FEEDING A DELIGATE BABY.

Words of a Famous Physician That Should be Written on the Walls of Every Nursery-How to Supplement Mother's Milk. "One-half of the deaths of infants are caused by improper feeding," should be written on the walls of every nursery. It is known to all no food for an infant equal to the milk of a robust woman. But there are hosts of mothers who cannot nurse their children during the entire year, and many others who ought not to, as the nutriment which they furnish steadtly loses in richness and power to make firm firsh and bons and to keep baby well. This is especially true in summer.

"How shall I feed my baby?" is then the question of these mothers who cannot nurse their babbes.

"Feed the little one on lactated food." says the more experienced mother

Years and years of splendid results in the rearing of delicate children on lactated food have given it its brilliant repu tation among mothers and physician As a nutriment and preventive of dising tests, and has brought thousands o bables safely through the hot summer sustaining their strength in the exhaust ing diseases peculiar to childhood.

Here is the experience of the sweet buby boy whose portrait is given above. His mother, Mrs. W. H. P. Caron, who resides at 30 North First street, Meridan, Conn.

"I take pleasure in sending you the pic ture of our little Waiter. He was a very sick baby and would not murse. We tried everything we could, but he never got well until a friend recommended lactated food to us. We gave it to him and he improved rapidly. This is his second sum mer and is very trying to him, as he is cutting teeth, but in spite of that he is larger than a good many as old. He will eat nothing but lactated food. I hope that I may have many chances to recom-mend it, for I know of nothing else that deserves so much praise as fact; jed food;

The Loss to the Baseball Club Will Rene? Eighty Thousand Dollars, While Other Losses Will Aggregate Thirty-three Thousand Dollars More.

PHHADELPHIA, Aug. 7.—The pavillons and spectators stands at the Philadel phia Baseball park, and the large stables of the Omnibus Company General were destroyed by fire yesterday, and the ear depot of the Thirteenth and Fifteenth streets and Twelfth and Sixteenth streets division of the Philadelphia Tractic company, the saloon property of James J Boyle, and many private residences were more or less injured. The fire was discov ered in the wooden panelling of the women's retiring room in the main pa-villen of the ball park at 10,50 in the morning, and is supposed to have orig-inated from inflammables left by some

The great tiers of seats were descrited at the time, but had the fire been discov-ered a few hours later, when the loca club was scheduled to play two games with the lishtimore team, a terrible stan-pede and loss of life would have ensued for a few minutes after the first smal tongue of flame was discovered the entire mass was a roaring furnger. The Philadelphia teach was practicing on the diamond when the fire was discovered. Three of the players, Hellly, Fan alog and Taylor, gapt the alarm, and at tempted to exting tish the blaze. The were quickly direct back by the heat however, and made a rush for their clothes.

The players had narrow escapes.

A general Jarm of fire brought all the engines in the city to the spot, but the pa vilians and open seats were already crun bling under the roaring flames. The fl next jumped Fifteenth street and attacked the stable of the Omnibus Company Gen eral, which covers the entire adjoining block. The offices of this company were soon gutted, and then the flames made soon gatter, and then the mames made their way to the great hay mowe on the second floor of the new brick and iron structure, where over 200 tons of hay were stored. About 550 horses were in the stable when it caught, but the animals, to gether with the vehicles stored there, wer all saved.

Il saved. The next building to go was the pro-tion of William Bautom, at No. duce shop of William Bantom, at No 1,501 Tucker street, which is a total wreck. The drog store of Thomas Park on the corner of Fifteenth and Hunting don streets, narrowly escaped mosting the same fate. The windows were broken to atoms and the woodwork scorched and burnt. Mr. Park's loss will be heavy. A number of adjacent dwellings were similarly damaged.

Meanwhile the Traction company's ca depot on Huntingdon street, opposite the main pavillon, caught fire, but was quickly extinguished. The saloon of J. J. Boyle, at Broad and Huntingdon street, was similarly damaged.

The following were severely burner while saving property or trying to extin guish the flames: James McGee, a fire man, overcome by heat and injured by falling down a flight of steps; Charle Boyer, a horse sheer, severely burned Assistant Engineer Ellinger and Firemer Thomas Clayton, George Reese, Harry Thomas and John Elliott, hadly scorched The Philadelphia Baseball park will loose $80,000; insured for $23,000. The On-nibus company's loss will be $20,000 the Traction company looses $2,000 and J. J. Boyle $1,000. The total displays to the other property will aggregate $10,000, The games scheduled to be played with
