MR. WELLMAN HOPEFUL

The American Arctic Explorer Not in Danger.

THE RAGNVALD JARL ALL RIGHT.

The Captain of a Norwegian Scaler Reports That the Vessel Is New Free of Pack Ice and Well on Her Way to the LONDON, July 28.—Carl Siewers, the Norwegian Arctic enthusiast, last night received a telegram from the captain of the Erling, a Norwegian sealer, which arrise yesterday at the Island of Tromsoe, rinmark, Norway. The captain of the sealer said in his dispatch that near Amsterdam Island, in lat. 65 and long. 0, the Erling spoke the Ragnvald Jarl, the steamer which was conveying the Wellman, or American arctic expedition to the man, or American arctic expedition to the edge of the pack ice.

The Raguvald Jarl, in reply to signals, asked to be reported at the nearest place the Erling touched at, saying that all were well on board. The signal from the Ragnvald Jarl was: "Please report near-est touching place. All well on board Ragnvald Jarl and full of hope."

Ragavald Jarl and full of hope."

The Ragavald Jarl, the captain of the Erling also telegraphed, has been beset by pack ice, which had delayed her progress considerably. But, the sealer captain added, Wellman and his party were then free of the pack ice, and they should now be well on their way to the north pole. This cheering news has delighted everybody interested in Arctic exploration, and further news from the Wellman expedition will be awaited with much tion, and further news from the Wellman expedition will be awaited with much interest, as people are beginning to really believe that, with Nansen, Jackson and Wellman striving for the honor of planting their flag at or near the pole, something away shead of anything before accomplished may be recorded this year.

The Jackson (English expedition, which passed Tromese slands, a fitted out year.

ship, the Windward, at the edge of the pack ice and make a systematic, determined effort to reach the pole.

The English expedition, like the American party, has with it boats which can be used as sledges, but the Englishmen will also use eighteen other siedges, combining extraordinary strength and lightness, which will be drawn by Siberian dogs and by Siberian ponies accustomed to working in very cold regions. The expedition carries with it three collapsible tents, weighing thirty pounds each, each capable of accommodating six men.

The English expedition will obtain lighs, cooking facilities and warmth from a stock of methylated spirit, sixty above proof, which will defy any declension of temperature. After landing the Jackson party in Franz Joseph Land the Windward will come home and return for the expedition in the symboration of the parallel of

DISASTER

FIVE VICTIMS OF A BOILER EX-11 PLOSION AT PACKER NO. 4.

FOUR OF THEM ARE DEAD

The Survivor Tells How the Un-on fortunate Men Came to Meet Their Doom.

THE FIREMAN STUBBORN !on

He Evidently Discovered he Had Madesba Mistake, but Would Not Submit to the Judgment of a Subordinate-A Statement.

The boiler explosion at Packer colliery of No. 4, operated by the Lehigh Valley Coal of Company, Saturday night, has resulted in the death of four men and terrible scald- il ing of a fifth man, but the latter will it recover. The victims were:

JOHN MILLEH, Girardville; 36 years; eman; killed instantly; wife and three

JOHN LAURACH, Shenandosh; 25 years; impenian; died at his home; single. DARBY SHIELDS, Shenandoah; 45 years; ngineer; died at his home; widower in John Matingo, Shenandoah ; 27 years ; shman; died at the hospital; wife and ed two children in Austria. INJURED.

STEVE SHELSICK, Smoky Hollow: 20 ears; assistant fireman; will recover wife, but no children.

The boiler which exploded was one of a rr, est of twenty-one and was in charge of of John Miller, the victim who was instantly lie killed. This boiler had not been in use for a week and a fire was started under it but two hours previous to the disaster. III All the victims were in the boiler house, and but only one of them was struck by the or flying debris.

The explosion occurred at about 'clock Saturday night. Residents of the in vicinity say the report was a compari-tively light one; in fact, two men who drove along the public highway, which is all about a hundred and fifty yards north of ge the boiler house, say that it was escaping to tesm and not the noise of an explasion so that attracted their attention, and they its continued their journey to this town with-out really knowing what had happened.

out really knowing what had happened.

The first to arrive upon the scene after the explosion were May a Folley, an engineer, and Nicholas Reman, the highi watchman. The former was in the Buck Mountain engine house a short distance northeast of the boiler house and Breakman was at the breaker when the report was heard. Foley hurried down the hill and first met Steve Sheisick, who excitedly told the engineer to go to the public house as quick as possible, that known hen were killed. Shelsick then restarted down the railroad track towards ed, Smoky Hollow, running like a deer, of Foley next met Darby Shelds. The vielao

Smoky Hollow, running like a deer of Foley next met Darby Shields. The vice so tim was in terrible agony, but was able to walk and planded pittonsiy to be taken home. Foley took him as far as the house of Mrs William Banbridge and that lady escorted the unfortunate man until shords met her husband at Brownsville. Bank and bridge then walked with Shields to the fatter's home, at 514 East Liloyd street.

Meanwhile Foley, Brennan and others had gathered at the boller house to help the other victims. Miller had evidently on died from scallds and shock. His body use was found in the boller house. It was carried out and sent to Girardville. John Laubach was picked up unconscious. He S. was terribly scalded and had a wound on the back of his head which appeared to beind a fracture of the skull. As none of the men were hurled any distance; it is believed that the injury was inflicted by got diving debris of some kind. John pre-Malingo, the other victim, could not be found. He started on a run to Shenan-a doah and none of the colliery officials saw him again until he arrived at the Miners Hospital.

Laubach died shortly after reaching him one on West Coal

He was terribly scalded from the head down to the abdomes and his arom were in a very had condition. Malingo arrived at the Miners' Hospital at Fountain Springs yesterday afternoon, some frieuds having taken him there in a wagon. Dr. Biddle 197, said he was badly scalded from the waist in pann his case was hopeless. Shelsick was taken to the hospital in the collery exambulance. His face, cheat and arms were pretty badly scalded, but his chances for recovery are very good.

The disaster was reported early yester-day morning to W. A. Lathrop, general auperintendent for the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, and that official directed that the stataments of the survivors be #### Right Arm Paralyzed! Saved from St. Vitus Dance.

"Our daughter, Blanche, now fifteen years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm.
We feared St. Vitus dance, and tried the best physicians, with no benefit.
She has taken three bottles of Dr.
Miles' Nervine and has gained 31 pounds. Her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid."
