

EVENING HERALD.

VOL. IX.—NO. 198.

SHENANDOAH PA., TUESDAY, AUGUST 7, 1894.

ONE CENT.

REFRIGERATORS.

BABY CARRIAGES.

Large Assortment—Low Prices.

WILLIAMS & SON.

"Ladies' Waists.

To close out prices will be reduced from 25 to 35 per cent. Styles the same as beginning of the season.

Our SUN BONNETS—Sateen, calico or gingham, are reduced to 25c.

Have a lot of Remnants in Embroidery and Laces—all ends from this season—prices marked away down.

116-18 N. Main St.

Girvin's

Jelly Tumblers. Mason's Jars.

Chas. Girvin,

Successor to GIRVIN, DUNCAN & WAHLEY, 8 South Main Street.

M. P. CONRY,

31 South Main St.

Monongahela whiskey.....50c a qt.
Pure rye whiskey, XX.....$1 a qt.
Fine Old Bourbon, XXX.....$1.25 a qt.
Superior Blackberry Brandy.....$1 a qt.
Superior Cognac Brandy.....$1.00 a qt.
Imported Jamaica Rum.....$1.50 a qt.

Retail Liquor Store

YUENGLING'S Stock and Fresh Ale, Draught Porter and Wiener Beer. Best brands of Cigars and all kinds of Temperance Drinks.

Billinger & Bro.,

We are prepared to guarantee artistic work which will give you satisfaction, and at very reasonable prices. Call and see our latest style crayons.

Photographers

19 West Lloyd St., Shenandoah.

Just Received.

- One Car Highest Grade Minnesota Fancy Patent Flour.
- One Car Fine Middlings.
- One Car No. 1 Cut hay.

To Arrive.

- One Car Old White oats.
- One Car Corn.
- One Car Middlings.

Specialties.

- Our Fancy Creamery Butter Always Fresh.
- New Norway and No. 1 Mackerel, This Season's Catch.
- Fresh Smoked Hams and Bacon.
- Chipped Dried Beef and Summer Sausage.
- Fresh Ground Rye Flour, Pastry Flour, Graham Flour.

New Carpets.

- New Floor Oil Cloth and Linoleum.
- New Fall Styles.
- We invite attention to our large line of Floor Oil Cloth Two yards Wide at 45 and 50 cents.
- One yard wide from 25 cents up. Linoleum 2 yds. wide at 75 cents.

New Ingrain Carpets.

- Extra Quality at 50 cents.
- Special Value at 75 cents.

AT KEITER'S.

CAUCUS AGAIN IN THE HOUSE

The Members of Tariff Conference Committee Are Displeased.

PROMPT ACTION ASKED!

In Direct Opposition to Speaker Crisp and Chairman Wilson—Voorhees Urges Free Coal and Iron Ore.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—When the Democratic tariff conference adjourned last evening there seemed to be a better feeling among the conferees than at the close of previous sessions. Members from both houses announced that the committee had been working over the schedule, and that progress was being made, but they did not indicate when a report would be reached, though some of the conferees expressed the opinion that an agreement was in sight. For a considerable portion of the day the senators were not in the conference room, but it was stated that no significance was to be attached to that fact, as they were all working toward an agreement. These senators occasionally repaired to the committee room of Senator Vest, and sometimes were in consultation with Democratic managers in the room of the committee on appropriations.

The coal and iron questions were considered yesterday, almost to the exclusion of every other topic, and the discussion proceeded upon the basis of the duty provided on these articles by the senate amendments, with the limitation of the time that the duty shall continue to four years. The house conferees held out stubbornly for the entire recession of the senate from its amendments, and there appearing no probability of reaching an understanding the senate conferees withdrew to a separate room, leaving the house members to themselves the greater part of the afternoon. The day closed with a request on the part of the house conferees that they be given further time to decide upon a line of action on coal and iron ore. The request was granted.

It is not understood that the house members have agreed positively either to accept or reject the senate proposition, but it is possible that they may submit a counter proposition, with the hope that it will be acceptable to the senators.

A member of the conference said today that with the coal and iron ore questions disposed of there would, he thought, be little more time necessary to reach an agreement on the entire bill. He admitted that there was a virtual understanding on all the other schedules, including sugar. He also said that the developments so far made indicated wide differences on coal and iron ore, and had not been of a character to indicate an agreement at all. Still, he was hopeful that a common agreement might be found on these two articles.

Considerable surprise was expressed by the conferees when they learned that a call for a house caucus at 8 o'clock this afternoon had been issued, and it evidently was very distasteful to the house members of the conference, who had felt that they were beginning to see an agreement. Mr. Montgomery said that the caucus would make no difference so far as he was concerned and he would continue the work he was engaged in unless some action very different from that which he anticipated should be taken by the caucus. He said that while the caucus was in progress the conferees would be at work.

Intense feeling was developed among all members as soon as the caucus move began. Members gathered in the lobbies and talked excitedly for and against the step. Representatives Straus, Warner and others friendly to the administration, denounced it as a "fire in the rear."

Neither Speaker Crisp nor Chairman Wilson had been consulted as to the caucus and it was recognized as directly in opposition to their wishes. Representative Outwater, an associate of Speaker Crisp on the committee on rules, said: "The caucus is not indorsed by the committee on rules or by the conferees. It is evidently a move against the house conferees. Members of the rules committee will probably enter the caucus, but I expect the conferees will remain away in view of the fact that adverse action by the caucus would be equivalent to a vote of 'want of confidence.'"

Representative Straus, a close friend of Mr. Wilson, expressed the opinion that the caucus would prove a boomerang. He believed Mr. Wilson and the other conferees would attend the caucus and attempt to carry it. With such men as Speaker Crisp, Chairman Wilson, Bonke Cookran and others urging loyalty to the house conferees, Mr. Straus did not think an antagonistic resolution would pass. Mr. Straus said also that he expected the caucus would bring out some startling conference secrets which would insure the conferees' support from the house.

Messrs. Springer and Bynum make no concealment of the fact that the caucus is for the purpose of ending the contest by accepting the senate bill. In this connection they quote a statement made to them by Senator Mills to the effect that further house legislation meant the killing of all tariff legislation.

Senator Voorhees, who has been confined to his home by illness for some time, was somewhat improved last night, and talked freely to an Associated Press representative regarding the tariff bill. He said among other things:

"The sugar question being practically out of the way, by concession, the senate ought, in my judgment, concede free coal and free iron ore, and of course, it would do so but for a membership in that body which can be counted on the fingers of one hand. I have no disposition to reflect on the members of those who differ from me in opinion, but this small minority of the senate having substantially carried their point on sugar, can very easily and honorably afford to make concessions on coal and iron."

DEMOCRATS CARRY ALABAMA

Oates Elected Governor by a Majority of 18,000 to 20,000.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 7.—Despite the fact that the campaign just closed has been the bitterest ever known in the state, the election passed off quietly, and few disturbances are reported. The new Sayre election law, a modified form of the Australian ballot system, was put in operation for the first time, and it worked smoothly. The ballot was a secret one. The voting was slow and the vote generally lighter than in 1893. The negroes whose vote cut quite a figure, either did not vote at all or voted almost solely for Oates in northern and middle Alabama, while in northern Alabama a majority of them were for Kolb. The white Republicans were mostly for Kolb.

Incomplete returns from various counties of the state indicate that in south and middle Alabama the Democrats have made gains in every county except Mobile, where the vote was light, the city of Mobile giving only 700 Democratic majority, against 8,000 last year. Montgomery, Selma, Eufala and Birmingham, and nearly all the cities and large towns, give Democratic majorities. The country districts were Kolb's stronghold, and in north Alabama except in the counties of Limestone, Madison, Lamar, Tuscaloosa and Etowah he got the same vote as in 1892, but in this (Jefferson) county his vote shows a heavy increase. The result in north Alabama is about the same as two years ago. That is Kolb's stronghold, and he has carried the same counties that he did in the last election. In south and middle Alabama the returns show Democratic gains which will give the state to Oates by 18,000 or 20,000.

In north Alabama the Democrats have gained two counties that were for Kolb two years ago, thereby securing three more members of the legislature, which Senator Morgan's friends claim make that body safely Democratic. The Kolbites have gained 2,300 votes in Jefferson county and have made gains in several counties, but these are offset by Democratic gains in other counties in the same section.

MANFRED PAYS THE PENALTY.

Hung For the Murder of George Ochs at St. Clair.

SCENES ABOUT THE JAIL!

The Doomed Man Met His Death Without Flinching and Died Easily—He Was Ready and Willing to Die.

Special to EVENING HERALD.

POTTSVILLE, Aug. 7.—In the presence of Sheriff Joseph Wolf, Warden Dunkelberger, Father McGovern, physicians and the witnesses provided by law, in addition to about 100 people who had accepted the passes sent out by the Sheriff, Harry Manfred, the Italian who murdered George Ochs at St. Clair, paid the death penalty by hanging in the Pottsville jail this morning.

It has been frequently asserted that Manfred would break down at the last moment and would have to be assisted to the scaffold. The public was deceived. Manfred was game when he walked to the scaffold over his countenance as he stepped beneath the rope he exhibited no emotion.

Manfred slept well last night. As soon as he arose this morning he washed and prepared himself for the last act in the judicial drama. He was perfectly self-possessed and in response to a suggestion as to whether he appreciated his situation he answered in the affirmative and added that he was prepared to go into sterner at any time. Father McGovern and Sisters of Charity called at Manfred's cell this morning and found him cool and contrite. Manfred was at the little table in his cell which served as an altar. After the service had been concluded Manfred reiterated that he was ready to go, at the same time turning to Father McGovern and the Sisters of Charity to thank them for the spiritual consolation and many kindnesses they had afforded him.

MANFRED PAYS THE PENALTY.

Hung For the Murder of George Ochs at St. Clair.

SCENES ABOUT THE JAIL!

The Doomed Man Met His Death Without Flinching and Died Easily—He Was Ready and Willing to Die.

Special to EVENING HERALD.

POTTSVILLE, Aug. 7.—In the presence of Sheriff Joseph Wolf, Warden Dunkelberger, Father McGovern, physicians and the witnesses provided by law, in addition to about 100 people who had accepted the passes sent out by the Sheriff, Harry Manfred, the Italian who murdered George Ochs at St. Clair, paid the death penalty by hanging in the Pottsville jail this morning.

It has been frequently asserted that Manfred would break down at the last moment and would have to be assisted to the scaffold. The public was deceived. Manfred was game when he walked to the scaffold over his countenance as he stepped beneath the rope he exhibited no emotion.

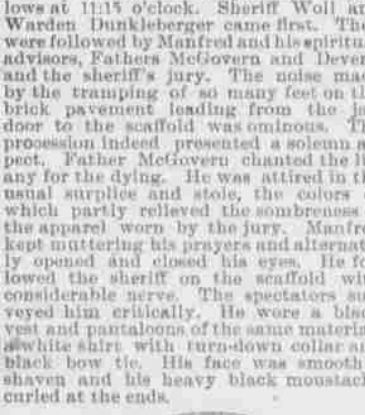

Manfred slept well last night. As soon as he arose this morning he washed and prepared himself for the last act in the judicial drama. He was perfectly self-possessed and in response to a suggestion as to whether he appreciated his situation he answered in the affirmative and added that he was prepared to go into sterner at any time. Father McGovern and Sisters of Charity called at Manfred's cell this morning and found him cool and contrite. Manfred was at the little table in his cell which served as an altar. After the service had been concluded Manfred reiterated that he was ready to go, at the same time turning to Father McGovern and the Sisters of Charity to thank them for the spiritual consolation and many kindnesses they had afforded him.

HARRY MANFRED.

Long before ten o'clock arrived a number of people had gathered about the stone steps in front of the jail. Those who were provided with passes were admitted to the interior of the jail, when they immediately commenced to scan the inside corridor, as seen through a door made of heavy pieces of iron half an inch apart. The jail yard was next visited. The scaffold which had been stored away in the cellar of the jail for two years was once more in readiness for its deadly work.

The procession left the jail for the gallows at 11:15 o'clock. Sheriff Wolf and Warden Dunkelberger came first. They were followed by Manfred and his spiritual advisers, Fathers McGovern and Deyers, and the sheriff's jury. The noise made by the tramping of so many feet on the brick pavement leading from the jail door to the scaffold was ominous. The procession indeed presented a solemn aspect. Father McGovern chanted the litany for the dying. He was attired in the usual surplice and stole, the colors of which partly relieved the somberness of the apparel worn by the jury. Manfred kept muttering his prayers and alternately opened and closed his eyes. He followed the sheriff on the scaffold with considerable nerve. The spectators surveyed him critically. He wore a black vest and pantaloons of the same material, a white shirt with turn-down collar and black bow tie. His face was smoothly shaven and his heavy black moustache curled at the ends.

GEORGE OCHS.

Manfred looked subdued, yet firm. A supernatural stillness seemed to pervade the jail yard. He was not long upon the scaffold when the most ghastly part of the program commenced. His arms were stretched behind his back. His legs were tied together by stout straps and then a leather band was bound tightly around his chest. While this was being done Manfred looked up at the sky and moved his lips in prayer. Great pains were taken to fasten the rope properly around his neck. The white cap the very sight of which Manfred's father was pained.

MANFRED PAYS THE PENALTY.

Hung For the Murder of George Ochs at St. Clair.

SCENES ABOUT THE JAIL!

The Doomed Man Met His Death Without Flinching and Died Easily—He Was Ready and Willing to Die.

Special to EVENING HERALD.

POTTSVILLE, Aug. 7.—In the presence of Sheriff Joseph Wolf, Warden Dunkelberger, Father McGovern, physicians and the witnesses provided by law, in addition to about 100 people who had accepted the passes sent out by the Sheriff, Harry Manfred, the Italian who murdered George Ochs at St. Clair, paid the death penalty by hanging in the Pottsville jail this morning.

It has been frequently asserted that Manfred would break down at the last moment and would have to be assisted to the scaffold. The public was deceived. Manfred was game when he walked to the scaffold over his countenance as he stepped beneath the rope he exhibited no emotion.

Manfred slept well last night. As soon as he arose this morning he washed and prepared himself for the last act in the judicial drama. He was perfectly self-possessed and in response to a suggestion as to whether he appreciated his situation he answered in the affirmative and added that he was prepared to go into sterner at any time. Father McGovern and Sisters of Charity called at Manfred's cell this morning and found him cool and contrite. Manfred was at the little table in his cell which served as an altar. After the service had been concluded Manfred reiterated that he was ready to go, at the same time turning to Father McGovern and the Sisters of Charity to thank them for the spiritual consolation and many kindnesses they had afforded him.

SHENANDOAH.	R.	IN.	PO.	A.	E.
Mueser, H.	0	1	2	4	0
Rose, J.	0	0	2	0	0
Meyer, H.	0	0	2	0	0
Wright, J.	0	0	4	1	0
O'Hara, J.	0	1	4	0	0
Asterbach, J.	0	1	1	1	1
McFarlane, J.	0	0	1	1	1
Messitt, C.	0	0	2	2	0
Verkes, P.	0	0	0	0	0
Total	2	3	27	14	4

HARRISBURG.	R.	IN.	PO.	A.	E.
Fagan, H.	1	0	2	1	0
Callahan, P.	1	0	2	1	0
Mooney, H.	3	4	0	0	0
Hanbury, H.	3	3	0	0	0
Roberts, H.	3	3	4	0	0
Wright, J.	2	2	0	0	0
Smith, J.	1	1	1	0	0
Moss, H.	1	2	1	0	0
White, C.	1	1	0	1	1
Total	16	19	27	14	1

SHENANDOAH.	R.	IN.	PO.	A.	E.
Shenandoah	0	0	0	0	1-2
Harrisburg	0	0	1	2	0-10

Earned runs—Harrisburg 8; Shenandoah 1. Total base hits—Wright, Mooney, Moss (2), O'Hara, Messitt. Three base hits—Moss, Hanbury. Double plays—Moss and Roberts; Messer and Meyer; Wellart and Meyer. Struck out—By Messitt. Bases on balls—O'Hara, 1; of Verkes, 4. Wild pitch—Huston. Passed ball—Messitt. Time of game—1 hour and 50 minutes. Umpire—Hoover.

OTHER LEAGUE GAMES.	R.	IN.	PO.	A.	E.
Pottsville	0	1	12	0	2-0-24
Allentown	0	0	1	2	0-0-0-13

Wilson and Potts; Kelly, Derrick, Costello and Milligan.

Reading	R.	IN.	PO.	A.	E.
Reading	4	0	0	0	3-0-8
Philadelphia	0	4	0	1	0-0-0-3

Coy and Fox; Cummings and Roth.

Lancaster	R.	IN.	PO.	A.	E.
Lancaster	2	2	2	0	1-0-15
Harrisburg	0	2	0	1	0-0-5-3

Callahan and Cote; Fee and Moore.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.	W.	L.	Per.	W.	L.	Per.
Shenandoah	15	7	68	Reading	12	12	50
Allentown	10	7	59	Harrisburg	9	15	37
Pottsville	14	9	61	Harrisburg	8	15	35
Lancaster	13	11	54	Philadelphia	5	19	26

Trip to the Glen.
A. Mitchell Blakelee, of Delano, to-day celebrated his 21st anniversary by giving many of his friends of Shenandoah, Wm. Penn, Ashland, Mahanoy City and Pottsville an excursion to Glen Onoko. The following party left town this morning on the 9:08 Lehigh Valley train and joined the other parties at Mahanoy City and Delano: Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hunter and son; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Kelly, Misses Sallie, Birdie and Emma Wasley, and Mrs. George Wasley, of Shenandoah; Misses Maud and Carrie Lewis and Messrs. John and Burr Lewis, of Wm. Penn; Miss Thomas, of Reading; Miss Birdie Davis, of Dudley, N. J.; Mrs. Williams, of New York; Miss Bucher, of Lewisburg, and Miss Belle Hunter, of Ashland.

Onward It Strides.
The demand for the EVENING HERALD has so greatly increased that it has become necessary to establish an additional agency at Hooks & Brown's stationary store, 4 North Main street.

Special low prices to all in watches, jewelry and silverware at Holderman's, corner Main and Lloyd streets.

If You Want

Large, coarse, seedy Pickles, Graf's

But when you want finely flavored, crisp little ones, come to Graf's

