Brutal Murder of a Farmer Near Carondelet, Ills.

SHE DRESSED IN MALE APPAREL,

And, Alded by Her Paramour, Waylald Her Agod Husband at Night-The Victim Was First Shot, and Then the Wife Crushed His Skull with a Hammer.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 9.-Fred Kahn, an aged farmer living just outside the east limits of Carondulet, ills, was murdered Tues-day night by his young wife, Annie, and her paramour, George Centrell, who worked for the murdered man. Just be-worked for the murnered man. Just be-fore 10 o'clock several persons heard cries and platol shots. At a turn of the road, about 300 yards from his home, they found Kahn in a pool of blood and evi-d nices that a horrible stringgle had oc-curred. Across a corn field the struggle had been carried until the final blow with a two round block south's hammer had two pound blacksmith's hammer had been dealt. It carried away the entire eft aide of the huad as far down as the check bone, including the eye and part of the nose. The bullet wounds also were in themselves enough to kill the man. The weapons and bloody clothing of the guilty pair were found hidden near the place where the man was murdered. The nan and woman were captured.

Mrs. Kabn and her paramour, George was the first to break. He said that a man mamed Jerry Johnson had met him and given him a revolver, with which he was compelled to shoot Kahn. Centrell then told practically the story of the mur-der as already related, beginning at the attack on Kahn at the straw pile, and the flight across the corner of the corn field up to the spot where Kahn was found.

Johnson, as far as can be learned from the evidence, is Mrs. Kahn, who, togged up in a pair of her husband's trousers, is said to have wielded the hammer which smashed in the head of the murdered smashed in the head of the murdered man. Centrell says she was there and took an active part in the murder. The strongest evidence against her is the story told by her own son, Edward Bozo, who is a stepson of the dead man. The boy, who is not more than 14 years old, says that when the old man went away from the house to are to Burntown away from the house to go to Bungtown his mother and George went out together, and that his mother had the hammer and a bundle. When he heard the shooting and the screams of murder he began to yell for his mother, who did not come in for some time after that. When she did come back she told him to shut up his noise and go to bed. The woman at first tried to tell the The woman at first fried to tell the Johnson story, but when she heard of Centrell's confession she said that it had all been done by Centrell, and that no such person as Johnson had been mixed up with the affair. She stoutly denied all charges of criminal intimacy between herself and Centrell until she learned that Centrell until a be that Centrell had owned to it.

Kahu was a well to do farmer. He was known to have $20 in currency on him when murdered, and this was stolen after the murder. Some of the dead man's papers were found in Centrell's clothes, but the money was not. Centrell instats that Johnson took the cash.

OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, HARRINGTON, PA., JUNE 21st, 1938, HOS. JOHN J. COVIE, Mahanoy City, Pa.

DEAR SIR :

Mahanoy City, Pa. DEAR SIR: I was anxious to see you—and feel sorry that I did not, before you left here, after the adjournment. I wanted to thank you in person, for the persistent fight you made for the appointment of a Mine Com-mission, and your opposition in the same way, to the Losch road bill. For nearly two years, or since the fail-ure of the commission of 1891, I had cal-culated on the appointment of a commis-sion of disinterested persons and was more than glad to hear, after the last session convened, that you had intro-duced a resolution to that end, and was still more than pleased when I saw you later to find that your ideas in the prem-ises ware almost my own. But, my dear sir, "the hest laid plans of mice and men" you know are often sent "aglee" by "the premes hear hear "to be hear units Pol sir, "the best laid plans of mice and men" you know are often sent "agles" by "the powers that be," the Pennsylvania Rall-read Co., and their kind. You must not be surprised if they follow you further and succeed in defeating any commend-able ambition you may have, at your own home or elsewhere. As for the cowardly committee, I am more than scorry that a so-called leading

As for the cowardly committee, I am more than sorry that a so-called leading Democrat should be a leader in the op-position to the appointment of the Com-mission. No doubt he will soon receive his reward. Watch and see. As for the Loach Road Bill you could not have defeated it. I "counted noses" when you were home sick, and came to the conclusion that the same "powers" which had your resolution shelved would get the bill through. It only remains for you to take the matter philosophically and depend on some honest judge declar-ing the law unconstitutional, as we be-lieve it is.

What I regret most, and I believe you do too, is the great amount of good that could have been secured to the poor mine-workers, must now "go by the board" because of the influence of Corporate Power on so many members of the legis-lature. lature

And now, my dear sir, in conclusion. And now, my dear sir, in conclusion, let me say that, although you did not suc-ceed so well as you desired and deserved to do, I thank you for the good you tried to do, and the great good you have done as an example of fearlessness and inde-pendence in the House of Representatives and before Committees. I am researchfully yours
