He was badly beaten about the face and head, and after being relieved of a large sum of money and other valuables was left on the roadside in a dying condition. He finally recovered consciousness and reached his home.

The citizens formed a committee, marched to Cornish's house, dragged him out and thrashed him to within an inch of his life.

A SUNDAY CONFERENCE

Tariff Conference Anxious to Reach an Agreement.

WILL REPORT BY WEDNESDAY.

It is Not Definitely Settled as Yet, However, Whether They Will Report an Agreement or Disagreement—May Extend the Sugar Bounty Period.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The usual Sunday quiet of the Capitol building was broken yesterday by the assembling of the Democratic tariff conference at 2:30 o'clock in the senate committee room on interstate commerce. All of the Democratic conferees were present except Senator Voorhees, who is still sick, and Chairman Wilson, who has gone to West Virginia to see his sick wife. The meeting lasted until 6 o'clock, and was marked with even more than the usual secrecy, some of the conferees declining to admit that they were together. Others were more communicative, explaining that the gathering was due to the desire to expedite a settlement at the earliest moment possible. The meeting resulted in an understanding that a report should be made one way or the other—agreement or disagreement—within the next seventy-two hours. That it would be an agreement was not, however, definitely settled. On this point the conferees say they have not yet passed the danger point, although they seemed more confident that it would be an agreement.

The discussion again turned on sugar, iron ore and coal. The fact that these items are receiving attention is taken to indicate that the new sugar schedule has been thoroughly canvassed, and that it will be the basis of an agreement unless some new obstacle intervenes. The house conferees are proceeding without reference to the strong opposition to the new sugar schedule by the Louisiana senators. This opposition may be overcome, however, by permitting the present bounty of a portion of it to run until Jan. 1 next.

The Louisiana opposition has been mainly to the fact that the present bounty has not been reached in the senate bill, and it has been urged that it was bad faith to cut off the bounty when the present sugar crop was put in on the basis of a bounty. By postponing the time at which the bounty provisions of the McKinley law shall be repealed until Jan. 1 would operate on the crop about to be gathered. This, like other details of the proposition, are not yet agreed on, but it was mentioned by one of the conferees as a fair concession to the Louisiana men, and one likely to overcome their opposition.

The Louisiana senators have said that they would be willing to accept half of the bounty for the present year in addition to the duty in the new compromise schedule.

Some attention has also been given to the income tax, and while a final agreement has not been reached it is practically conceded that the senate limit of five years will be adopted. The house conferees feel that if the tax is in operation for five years it will so recommend itself that an extension of the system will be enacted at a subsequent congress. Efforts are being made, however, to extend the limit to six or eight years.

With the tariff disposed of the senate could probably adjourn in three or four days' time. The last of the general appropriation bills has passed both houses, and a majority of them have been signed by the president. Some of these bills are in conference still, but if an agreement upon them would bring an adjournment it would not long be delayed, as there are no irreconcilable differences between the two houses on appropriations. There is no measure other than the tariff bill and the appropriations bill which would be strong enough to hold the senate together, even for a day. The probabilities for the week include a report from the tariff conference committee and subsequent debate, and also the presentation of the conference reports on the sundry civil, river and harbor, Indian and general deficiency bills and the consideration of the calendar when these more important matters do not occupy a position to receive attention. The immigration bill will come up this afternoon, and in lieu of the tariff may excite considerable debate. The Republican senators are inclined to press the question of a further limitation of immigration, but so far the Democrats in the senate have not shown a disposition to accept the challenge, and they may choose to permit the Republicans to monopolize the discussion of the subject.

The house will proceed this week as it did last. The house is simply awaiting the final report on the tariff bill. All its routine business has been transacted, and it is simply waiting. Today, however, is being devoted to the Seale-Williams contested election case from North Carolina. The remaining days will be assigned to the routine business of the committee subject always to conference reports. If the conferees on the tariff reach an agreement this week the report will first be considered in the senate, and after being disposed of there it will come to the house. If the report is not made before Wednesday there is no probability that it will get to the house this week. When it does reach that body it is not the intention of the house managers to allow any protracted debate.

Representative Seale is the only Republican remaining in the house whose seat has been contested by a Democrat. Much interest is centered upon the case because the commissioner on elections, which of course, has a Democratic majority, after hearing the testimony in the case, reported in favor of Mr. Seale, denying the claims of the Democratic contestant, Mr. Williams. The majority report was signed by ten members, the six Republican committeemen and four Democrats, one of them the chairman of the committee. Afterward a minority report for unseating Mr. Seale was signed by five Democratic members. Mr. Woodward, of North Carolina, called this up today, introducing a resolution to unseat Mr. Seale, and the question will be under their rules, a privileged one, as it concerns the title of a member to his seat. The case is an interesting one, as Democratic members are taking a leading part in Mr. Seale's behalf.

RIDING IN INDIANA

Radical Action Taken by Citizens to Stamp Out Lawlessness.

INDIAN, Aug. 6.—David Wilson and Henry Wright, residents of Atton, were attacked yesterday by a crowd of men on the Jackson street crossing of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad and terribly stamped and beaten. Wilson will die and Wright is seriously injured, being covered with bruises, his jaw broken and an ugly cut above the left temple. Wilson's principal wounds were internal. Trainmaster Fowler, of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, said that they had come to this city to work on his road, and this led to the belief that the men were assaulted by strikers. Most of the strikers say they were acquainted with the men, and that they did not come to work on the railroad, and that they were assaulted by a crowd of toughs. Wright admits that he was robbed of considerable money.

A man who arrived here yesterday to take a position on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois was attacked by men alleged to be strikers, and was only saved from being killed by drawing a revolver, hold the crowd at bay until a policeman arrived and escorted him to the roundhouse. These acts of violence created so much indignation among the citizens that United States Marshal Hawkins was telegraphed for. He arrived in the afternoon, accompanied by his chief assistant, Mr. Foley. Mr. Hawkins, by request of the citizens, made five of the most prominent business men in the city deputy marshals, and invested them with power to select as many assistants as desired. A finance committee was selected to raise $2,500, which was subscribed by those present, to carry on the prosecution of the law breakers and employ detectives to hunt them down.

Mayor McCullough issued orders today to the police force to arrest every man and woman who calls another a "soak." More excitement prevails here now than at any time since the killing of Engineer Barry during the miners' strike.

Incurable in an Ohio Village

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 6.—Oak Harbor, a village of 2,000 inhabitants, about twenty-five miles east of this place, is in a state of terror. Within the past twenty hours three incendiary fires have been kindled, the first inflicting a loss of about $35,000. It originated in the stove yard of H. H. Millard, spreading from that point until it had burned over a patch of about twelve acres. Soon afterward fire was discovered in the shaving box of Rose's stove factory, but it was extinguished with a slight loss. Three hours later a straw stack on the property of Christ Voger was lighted, burning his barn and other small buildings, causing a loss of about $1,000.

Striker Miners Burn a Tipples

EBENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 6.—The striking miners of Barnesboro, a coal town about fifteen miles north of this place, became violent Saturday and burned the coal tipples and several other buildings at the Cambria Coal company's mines. The cause of this riot is due to the low wages paid to miners in that district. They were receiving thirty cents per ton, and refused to work any longer for those wages.

Girl Born Burner Is Insane

SALEM, N. J., Aug. 6.—Sixteen-year-old Sallie Eagen, who was arrested on Wednesday for the repeated firing of Joseph Kerlin's barns, in Alloway township, made a full confession of the affair to Mayor Acton. The girl claimed that she had no motive in setting fire to the buildings. She has been declared insane, and was sent to Philadelphia for proper medical treatment.

Stock Yards Employes Weaken
