

CENTRALIA.

Miss Mary Sweeney, one of Big Mine Run's popular young ladies, returned yesterday, after a short visit to town.

James McDonnell, one of our popular young men, left for Philadelphia Tuesday morning, where he will reside in the future.

Richard Benson removed to Mt. Carmel yesterday. Mr. Benson was one of our prominent citizens and was well liked here. His family is also popular in town and many will miss their cheerful faces.

The Ivy Leaf base ball club defeated the Grays in a game played here Tuesday. Neither team had all its own players, but both were well represented in the contest and the new men substituted did not seem to change the teams materially. The Ivy Leaf won the game by a score of 14 to 5.

Tuesday evening another sad accident was added to the already large list of fatalities caused by jumping on moving trains. The unfortunate victim this time was Thomas Haggerty, a popular young man whose home is at the corner of Locust avenue and Railroad street. The accident occurred about 7 o'clock. A V. engine 73, drawing a train of coal and freight cars, and running at a pretty high rate of speed, passed through town and had reached a point about 100 yards east of young Haggerty's home when he and a number of other boys attempted to board it. Some succeeded, but Haggerty was thrown to the ground and the coal wheels added another victim to the list. His body and head were terribly mangled and one arm cut off at the elbow. The coroner was notified and promptly appeared upon the scene, after which all the necessary steps were taken to carry the body to his home. But that being was not the same cheerful home it had been but a few minutes before. The sad news had already reached there. The angel of death which had appeared so suddenly claimed all its brightness to sorrow and the moans and cries of his bereaved parents, sisters and brothers were indeed heart-rending. Intense sorrow is expressed throughout the community over the sad fate of this young man, as he was a popular young fellow. He was a member of the T. A. Society and by his death this society loses one of its trusted members. This is another warning lesson for those who make a practice of jumping on moving trains. The funeral will take place on Saturday morning, interment to be made in the St. Ignace cemetery.

IN SENATE AND HOUSE

The Upper House Working on the Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The main question before the senate yesterday was the sundry civil bill, which was discussed at odd moments through the day with the result that a great many important amendments were adopted. Final action on the bill was not reached, however, owing to the large number of amendments proposed. Among the more important of those was the appropriation of $175,000 for increasing the facilities of the Philadelphia postoffice; making the commissioners of immigration presidential officers and fixing their terms at four years; directing the secretary of war to employ Confederate veterans of the battles of Gettysburg and Chickamauga to assist in preparing the historical tablets for those battle fields.

A resolution was introduced by Mr. Chandler directing the special committee now investigating the charges of bribery against senators to extend its inquiries so as to determine whether any officers of the government are interested in the Dominion Coal company of Nova Scotia and whether these officers give any assurance that the tariff duty on coal would be repealed, and if so whether they were taking steps to carry out these assurances. The house spent the whole day debating the Moore-Funston contested election cases from the Second Kansas district. Mr. Funston, the Republican contestant, made a speech in his own behalf. The minority resolution declaring Funston, the contestant, entitled to the seat was defeated. Eight Democrats voted with the Republicans in favor of Funston.

A Captain Mysteriously Drowned.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 2.—Captain James W. Graham, of the Johnston line steamer Calumet, was drowned yesterday morning in the Lower Patuxent river. He left the bridge at 1:40 o'clock and instructed the officers to call him when the Calumet entered the Craig Hill channel. When the officers sent below for Captain Graham the report came back that he could not be found. All hands were summoned on deck and the steamer was searched thoroughly, but the master was not on board. The general opinion is that he was sitting on the rail enjoying a smoke, and lost his balance. Captain Graham was 65 years old, and probably the oldest master in the fruit carrying trade in the United States.

Run Down by the Majestic.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The steamship Majestic, which arrived yesterday from Liverpool, ran down the fishing schooner Antelope last Monday morning off the banks. The big liner crashed into the frail schooner, striking her on the port quarter and splitting her completely to the starboard bow. Seven out of the eight men on board were quickly rescued. The eighth man, named Gabriel Mitchell, aged 15, a native of Burlingame, N. F., was below when the steamer struck the Antelope, and was drowned. All of the men were more or less bruised by flying splinters, and one of them, William Woundy, died on the Majestic from the injuries he received.

To Prosecute A. R. U. Directors.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—District Attorney McPherson has filed supplemental information in the Debs contempt case to include the directors of the American Railway union in the charge of violating the order of the court. The directors proceeded against are James Hogan, William E. Burns, R. M. Goodwin, J. F. McVean and M. J. Elliott. They were the cabinet or advisory council of the four officers of the American Railway union, and when Debs, Kellner, Rogers and Howard were arrested and placed in jail for contempt the directors took charge of the strike and boycott, and conducted all the affairs of the union.

It is expected that other miners in that neighborhood will do likewise, as they are about starved out. The report that R. H. Piper & Co. would import men and deputies to start up their Bus Creek mines is denied. They will not start until the men come back voluntarily, at the thirty-five cent rate.

Miss Marie Fortner, of Centralia, called on her many Mt. Carmel friends last night.

This morning, while some parties unknown to the writer, were passing through the cemetery at Alaska, their attention was attracted by some fresh clouds of earth and upon closer examination discovered that it was a newly-made grave. Finding that the grave was not very deep they continued the search and was horrified to find a new-born babe. It bore every evidence of foul play, its little face being black. A string of white muslin was drawn tightly around its neck and this alone would be sufficient evidence to convict. As yet, no clue has been found by which the police could run the perpetrators of such a crime down to justice. The coroner's inquest resulted in the usual verdict. Mt. Carmel authorities should not let the matter rest at that, but exert untiring efforts to find the guilty party.

We are pleased to make note of another pleasant party that was held by some of our leading society people. The pleasant affair came off at the residence of Miss Alice Wirt. The earlier part of the evening was spent in playing various games, dancing, etc. Amusements of all kinds were on the program, and also, in the afternoon, they all sat down to a grand banquet, such as graces the King's table, and after all had ate their fill of the delicious viands they returned, at a later hour, to their homes. The following is a list of those who were present: Misses Ella White, Edith Whitman, Della Marsden, Alice Wirt, Carrie Phillips, Sadie Morgan and Rose Ziegler, of town, and Miss Eva Bishop, of Philadelphia; Miss Ella Corder, of Sunbury; Miss Julia Capps, of New York city; Thea E. Bird, of Shenandoah; Messrs. George Reddall, Arthur Shaw, Hugh Evans, John O'Hearn, John Thomas, William Wynn, Harry McWilliams and Lorie Robbins, all of this city.
