ARCTIC EXPLORERS. Further Reports of the Loss of Wellman's Expedition.

FEARS FOR DR. NAUSEN'S PARTY

It is Believed That the Norwegian Explorer, Too, Has Been Lost in the Ice Flows—Latest from the Expeditions Led by Peary and Jackson.

LONDON, July 26.—Mr. Fielden, owner of the yacht Saida, high vessel succored Professor Oyen, the geologist of the Wellman Arctic expedition, who was left at Dane's Island, writes, referring to the report of the loss of the Wellman party and their steamer, that he has learned from Spitzbergen that the Ragnvald-Jari, the vessel which was used to convey the explorers to the edge of the ice pack, was at a point where it had been fitted up as a steamer, and that she was in no way expected to encounter the ice.

A reporter of the Associated Press had an interview with Carl Stewers, the Norwegian enthusiast in polar matters, now in London, who wrote to The Standard yesterday announcing that he was in receipt of advices that the Wellman Arctic expedition was lost. Mr. Stewers showed the reporter a bundle of letters received from Arctic sealers who had returned to Norway from the extreme northern waters. The writers said that they were convinced that all the members of the Wellman expedition were lost. Mr. Stewers expressed the belief that Captain Nansen's ship was also crushed in the ice. The Norwegian national assembly in 1891 voted a grant of 200,000 kroner for an expedition to the North Pole, and Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, of Christiania, the author of "Across Greenland," was placed in charge. The expedition, which consisted of a dozen men, sailed from Charova, on the north Siberian coast, early in August, 1893.

Mr. Stewers believes that the Peary party will return in September, after having sailed over the pole in an open sea. Mr. Stewers said that Lieutenant Peary's expedition was the only party, excepting Jackson's, which was scientifically planned.

Advices have been received here from Tromsø, Norway, to the effect that the steamer Windward, having on board Frederick Jackson and the members of his North Polar expedition, has passed that place. The Windward sailed from Greenhithe on July 13 for Franz Josef Land via Archangel. Arriving at Franz Josef Land the expedition will leave the steamer, which after landing stores, etc., will return to England. In 1896 she will go back to Franz Josef Land for the purpose of bringing the expedition back. It is the intention of Mr. Jackson not to push further north until next spring. Then the expedition will start for Cape Fligely, the most northerly point ever reached in Franz Josef Land.

The Cataract Construction Company. NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., July 26.—Secretary and Treasurer William B. Rankin, of the Cataract Construction company, gives out for publication the manner of transmission of electricity to Buffalo and Rochester. The induction and transmission will be the overhead system, similar to that adopted in the Tivoli-Rome circuit in Italy, a distance of over twenty miles. Steel poles will be sunk in beds of concrete to the depth of six feet, and copper cables three-tenths of an inch in diameter will be strung overhead a distance of 250 feet from the ground. The contract for the line to Buffalo will be let within ten days. The line to Rochester will not be built before late this fall.

Kentucky's Defaulting Treasurer Located. LEXINGTON, Ky., July 26.—"Honest Dick" Tate, the defaulting state treasurer of Kentucky, has been located. For years his family had believed him dead and since his disappearance his wife had died. Esauva Hugh Rodman, of the United States Navy, who has been on the visit in Kentucky, says that while in Japan several months ago with his ship he met Tate and dined with him. Tate is badly broken in health and cannot live long. His bondsmen have paid the last installment on his default, and an effort will be made to induce him to return and tell who were his partners in crime.

A Stubborn Mine Strike. CLEVELAND, July 26.—A settlement of the Massillon coal strike was apparently as far off as ever. The operators adjourned their meeting at the Walden house last evening. The strike has been a stubborn one, lasting since last February, and the opinion is expressed that the prospects are good for just as much stubbornness on both sides for another long six weeks or nothing, and if that figure was not accepted by the miners the mines would remain closed.

Coxey's Army Dispersed. HYATTSVILLE, Md., July 26.—Coxey's army camp here is gradually dispersing. The men have been on the point of starvation. Coxey, in an address to them yesterday, told them that about the only thing for them to do now was to go to Washington and beg, get arrested and have the district support them. Coxey and his son left for home last evening.

A Fatal Mistake. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 26.—John Collins, a market gardener, thought he heard thieves in his garden and started to investigate. He was followed by his daughter Maggie. Mrs. Collins heard the two, and supposed them thieves. Arousing a son William, he got his gun and shot both father and daughter. The farmer is dead and the latter dying.

Wild Scenes in the French Chamber. PARIS, July 26.—There was a wild scene yesterday in the chamber of deputies during the debate on the anti-anarchist measures. M. Jaures, Socialist, moved an amendment to assimilate and annul accepting bribes. This led to a revival of the Panama incident. M. Jourdain attacked M. Rouvier, ex-minister of finance, and M. Jourdain afterwards sent his seconds to M. Jourdain. The Jaures amendment was eventually rejected by a vote of 304 to 222. Subsequently the chamber decided that the violent passages in the speeches should be erased from the minutes. The action having been taken it is deemed that a duel between MM. Rouvier and Jourdain is needless.

Wisconsin Republicans Deadlocked. MILWAUKEE, July 26.—The Republican state convention was unable to select a state candidate for governor last night, the forces of the leading candidates, Upham, Schaeffler and Haugen, making a hard struggle to win over the straggling vote and break into each other's ranks. The convention took five ballots, and then adjourned until today. Each ballot showed a clear gain for Upham.

He was a son of the late Asa T. Soule, of "Hop Bitters" fame.

STRIKE INVESTIGATION. The Recent Outbreaks Will Now be Officially Probed.

THE COMMISSIONERS SELECTED.

NICHOLAS E. WORTHINGTON, an Illinois Judge, and John D. Kernan, a New York Lawyer, Will Aid Labor Commissioner Wright.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The president last night appointed the commissioners who are to investigate the controversies between certain railroads and their employees in connection with the recent railroad strike at Chicago and in the west. The statute under which the commission is appointed directs that the commissioner of labor shall be one of the commissioners, and that another shall be appointed from the state in which the controversy arises. The commissioners will be Carroll D. Wright, John D. Kernan, of New York, and Nicholas E. Worthington, of Peoria, Ill. Judge Lyman K. Trumbull, who was first chosen from Illinois, declined the honor.

Mr. Kernan is a well known lawyer in Utica, N. Y., and a son of ex-Senator Kernan. He has been a particular and thorough student of labor questions, and has written several important contributions to the literature of this subject. He was chosen because of his undoubted understanding of the subject and his well known sympathy with laboring classes. Mr. Kernan was appointed one of the railroad commissioners of New York state by Mr. Cleveland, then governor of the state. He held this position some time after the election of Governor Hill, but finally retired and entered into the practice of law in New York city. Mr. Kernan presided at the anti-snapper convention in 1892.

Nicholas E. Worthington is at present judge of the circuit court of the Central district of Illinois. He has served several terms in congress and was the immediate predecessor of Colonel Post, the present representative from the Peoria district. He is a lawyer of prominence and reputation, and it is said is admirably fitted to take part in the proposed investigation.

One of the Knox stable employees was burned and may die. Finally a dozen firemen and policemen were overcome by heat and had to be carried to places of safety.
