one of the patches could easily give them points on the game and beat them two to one. The manager, it is said, was so disgusted with the exhibition that he paid the "lovers of fire water" off and sent them home, after going down into his pockets to the amount of $1500 since he started out with his "attraction."

Excursionists to Tolchester.

Messes. E. C. Brobst, Michael Begley, W. H. Musser and James Conkley, of town, took advantage of the excursion from Pottsville to Tolchester Beach, near Baltimore, yesterday. The excursion was over the Pennsylvania road, and when it left Pottsville five coaches were well filled. The two hours' ride across the Chesapeake Bay on the palace steamer Florence was delightfully breezy. The excursionists returned home at an early hour this morning greatly refreshed, and speak highly of the trip.

Heavy Travel.

The two lines of electric railway running into and through town did an immense business yesterday. This mode of travel is getting more popular every day.

THE "PHILLIES" ARE OUR MEAT

The Home Team Wins a Good Game From Them.

YEAGER WAS A PUZZLER.

There Were Many Excellent Points in the Game and the Shenandoahs Had to Hustle to Score the Victory.

Despite the unfavorable weather several hundred people gave the home team a royal welcome at the Trotting park yesterday upon its return from the triumphant trip through the river region. The team recuperated by putting up an excellent game and defeating the visitors, the Philadelphia state league club, handsly.

The Quaker City nine is not up with the ranks of the national league, either as to material or record, but it can out up a wild game of ball, and made the home team huddle at times.

Capt. Meyers' team responded nobly at almost every point of the game and the spectators were justified in the conclusion that the town has at last a team which can go upon its diamond and give the people their money's worth of ball.

Yeager and Messitt worked together like veterans yesterday and the former puzzled the "Phillies" pretty well at times.

Bradley, who pitched for Shenandoah last season, was in the box for the first part of the game and while he was there he sustained his reputation.

Taking the game all through it can be said that the Shenandoahs won because they put up the better game at all points and only errs in the seventh inning prevented it from giving the leaguers a goose egg. Their opponents put up an earnest fight, but it was not quite strong enough at critical points.

The result of the game is in accordance with the promises and predictions of the home management—that for the balance of the season the town will have a team it can count on. The score:

INNINGS.
Shenandoah.....0 3 0 0 3 3 0 0—11
Philadelphia.....0 0 0 0 0 4 0 0—4

DIAMOND DOGS.

If it can keep its present pace the home team will be a creditable successor to the team of '93.

The crowd at the yesterday's game was a very orderly one.

That was a great catch the center fielder of the "Phillies" made.

Musser was not too heartily applauded when he stopped that hot one.

The "Phillies" found Yeager's ball at all times, but they could not lose it.

All the old time cranks are beginning to see some merit in the home team now.

Hereafter every big club will be required to report here the night before the game is played, as was required in the case of the Philadelphia club. This will be required to avoid any more disappointments at the eleventh hour.

The Philadelphia's club management is very strict with its players, as to the hours of retirement, street conduct, etc.

The Pottsville series is being awaited with much impatience. It is more than likely the home team will carry a surprise or two up its sleeve for some of the cranks.

Charged With Murder.

As announced in Saturday's HERALD, John Tahaney and James Whalen, charged with being implicated in the murder of Frank Baynole, appeared before Justice May, of Mahanoy City, and said they were the parties sought for by the authorities. They were immediately lodged in the Pottsville jail. The prosecutor in the case is Peter Francon. Young Whalen is charged with being an accomplice of Tahaney, while the latter claims the murder of the Italian was done in self-defense, and that will be his plea before the jury. He is a son of ex-Repre-sentative Tahaney, of Jackson's Parish, and bears a very good reputation. He is a painter by trade, and for some time worked in this town. The testimony before the coroner clearly establishes the innocence of William Brennan, and District Attorney Ryan to-day asked the court to discharge the prisoner, which request was complied with.

Telescopic Observation.

Grant Potter, a Mt. Carmel newspaper man, was in town yesterday.—Shenandoah Herald.

The above item appeared in the Mt. Carmel Daily News, July 20th, and the would-be editor of said paper lost control of his pen and added many words too many to B. Nov. Mr. Wilson, in order to reciprocate for your kindness, I wish to say "be careful that you don't get too complimentary or I might turn the tables and give you a dose of your own medicine." I don't want to hurt you, Bobby, and if you'll be a good boy I'll buy you a rattle and get you an annual pass from the Reading, good for '95. Good-bye, Bobby; come again. Final.

Foot Ball Team.

The Shenandoah Foot Ball Team has been re-organized by the re-election of all the old members and election of the following new members: Messrs. Trezise, Ogden, O'Hearn, R. Rhoads, A. Rhoads, Purcell, McGee, Shortall, Hennessy, Kirlin, Malick, Werts and Hobbins. This team is an exceptionally strong one and will make a creditable record.

Attention Called.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the Safe Deposit Building and Saving Association, of Reading, in another part of the HERALD. It has an authorized capital of $1,000,000, and has for its managers and stockholders some of the most men in the state. M. H. Master and W. H. Bachman, of town, are the local agents.

NOTES ABOUT TOWN.

Facts of Interest Grouped So That They May be Quickly Read.

Saloon keepers generally have a hard time with the cigar agents. Not that they are bad fellows at all, but they are numerous. They always "blow themselves" a quarter's worth and have such a clever way of patting the prospective customer on the back that it comes hard to refuse them an order. But one of our hotel men is quite equal to them. As soon as twenty boxes are empty he places them carefully in the cover in which they were delivered, ties the package up neatly and places it on a shelf with the express label outward. He has been doing this for four years and now has on hand what appears to be about 100,000 superior lace-room Havanas. When the agent begins to talk cigars, he leads him to the back room and points to the long shelf piled high with cigar packages. The agent feels faint, takes another for his nerve and is not seen again for six months.

All the physicians of town say they have more calls than they can conveniently attend to. The principal causes of complaint seem to be dysentery and like stomach troubles. People cannot be too careful in their dieting nowadays.

John T. Graf, the North Jarlin street grocer, has erected a new awning and made other improvements in the appearance of his store. Mr. Graf is one of the men who is always on the alert to catch the eye, as his "ads" in the HERALD demonstrate.

On Friday next the members of the Trinity Reformed, English Lutheran and Presbyterian Sunday schools, and their friends, will hold their annual picnic at Lakeside.

I understand that Oscar Betheridge, the ex-Councilman, will bring suit to recover the seven dollars damages he claims by reason of injuries done to his milk wagon on account of a part of Main street being in bad condition. Mr. B. says he is rich and the Councilmen say he is not, and now the matter is to develop into a law suit and about nine-tenths of the people can pretty near judge what the result will be.

Our exchanges are full of items regarding the contest of Hans, Poles and Italians for their respective countries, many of them supposed to be from this town. We are not taking much stock in these reports, as we fail to notice that there is the least diminution in Shenandoah's population, except by death and visits to the seashore.

Max Reese, the auctioneer, celebrated his birthday to-day—having reached the half century mark post and, consequently, he is now entitled to talk to his friends and neighbors. Of course, Max received the good wishes of all.
