SOME TARIFF

Senator Jones Admits no Agreement Has Been Reached, but Declares the Outlook is Cheering.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.-When the Dem scratic tariff conference adjourned last evening it was understood on all sides that the Democrats would report to the full conference today. Members of the conference supported the general faith by their statements, which were more or less sanguine or guarded, depending upon the temperament of the speaker. While the utterances at the time of adjournment were not so strong as those which were heard earlier in the afternoon they were still sufficiently assuring to justify the statement that, barring improbable contingencies, the Democratic members of the conference will find themselves prepared some time during the day, or at the latest tomorrow, to call in the Repub-lican members of the conference for a full

'I will not say," said Senator Jones las night, "that we have agreed, for that would not be true, but the situation is cheerful, and the indications are that we shall finish the work tomorrow. If we do not come to an agreement tomorrow shall consider the conference at an end, for I do not see the use of continuing our in-terviews with the house conferrees any

This situation was at the end of a day which had started out with a determina-tion on the part of the senate conferrees, supported by the conservative senators, to bring the question at issue to a finality during the day, and which later brought the positive, though unofficial, announcement that this end had been accomplished and an understanding reached. The report began to gain circulation about o'clock, and it growstronger and stronger without receiving positive confirmation from those in a position to know the facts, until 2:30, when members of the conference and senators who had been closeted with them confirmed it to the extent of saying that, white all the details had not been arranged, they felt confident that a basis had been found upon which the con-ferrees of both houses could stand, and terms actually agreed upon which the conservative senators would accept. Both Democrats and Republicans accepted this as the approach of the end, and as equa-to a definite announcement of agreement.

When, however, the conference reconvened at Bo'clock it soon developed that by no means all the details had been arranged, and also that there was more or less opposition to the program, and it was not long before the conferees found themselves bothering over many of the same propositions which they had been considering for days. It also became noised about that the outlook was not so bright as it had appeared a few hours bebright as it had appeared a few hours be

It was understood that objection had been made from the house to the reten-tion of the duty on coal, and that certain senators, among whom was Senator Pugh, of Alabama, had taken a decided stand against what they termed the sacrifice of iron ore. These complaints were sufficient to cause the conferrees to halt for a time, and it is known that some difficulties were sanguine upon the adjournment of their afternoon session as they were when the forenoon session closed. They came out of the conference somewhat anxious, but still, as they asserted, hopeful that to the would see the first would see the final adjustment of their differences. They stated that the coal and fron ore rates were among those which had not been fixed beyond recall. Indeed sugar appears from the statements given out 6 be the only article upon which a definite conclusion has been fixed beyond recall. coal or iron ore would go to the free list and the other would be dutiable at the senate rate. During the day it was first ore and then the other of these articles that was to be free, and finally it was left open until today.

The Republican steering committee of the senate held a session immediately after the adjournment of the senate to consider the situation. The understanding among them was to the effect that the Democrats had got close enough together to allow the tariff bill to be reported back to the senate today. There were presen Republicans who had information as to the status of the bill, and they stated that upon the manufacturing schedules the senate rates in the main obtained, but on the three principal items, sugar, coal and iron, a compromise had been reached. It was from this standpoint that the Repub licans discussed the bill and the possibil ity of aefeating it. It was first ascertained that every Re-publican and the Populists Peffer and publican and the Populats Peffer and Stewart would vote against the bill, and that Mr. Hill would also oppose it. Three more votes were necessary to defeat it. The announcement was made with con-siderable directness that both Mesera. Caffery and Blanchard, of Louisians, would vote against, though they were not considered absolutely certain.

not considered absolutely certain One of the senators had asked Senate Allen as to the position of himself an Mr. Kyle, who voted for the bill when i received a positive answer, the inferen was that the Populists seemed to think it was a part of their policy to vote against the bill. Wub the Republican side solid, and Hill, Caffery, Blanchard and Alies with them the bill could not pass. The Republicans had to acknowledge, however, that the prospects of getting all three of the host pass was a very that the prospects of getting all three of the host pass was extracted by the pass was a very that the prospects of getting all three of the host passes was extracted by the passes when the prospects of getting all three passes are prospected by the passes when the passes were than the prospects of getting all three passes are passes to be prospected by the passes when the passes was the passes when the passes was the passes when the passes were passes that the passes was the passes when the passes were passes that the passes were passes that the passes were passes that the passes were passes to be passed to of the last moned was extremely doubtful the Republicans to consume any time in dahate. It is probable that they will be willing to take a vote very soon after the report is made. Their motion will be to Indefinitely postpone the bill, and this, they think, will be the test. The other motion by the friends of the bill will be to agree to the report of the conference committee, but if the motion to indefinitely postpone fails the motion to agree is very likely to be carried by the same vote.

Seven Killed by a Homb.

A Worthless Husband's Triple Crime.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9.— Yesterday William Evans appeared in the house No. 1214 Montgomery avenue, where his wife was living with her parents, and without a moment's warning shot and instantly killed Lewis A. Hecht, his wife's uncle drave a builet through his wife's cheek, and then, placing a revolver at his heart, ended his own existence. Heeht, the murdered man, was 20 years old, and a machinist by trade. Evans was employed machinist by trade. Evans was employed at a dye works in Frankford. The motive for the deed was probably revenge, as Evans had been a worthless and cruel husband for years, and Mrs. Evans' par-ents finally induced her to leave him. Evans was jealous of Hecht, but without cause. Mrs. Evans will recover.

Sensational Break in Corn.

New Your, Aug. 9.—The corn market had another active day of it yesterday, with a sensational break in prices which practically wiped out all of Tuesday's gain. There was an outpour of long stuff that simply inundated the market and broke prices four cents a bushel and eight cents at Chicago. The bulls started in to check the decline, and succeeded after September had sold down to 50% to be-cember to 50% and May to 54% c. Corn still presents the unusual spectacle of being considerably above the price of wheat on each and nearby deliveries.

A COUNTY SEAT LETTER.

Great Interest Manifested in the Approaching Primary Elections.

SATURDAY WILL DECIDE!

With Harmony in the Ranks the Republicans Can Defeat the Whole Democratic Ticket Next Fall.

Special HERALD correspondence. POITSVILLE, Aug. 8.—The unexpected did not happen in the Democratic county onvention here on Monday. Hon, James B. Reilly was re-nominated, but his elecion this time is very doubtful. It depends on whether the Republicans will unite. If they support the nominee of the party, no matter who he may be, there will be no room for doubt that the Republicans will score a victory next fall. The Republicans must act in harmony this year and it will be a crime if they do other and it will be a crime if they do otherwise.

At this writing harmony seems to prevail in the ranks, and it is good politics. Brumin, Shoener and Losch are able men and the one who gets the nomination abould be supported to a man. The Republicans have the power now to elect everything, and if they have not got the sense to do it they may as well pick up their tents and seek some other county.

My predictions from time to time that Hon. T. J. Higgins would lead in the race for Sheriff in the Democratic county convention were verified, were they not? I do not claim great credit, or super-natural power for making such precise perdictions. Mr. Higgins is a hustler and a man with the poorest vision could see his strides were telling ones. I will now venture to predict that Hon. Elias Davis, of Broad Mountain, will be Mr. Higgins opponent. There will be an ex-member of the Legis lature on each side, and keep your eye on Eli when the bell sounds.

Alexander Scott, of Frackville, has made a good fight for the Republican nomination for Sheriff against Mr. Davis, and to the credit of both gentlemen be it said that so far as I can learn the cauvass has been a very honorable one. I express the sentiment of many when I say it is regretted that there is not room on the ricket for both gentlemen. As it is, I four Mr. Scott will not get on the ticket this year. Mr. Davis has a popularity with the working people which will give him tremendous strength in the convention and his experience in previous campaigns will serve him well in catching up where his popularity may fall to make an impression.

The Congressional contest on the Republican side is as it was a mouth are his popularity may fall to make an impression.

The Congressional contest on the Republican slide is as it was a month ago-between Brumm, Sheener and Loesh. The three are working night and day and each man is as sonlident as ever.

There is considerable hustling among the Republican candidates in this district for the Legislative nomination. The advent of Dr. Quail, of Auburn, made the battle very interesting, and that gentleman, with Haring, Orme, Coxe and Stick, is leading the van.

The interest in the approaching primaries is intense. A house to house canvase les is intense. A house to house canvass being made to get out every vote on for the purpose of electing a chairman.

The names of B. J. Welch, a Breckinridge man, and E. P. Farrell, an Owens man, were put before the convention, but after four tie ballots an adjournment was had until Wednesday next. The one Settle committeeman refused to vote.

Threatened with Destruction by Fire.
OSHKOSH, Wia., Aug. 9.—A report has just been received that the village of Winnscon, twolve miles west of here, is in danger of destruction by fire. The flames, which started in the business confidence with the business confidence with the flames, which started in the business confidence with the flames, which started in the business confidence with the flames which started in the business confidence with the flames which started in the business confidence with the flames with the flames was aroused here to day in the flamt for the Republican Senatorial nomination in the Thirrieth distret by a report that John F. Finney would probably drop into it. I called to see Mr. Fin ney to-day, but learned that he had taken a trip to Harrisburg. The sentiment here is that Mr. Finney is capable of jumping into the fight and winning, if he wishes to do so. A public meeting will be held in Ferguson's theatre meeting will be held in Ferguson's theatre on the evening of the above date, which will be addressed by State Councilor William T. Keer, of Pitisburg, and Jr. Past State Councilor C. N. Raymond, of Middletown. Mr. Kerr's efforts in behalf of the public schools of the state has recently brought him into national prominence, and a large gathering of our citizens will no doubt greet him on this occasion.

The program as arranged for the occasion is as follows. Singing, "America," by the audience; prayer, by Rev Robert O'Boyle; music by the Grant Band; remarks, Jr. Past State Councilor C. N. Raymond; singing, the United Choir; silent drill, Jennings Guards; song, C. H. Sampsel; address, State Councilor Wm. T. Korr; singing, Jennings Giec Club. Previous to the meeting a short parade will take place, and a number of Councils from adjoining towns are expected to participate. The state officers of this organization are now making a tour of the state, and as their time is limited, this will be the only town in the county which they will visit.

The concert will be held in the Academy of Music and will be under the direction of Frof. Zeitz. The program will be a strictly classical one, comprising selections from Beethoven, Mozart, Hayden, etc., and two popular pieces played in the royal palace at Berlin will be added to the list. The concert will no doubt be a great novelty to the Philadelpians, inasmuch as there are less than half a dozen members of the band who do not work in the mines, and the criticisms of the Philadelphia press on the concert will be awaited with great interest in this region.

It is hoped there will be a full attendance of all interested. A sub-committee arranged the preliminaries and nothing remains to be done but satellion on the part of the managing committee. The monument has been in a state of "innoctions desactude" for several months, but at its last meeting the committee decided to put renewed; life into it.

The Man Identified.

The Man Identified.

The Polander who was arrested at Mt. Carnel last Saturday night with a quantity of watch chains, charms and sleeve buttons, and who gave a half dozen different names, has been identified as Enoch Seibert, a resident of South Main street, this town. He is an old bird who has been mixed up in several burglaries and it is thought that he was actually engaged in the burglary at Block's store, from the jewelry found that was stolen. Seibert still stands committed in the Sunbury jail on a charge of peddling without a license, but negotiations are pending for his transfer to this county for trial on the more serious charges of receiving stolen goods and burglary. Seibert was first detected through a Mt. Carmel jeweles to whom some of the stolen jewelry had been offered. County Detective Amour has lodged a detainer against Seibert with Sunbury jail authorities.
